

Trackwomen capture Eastern title

Riddick, Carmichael pace Lady Lions

The women's indoor track team did it again. For the second consecutive year, it ran, jumped and threw its way to another Eastern AIAW regional championship. The Lady Lions' 104½ points easily topped second place Morgan State (68), to take the top spot.

Depth was a key factor for Penn State as 21 of the 23 athletes who competed for the Lady Lions scored and 13 earned All-Eastern honors by placing among the top three in their event. The Lady Lions captured the title, not by winning events, but by placing second in eight events, third in three and fourth in five.

"One of the requirements for competing in this meet is having scoring potential," coach Gary Schwartz said. "The coaches and athletes have to be confident that she will score."

Once again co-captain Vivian Riddick turned in strong performances. She picked up second places in the 55-meter dash (7.84) and the long jump (18-11¾). Her time in the dash set a new Penn State indoor record.

"In Vivian's race, luck was a big factor. She missed her start but really came on in the end," Schwartz said. "If the race had been a couple of more steps she would have had it."

First place in the event went to Tammie Henderson of New Castle in a time of 7.02.

Riddick was also influential on the 800-meter relay team. That relay of Sue Lindner, Linda Jackson, Stephanie Weeks and Riddick combined for 1:44.10 to capture fourth.

The Lady Lions turned in a slew of second-place finishes. The distance medley team came away with a second place. The quartet of Sue Mile (800 meters — 2:16), Elaine LaFramboise (400 meters — 58.7), Paula Renzi (1,200 meters — 3:35.3) and Heather Carmichael (1,600 meters — 4:35.5) combined for a 11:45.42 effort.

Incidentally Carmichael ran with a broken arm. She broke it when someone accidentally ran into her at practice.

"The doctor has been very cooperative, she was given a removable cast and we bandage it when she runs," Schwartz said.

"With nationals next weekend, I think

"Heather is capable of running faster, but you have to use your arms at the end of the race, and she couldn't do that. I'm very pleased with what she did with what she had."

Rounding out the second places for Penn State were Terry Pioli in the 800 (2:12.28), Monique Purcell in the 5,000, in a personal best of 17:16.0; Elaine Sobansky in the shotput with a throw of 53-3¼ and the 3,200 relay of Sue Mile, Carolyn Thrige, Judy Cassel and Terry Pioli (9:02.53).

Tammie Hart also put a new record into the books in the 600 when she turned in her best time of 54.69 to finish third.

"With nationals next weekend, I think we held back a little bit," Schwartz said. "We are really psyched for nationals."

Penn State will take nine qualifiers to Northern Iowa for the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women — Riddick in the long jump, Sobansky in the shot, Hart in the 600, Pioli in the 800, Startare and Patty Murnane in the metric mile, Carmichael and Renzi in the two mile, and the distance medley relay.

"With a little luck we will be among the top 10 teams at nationals. We have nine athletes who can all score. The potential is there, all we have to do is keep the times down and the psyche up," Schwartz said.

Lion trackmen finish 8th at IC4As

By RYAN POOLE
Collegian Sports Writer

The men's track team finished its indoor season on a positive note, as it scored 26 points to finish eighth at the ICA meet in Princeton, N.J. last weekend. Fairleigh Dickinson took first with a score of 58 points.

The Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association is the oldest athletic association in the United States. One hundred and four colleges are members in the organization, therefore this same amount of teams enter the meet each year. Ninety teams scored in this meet, therefore no team had an enormous score.

Lion coach Harry Groves was pleased with his team's finish because of the large number of teams that participated in the meet.

"Anytime we're in the top 10 we're doing well," Groves said. "There aren't that many winners (in the meet) because the cream of the crop is on top of it."

The two-mile relay team turned in a strong performance to take first with a time of 7:30.74. Their time erased the old Penn State record of 7:31.0 and qualified runners Tom Walchuck (1:54.5), Paul McLaughlin (1:57.7), Ken Wynn (1:51.4), and Mike Cook (1:51.0) for the National Collegiate Athletic Association championships this weekend at the Silverdome in Pontiac, Mich.

High jumper Paul Souza, another NCAA qualifier, finished second in his event as he jumped 7-1½. Another Lion team fared well was the distance medley team with a time of (9:59.0) for a fourth place finish. Running for Penn State were Steve Schuster (1:55.3), Bruce Evans (49.3), Rick Garcia (2:03.1) and Gary Black (4:10.8).

Jeff Adkins took fourth in the 3,000. Adkins ran a strong race with a time of 8:10.2, but Georgetown's John Gregorek edged him out to win in 8:05.8.

Flyers president firm on veto decision

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Philadelphia Flyers president Bob Butera said yesterday he still plans to veto any attempt by the Meadowlands to acquire a NHL team other than the New York Rangers or New York Islanders.

"Our position has been consistent for three years," Butera said in a telephone interview. "We think two teams are sufficient in the New York region unless someone can prove otherwise."

The Rangers, who play at Madison Square Garden, announced two weeks ago that they will not prevent another team from moving to the Meadowlands Arena here if they decide to stay in New York.

"The Rangers have territorial rights to the Meadowlands, but if they decide to stay in New York, NJSE officials probably will search for another team to relocate in their new $81-million facility. But a move by any other team requires unanimous approval of the NHL clubs — approval Butera says he is not ready to give.

They were: —Bruce Atkins of Duquesne, a 6-8 senior forward and center from Wilkesburg, Pa. —Villanova's Stewart Granger and Butera said NJSEA executives virtually ignored the Flyers in the past year, and made no attempts to negotiate the stadium. But he said he would not rule out changing his mind.

"Of course we would, if someone can prove there's something to discuss. So far they haven't," he said.

The Flyers are more worried about a third team cutting into their television market than they are about losing spectators to the Meadowlands, which is more than two hours' drive from Philadelphia, Butera said.

"It affects us because of the airwaves which are already clogged in the Northeast corridor," Butera said.

"We don't think the region can support any more teams — from a fan standpoint or from a television standpoint," Butera said, speaking for the Flyers' management. "We'd prefer the NHL develop new areas, such as Denver. We don't think the NHL can or should concentrate all its teams in areas where we had success.

Yes, it's tourney time: Robert Morris set to fight Indiana...

By DEAN FOSDICK
Associated Press Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Few schools can match the rags-to-riches college basketball story that Robert Morris College has to tell.

Coch Matt Furjanic admitted to reporters at a news conference yesterday that his team would have been happy just to improve last year's 9-18 record, let alone face defending NCAA-champion Indiana tomorrow night in the first round of the Midwest Regionals at Vanderbilt.

The winner of the other first-round game between Kentucky and Middle Tennessee is to meet Louisville, while the Robert Morris-Indiana winner is scheduled to go against Alabama-Birmingham. Both of those games are Saturday afternoon.

"Going into this season, we said we'd be happy if we won 11 games," Furjanic said of Robert Morris, a Pittsburgh school that was competing on the junior college level six years ago. "Then we wanted more... then we wanted the conference (ECAC-Metro South) championship.

"Then we wanted the tournament," the coach said. "We won that. Then we got into the NCAAs. Now we want to beat Indiana.

"We may be young and foolish but we want to win."

Young, maybe, but not foolish, Robert Morris doesn't have a senior on its squad. The starting five consists of three freshmen and two sophomores. The tallest player goes 6-foot-6.

"We play with heart, with intensity, and we play together," Furjanic said. "We play with eight to nine people per game. One of the big reasons we're in the tournament is because everyone has contributed at one time or another."

"Defense is the thing that's made us successful," the coach said. "We like to keep teams from getting the ball to within 10 to 15 feet of the basket. We're a quick ball club, allowing 68 points.

"We look for the fast break; we like to run."

Furjanic knows Indiana is a tough team, having won two national championships in the last six years. But he thinks they can be had.

"We've heard Indiana has had trouble with smaller, quicker teams they've faced because size is one of their assets," Furjanic said. "We hope they continue to have that kind of trouble because we fit in that category."

Indiana coach Bobby Knight told reporters he isn't taking Robert Morris lightly.

...as NCAA cagers ready

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Last year, Wake Forest received a first-round bye before being upset by Boston College in the NCAA tournament. But there are other reasons that Demon Deacon coach Dan Frazier is pleased to be playing Old Dominion in this year's East Regionals opener.

"Knowing that we would have to play Memphis State in the second game I would certainly rather play in the opening round," he said. "Having to sit around and wait last year I thought was to the advantage of Boston College. They seemed to play looser and more relaxed and we were a little tight."

Wake Forest, 20-7, plays Old Dominion, 18-11, at 9:38 p.m. EST tomorrow in Charlotte Coliseum.

Old Dominion, which won the East Coast Athletic Conference tournament by beating James Madison 59-57 Sunday, carries an 18-11 record into its fifth National Collegiate Athletic Association postseason appearance in six years.

Although 6-11 center Mark West leads the Monarchs with 16.1 points per game, he will be matched against Wake Forest's 11-11 Jim Johnstone with 6-8 Gog Morgan and 6-9 Anthony Teachey helping out on the boards for the Demon Deacons.

Tacy said his team and the Monarchs are similar.

"They like to fast break and they run different defensive sets," he said. "They're more our style of team. I think it will be an excellent ball game."

The other first-round game at Charlotte pits James Madison, who lost to Old Dominion in the finals of the ECAC South tournament, against Ohio State.

While Ohio State, 21-9, won seven straight before closing with an 87-75 loss to league champion Minnesota, James Madison coach Lou Campanelli expected no changes against the Buckeyes.

"I think we're good enough that we don't have to come up with any surprises," Campanelli said. "We have a good system and I don't see any reason to change."

The Ducks are led by 6-7 forward Linton Townes, who is averaging 16.6 points.

But Ohio State coach Eldon Miller said it was James Madison's defense that had him worried.

Campanelli's 23-5 Ducks open at 7:08 p.m. EST tomorrow against Ohio State.

In Saturday's second round, the winner of the James Madison-Ohio State game plays No. 1-ranked and top-seeded North Carolina, 27-2, and the Old Dominion-Wake Forest winner will face Memphis State, 23-4.

Pirates, Phillies drop games

Reds, Blue Jays score Grapefruit League wins

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds scored four unearned runs in the seventh inning to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-1, yesterday in an exhibition baseball game.

The contest was the season opener at the Pirates' home field and the first of the year for the Reds. The Pirates are now 1-1.

In the seventh inning, Cincinnati's Eddie Milner led off with a walk, reached second on a sacrifice fly and moved to third on a wild pitch by Pirate reliever Ernie Camacho.

Pirate shortstop Dale Berra dropping a bloop fly by Diane Walker, allowing Milner to score.

Tom Lawless drove in Walker, who had moved to second on a balk by Camacho. Lawless followed with a triple to score Tom Lewis and then Wayne Krenchicki singled to drive in Foley.

In the eighth inning, catcher Steve Nicosia and pinch hitter Willie Stargell singled for the Pirates, and Vance Law drove Nicosia home with another single.

Cincinnati reliever Tom Hume, 1-0, was the winning pitcher and the Pirates' Camacho, 0-1, was handed the loss.

Meanwhile, the Pirates announced they have sold the contract of pitcher Mark Lee of the Portland farm team to the Detroit Tigers' farm club in Evansville, Ind.

Toronto Blue Jays' first baseman Willie Upshaw (left) goes high trying to take a throw from the Toronto shortstop in the third inning of yesterday's exhibition game with Philadelphia in Clearwater, Fla. Upshaw was trying to tag the Phillies' Bo Diaz. The Phillies fell, 7-2, while in Bradenton, Fla., four unearned runs in the seventh inning were the Pirates' downfall as they lost their home-field opener to the Cincinnati Reds, 4-1. The Pirates are 1-1 in exhibition games.
