Penn State's Randy Jepson will look to continue his magic on still rings at 8 tomorrow night when the men's gymnastics team hosts Illinois-Chicago Circle.

Gymmen need high score

By MARIA MARTINO
Collegian Sports Writer

Karl Schwenzfeier is beginning to sweat.

Even though the men's gymnastics team totes a 10-0 record, the Lion coach said the heat is on as far as qualifying for the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament goes.

That's what makes Penn State's meet against Illinois-Chicago Circle at 8 tomorrow night in Rec Hall — the final home meet of the season — all important. Though they've had their problems on the road, the Lions have not lost in the warm surroundings of Rec Hall since the first meet of the season two years ago.

And, in a poor twist of fate, Chicago Circle was in town then.

"They caught us with our damper down," Schwenzfeier said. "So from the revenge point of view, we really want to win this one."

Chicago Circle (8-6) is under consideration for the top 10 in the country, according to the Lion coach, and beating them would let the Penn State squad breathe a little easier when the NCAAAs roll around in April.

And with Ohio State breathing down their necks, the Lions can use some fresh air.

The Buckeyes are chomping at the Lions' heels to replace Penn State at the top team in the East. Under the sectional system, the top teams in each of four regions of the country are invited to the NCAAAs. The other schools compete for at-large positions.

And it doesn't even matter that the Lions beat the Buckeyes early this season by 1.50 points.

Ohio State has a 275.06 five-meet average and Penn State has only 272.54.

And that's what has Schwenzfeier all worked up.

"We have to come up to the same average," he said, "and we need two 277-plus. It's possible, but hairy. We're not a 284 team."

Each team averages the scores of five meets — three on the road — to determine if it makes the NCAAAs. That's where Penn State has faltered. Whereas the Buckeyes chalked up a 276 score on the road, the Lions' highest away score was a solid 273.45 at Southern Illinois last Sunday.

Unfortunately, they racked up a disappointing 266.75 two days earlier at Indiana State.

"The Indiana State score really can't hurt us if we do the job against Pitt (next Saturday)," Penn State's Bobby Painton said. "If we get 274 or above, we should do OK. We have plenty of good home meets."

But now the Buckeyes are done with their regular season and the Lions have two meets left — home against Illinois-Chicago Circle and away at Pitt — two final chances to earn their spot at the top of the East.

Schwenzfeier smiled confidently when he said they will do it.

"They still have to sweat and hope we do badly," he said. "We just have to sweat and do well."

CHALK-UPS: Schwenzfeier said pommel horse specialist Tom Ladman's hands have healed and, if all continues to go well, will compete.

Indiana eases to win, OSU dealt upset loss

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Steve Bouchie and Ted Kitchel each scored six consecutive points in the first five minutes as defending national champion Indiana bolted to a quick 10-point advantage and went on to smash outmanned Robert Morris College 94-62 in the first round of the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball tournament last night.

James Madison 55, Ohio State 48 CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Senior forward Linton Townes contributed 10 second-half points to an incredible shooting streak by James Madison and the Dukes went on to upset Ohio State 55-48 in the first round of the NCAA East Regional basketball tournament last night.

James Madison will face top-ranked North Carolina in the second round game Saturday, while Ohio State finished its season at 21-10.

Marquette 67, Evansville 62 TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Dean Marquette scored 21 points, including key free throws in the closing seconds, as Marquette beat Evansville 67-62 in the first round of the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball playoffs last night.

Marquette turned back a late Evansville rally to run its record to 23-8 and advance to a second-round regional game against No. 5 Missouri tomorrow.

Georgia 73, Temple 69 ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Acrobatic Dominique Wilkins jammed in a pair of slam dunks midway through the second half to snap a tie and ignite Georgia to a 73-60 college basketball victory over Temple last night in a National Invitation Tournament first-round game.

Flockhart paces Flyers to 5-1 win over Rockies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ron Flockhart scored one goal and assisted on another to lead the Philadelphia Flyers over the Colorado Rockies 5-1 in a NHL game at the Spectrum last night.

The win was Philadelphia's second in its last three games, while Colorado, which has the NHL's lowest point total, lost its second in a row after a three-game win streak.

Philadelphia never trailed in the game, striking for two goals in the second period and three more in the third.

Flockhart's first goal of the year, at 2:26 of the second period, gave the Flyers a 1-0 lead. On the play, the rookie center took the puck outside the blue line, stick-handled past three Colorado players and flicked a 10-foot shot over goaltender Glenn Resch.

Eight minutes later, Ray Allison tapped in a loose puck to give the Flyers a two-goal lead.

Colorado came back at 18:26 when defenseman Rob Ramage whistled a slapshot from the blue line past goaltender Rick St. Croix.

Philadelphia scored its third goal at 6:21 of the third period.

Flyer defenseman Jimmy Watson stopped a shot inches from the goal line and seconds later, winger Tim Kerr poked in a rebound for a 3-1 lead.

Wingers Bill Barber and Ilkka Sinisalo also scored for Philadelphia in the final period.
