

The facts are in*

The Daily Collegian is still No. 1 at Penn State's main campus. No other publication comes close. No other medium comes close. Not radio. Not television. Not direct mail.

- 95% of the students read The Daily Collegian.
(Have read or looked into during the "past seven days.")
- 89% of the students who read a newspaper "yesterday" read The Daily Collegian
- 72% of the students rely most on The Daily Collegian for shopping information.
- 85% of the students depend most on The Daily Collegian for information about leisure activities and entertainment.

Those are the facts.* Nobody reaches Penn State like The Daily Collegian, because nobody covers Penn State like The Daily Collegian.

More than 200 students serve on our News Staff, which includes 40 editors. Our reporters and photographers turn out more campus news coverage than any other organization.

For state, national and world news coverage, our News Staff uses the high-speed newswires of The Associated Press. Stories are beamed from the Westar III satellite to our computer systems 24 hours a day. No other area news organization has a better resource.
