Souza shines at track nationals

High jumper Paul Souza and the two-mile relay team put on good performances for the men's indoor track team at the NCAA track championships this weekend at the Silver Dome in Pontiac, Mich.

Souza was able to make it into the final heat of his event, tying for sixth place overall with a jump of 7-1 1/2.

There were three heats in the two-mile event, with the top two teams qualifying for the final.

Souza had a good series of jumps, Groves said, "particularly in the qualifying rounds. He was very close to third place."

DePaul upset. . . again

DePaul has taken its annual fall. For the third year in a row, the Blue Demons were upset in their opening game of the NCAA Basketball Tournament. This time, the perpetrator was unheralded Boston College, one of four teams from the Big East Conference in the NCAA and the object of derision from a few coaches whose teams were overlooked.

John Bagley scored 26 points for Boston College and freshman Michael Adams added a career-high 21 as the Eagles stunned second-ranked DePaul 82-75 Sunday in a second-round Midwest Regional game at Dallas.

The original 48-team field was reduced during the weekend to 16 — four each in the East, Midwest, Midwest and West Regionals. Sunday's action produced close calls for third-ranked Virginia, No. 7 Minnesota, eighth-ranked Idaho and No. 13 Alabama. Besides DePaul, 12th-ranked Arkansas and No. 16 Iowa were eliminated.

Three games were decided by one point, one by a pair, one by three points and one in three overtimes. In the other Midwest contest, Kansas State edged Arkansas 65-64. In the East, Alabama nipped St. John's 69-63 and Villanova outlasted Northeastern in triple overtime, 76-72. In the Midwest, Virginia rallied from a 10-point deficit in the second half and clipped Tennessee 94-91, while Minnesota edged Tennessee-Chattanooga 62-61. In the West, Idaho shaded Iowa 69-67 in overtime and No. 4 Oregon State whipped Pepperdine 70-51.

The upcoming regionals match top-rated North Carolina with Alabama and No. 9 Memphis State-Villanova in the East at Raleigh, N.C., Virginia with No. 17 Alabama-Birmingham and Minnesota-No. 20 Louisville in the Midwest at Birmingham, Ala.; fifth-ranked Missouri with Houston and Boston College-Kansas State in the Midwest at St. Louis; and No. 4 Oregon State-Idaho and No. 6 Georgetown-No. 11 Fresno State in the West at Provo, Utah.

The Midwest and West Regionals will be played Thursday and Saturday, the East and Midwest on Friday and Sunday. Ralph Sampson topped Virginia with 19 points and hit two baskets to erase a 51-47 Tennessee lead with two minutes left. Michael Brooks led the Volunteers with 24 points.

In Saturday's games, North Carolina edged James Madison 52-50. Missouri downed Marquette 72-69. Georgetown turned back Wyoming 51-43. Memphis State nipped No. 18 Wake Forest 56-55. Houston upset No. 10 Tulsa 78-74. Fresno State routed No. 14 West Virginia 50-46. Alabama-Birmingham ousted defending champ Indiana 60-70 and Louisville trounced Middle Tennessee State 81-56.

Virginia's Ralph Sampson (left) is closely guarded by Tennessee's Dale Ellis as he starts a drive toward the basket during second round action in the Midwest Regional of the NCAA basketball tournament yesterday in Indianapolis.
