police log

• Leslie Cross, associate director of the Materials Research Laboratory, told University Police Services Friday that a platinum crucible was missing from 278 Materials Research Laboratory. The value of the crucible is estimated at $2,000, police said.

• Police are investigating the incident.

• A car driven by Joan L. Altricht, 326 Matilda Ave., collided with a car driven by Robert J. Thomas, 1821 E. Branch Road, as Thomas was backing his car out of his driveway onto East Branch Road Friday, the State College Police Department said.

• Nancy Thomas, a passenger in Thomas' car, was taken to Centre Community Hospital for X-rays and released, police said.

• The damage to the left front fender and bumper of Altricht's car is estimated at $300, and the damage to Thomas' car is estimated at $700 to $1,000, police said.

• A car driven by Jeffrey S. Rearick, Port Matilda, collided with a car driven by Dana L. Austin, 1034 W. Beaver Ave., Saturday when Austin stopped his car in the 500 block of West College Avenue, State College police said.

• Damage to each of Rearick's and Austin's cars is estimated at $600, police said.

• A car driven by Robert G. Modany, Midland, collided with a car driven by James E. Parkinson, Cincinnati, on Saturday when Modany drove across the intersection of West College Avenue on South Burrows Road, against a flashing red traffic signal, State College police said.

• Parkinson's car struck Modany's car, which then struck a pedestrian traffic signal, police said. Damage to Modany's car is estimated at $1,000, to Parkinson's car at $800 and to the traffic signal at $200, police said.

• Rekas suffered cuts to his head, and Cox and Stella Gianfice, a passenger in Cox's car, suffered concussions, police said.

• Rekas, Cox and Gianfice were treated and released from Centre Community Hospital, a hospital spokesman said.

• Damage to the left front side of Rekas' car is estimated at $2,000, while damage to Cox's car is estimated at $3,500, police said.

Science council elects officers

By JEFFERY BOSSERMAN
Collegian Staff Writer

The College of Science Student Council elected a new president Thursday night, choosing Sue Wilkinson (8th-biology) to replace Melinda Lantz (12th-chemistry and pre-medicine).

Other new officers are: Mary Ann Thompson (8th-biology), vice president, and Dana Schweizer (7th-biochemistry), secretary.

A treasurer will not be elected until the council's next meeting because of a lack of response by members who were present and the nomination of others who were not present.

Wilkinson said she wants to try to get more people involved with the council's activities. She would also like to improve student-student relations, possibly through a tailgate or coffee hour, and work on better programs for the College of Science's Expos, she said.

Lantz said she was relieved that she was no longer president, but added that her work was not yet finished. The newly-elected officers do not take over for another two weeks, she said.

In other business:

• Alumnus Marsh White presented $25 awards to the volunteers who raised the most money for each of the three nights in the college's phone-a-thon.

• Winners were Martin Kroll (3rd-science), Jerome Charles (3rd-science) and Marjorie Kubicki (3rd-pre-medicine). The phone-a-thon raised $7,400 this year compared to $3,200 last year, White said.

• The council announced that a logo design contest is being held by the College of Science. One hundred dollars will be awarded for the winning design, $75 for the runner-up and $50 for the third-place entry, Lantz said. The contest is open to the entire University, unlike last year. All entries must be submitted at 211 Whitmore by May 1.

Can you afford not to look this good?

Not when you find yourself in competition with scores of other qualified applicants.

A résumé produced by the Collegian's professional production staff will give you the visual competitive edge that gets you in the door and stays with a prospective employer long after you leave the interview.

Just bring us a typewritten or legibly printed version of your résumé, look through our samples or create your own format, and we'll do the rest.

Your cost of $12 (for the first page, $8 each additional page) is a small investment in your future. Besides, can you really afford not to look this good?
