

Bowlers put an end to frustration

By JOHN SEVERANCE
Collegian Sports Writer

Three years of frustration ended last Sunday, as the men's bowling team captured the Chuck Pezzano Collegiate Championships in Wallington, N.J. The Lions had been in the tournament finals the last three years only to lose. But this year, behind senior captain Jacques Jacobson, the Lions ended that frustration, coming from behind to overtake Pace University and Wayne State, both nationally-ranked teams.

The Lions were in sixth place after the qualifying round and things looked bleak — they needed 150 pins to take the title. Not only did the Lions pick up those 150 pins, but they did it in the first game of the final three-game set. In the second game, Penn State fell behind Pace, but recovered in the third game to win the tournament by 80 pins. "We bowled better when we're behind," Jacobson said. "Teams are scared of us and they look over their shoulders."

Jacobson captured the individual all-events title with a tournament record 2,126 and he teamed with freshman Ken Ogden to finish second in the doubles competition with a 1,390. "I was real happy about the way I bowled because, I had been in a slump recently," Jacobson said. "I went into it after the Lions Pride tournament and finally snapped out of it last week, at Ohio State."

The Lions also received fine performances from Clark Green, who had series of 604 and 609, and Joe Allieri. White the Lions had a lot of trouble capturing the elusive crown, the Lady Lions had no trouble capturing their third consecutive title, blowing out EPMBIC rivals Bloomsburg and Temple by 300 pins.

The Lady Lions were led by junior Audrey Hichar and sophomore Laura Neudhammer. Hichar captured the individual all-events with an 1,827 and teamed with Jeri Edwards to win the doubles competition with a 1,216. "I was very proud of both these teams and this could be possibly the best men's and women's teams we've ever had," he said.

KEGLERS NOTES: Hichar captured the Ohio State Coca Cola Invitational held Feb. 20-21, beating teammate Edwards 224-222 in the finals. Ogden finished third in the men's division. During finals' week, the men's bowling team defeated Capital 17-2, to avenge an embarrassing early season loss.

Bucs blast Reds, 13-7

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Rick Rhoden's two-run homer highlighted an eight-run first inning that carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 13-7 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in an exhibition baseball game yesterday.

The Pirates, who fielded a split squad, rolled to the victory, while another Pittsburgh team was beating the Pirates 12-1. Rafael Belliard's sacrifice fly in the fourth finished the Pittsburgh scoring. Five Pirate pitchers held the Reds to eight hits.

Big 10 teams setting sights on NIT title

By The Associated Press

The Big Ten, which sent three teams to the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament three years ago, has set its sights on New York again.

Indiana won the 1979 NIT basketball championship in 1979, beating Purdue in the final game, while Illinois was in the semifinals. The first three rounds of the 32-team tournament are played at local sites, with the semifinals and final at Madison Square Garden.

In Wednesday night's first-round game, Purdue beat Western Kentucky 72-65. Illinois crushed Long Island University 126-78. Texas A&M edged Lamar 69-58.

Connecticut nipped Dayton 76-75 in overtime and Washington State edged Brigham Young 66-63. Keith Edmonson scored 29 points as Purdue held off a second-half rally to beat Western Kentucky. The Bolleymakers, 15-13 for the season, will meet the winner of last night's Iowa-Rutgers game in the second round next Monday.

Purdue, third-place finisher in the NIT last year, runner-up in 1979 and champion in 1974, led 33-24 at halftime. Western Kentucky's 6-10 center, Craig McCormick, who scored all 16 of his points in the second half, led a rally that brought the Hilltoppers within four points with eight minutes to go.

Perry Range scored a career-high 29 points as Illinois finished second in the ICAI track championships last weekend with his leap of 7-1/2. Earlier this season Souza set a Penn State school record with a jump of 7-4/4.

Lady fencers go for a hat trick

Winning three consecutive championships — the Philadelphia Flyers couldn't do it in 1976. The New York Yankees couldn't do it in 1979. Maybe the women's fencing team will do it when it hosts the EAIAW Region 1B championships Saturday at White Building.

The top three finishers in the regional receive automatic berths to the national championships held later this month at the University of Wisconsin. The Lady Lions, ranked first in the nation and seeded second in the tournament, face seventh-seeded Rutgers with top-seeded Temple squaring off against eighth-seeded Drew in the first round.

With Penn State receiving bids to the nationals," Alphin said. "I expect them to be improved but not unbeatable. I don't think any of the teams will throw anything at us that we can't handle."

controlling the tempo of the bouts, which she said was the team's main problem this year. "When the opposition presses the attack and when our mental concentration slips, we're not at our best," Alphin said. "We're working to restore what is needed to control the match."

Lion spikers want vengeance in tourney

By TONY SMITH

Although the lackluster performance, the Lions seemed to put things together after that meet, according to Tait. "It was an important turning point for us," Tait said. "We got our problems worked out, and it got us cemented as a team."

Mike Malley, sophomore Brian Hyde and junior Greg Miller. All four are middle blockers who return from last year's squad, which would have gone to the national championships had it not been for Ohio State. Despite a victory over the Cardinals at the Pitt Invitational in February, Tait considers Ball State a team to be reckoned with.

At 12:15 p.m. on Saturday, the Lions will tackle Graceland, recognized not only for putting out NAIA national championship volleyball teams year after year, but also for producing the Olympic-decathlon winner Bruce Jenner.

Ohio State and Penn State will meet for the first time this season at 8 p.m. Saturday. The two teams competed at the Pitt Invitational, but did not play each other. Last year, the Lions defeated the Buckeyes to capture third place at the national championships. The Buckeyes, who won at Ball State last year, will be trying to take vengeance into their own hands. But the Lions, favored to win the match as well as the meet, also have revenge as a motive.
