

Libyan oil imports banned, assassination plot cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States banned all oil imports from Libya yesterday and accused Col. Moammar Khadafy's militant Arab regime of an "outrageous plan" to assassinate American officials and their families in Sudan.

A senior U.S. official said the plot was broken up last November before two stereo speakers packed with plastic explosives were to be flown from an unidentified neighboring country to Khartoum, Sudan, where they would have been placed in the American social club.

The official, who asked not to be identified, said the devices were prepared by Libyan intelligence officers and could have killed or maimed hundreds of U.S. Embassy workers and their families at a weekend dance.

The "particularly horrible mission" was cited as one reason for ending oil imports from Libya and blocking sale of American oil and gas technology to that country.

Committee approves abortion amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday approved a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow Congress and the state legislatures to prohibit or regulate abortion.

Economic cuts discussed by urban leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country's urban leaders told Congress yesterday that President Reagan's prescription may be worse than the economic ills it is supposed to cure and some cities may be unable to survive the treatment.

Closing arguments heard in Von Bulow trial

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Claus C. von Bulow cleverly "painted a picture of himself as a loving husband" while trying to murder his wife, a prosecutor said yesterday, but the defense insisted he would have suffered "all the wrath of hell" rather than hurt her.

Classified document proposal criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's proposal to broaden the government's power to classify documents as secret may with criticism yesterday when opponents charged that the plan amounts to giving federal officials a "blank check" to hide their mistakes and the public's eyes.

No, the world didn't end as Jupiter Effect passed

By The Associated Press
The "Jupiter Effect" debunked by serious scientists after publication of a book in 1974 — approached the day of reckoning, as a few anxious skywatchers checked with astronomers and worried over rumblings in the California desert.

However, on the day before the presumed end of the world, scientists expressed serious doubts: "There are always soothsayers," sighed seismologist Leroy Irby. "If the world were to end, fine, but I surely don't see the end of the world coming."

N.J. senator will resign, sources say

By SKIP WOLLENBERG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Harrison A. Williams has made a tentative decision to resign from the Senate and quit fighting a recommendation that he be expelled for Abcam crimes, congressional sources said yesterday.

The sources, who asked not to be identified, said there is still a slight possibility that Williams might change his mind before the Senate takes a vote on a resolution to expel the New Jersey Democrat.

4 doomsday celebrators stabbed on Miami beach

MIAMI (AP) — A slightly built, knife-wielding youth wandered among 3,000 people at a "Doomsday Dawn" beach party early yesterday and stabbed four people, police said.

The four were reported in satisfactory condition, said Orlando Gregorich of the Metropolitan Dade County police.

Advise: Student aid may be cut in half

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal aid to college students would be slashed nearly in half by 1984 under cutbacks already enacted or sought by President Reagan, Congress' top economic adviser said yesterday.

Bell repeatedly pointed to the federal deficit to justify the cuts. "It is a lean budget and it is a bit austere, but we think the times call for it," he said.

However, Conte asked, "Wouldn't it be a lot better to slap a five cents tax on a package of cigarettes and a couple of dollars on a gallon of booze and jewelry and fur coats and pay for these programs?"

Nicaragua protests U.S. involvement

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Nicaragua protested yesterday American over-flights of its territory as a flagrant violation of international law and accused the United States of trying to convert Nicaragua into "another Chile."

Sandinista commander Jaime Wheelock, speaking at a news conference, denied U.S. allegations that Nicaraguan pilots are being trained in Bulgaria but was vague on whether Nicaragua plans to acquire MIG jet fighters from the Soviet Union.

Those allegations were made Tuesday by two top U.S. intelligence officials, who released an aerial reconnaissance photograph depicting a massive military buildup the Reagan administration claims poses a threat to other Central American nations.
