

Martin back with Yankees

A chronological look at the managerial career of Billy Martin:

- Oct. 11, 1968 — Major league managerial career begins as he is named manager of the Twins.
- Oct. 13, 1969 — Fired as Twins manager, after leading club to American League West championship.
- Oct. 2, 1970 — Named manager of the Detroit Tigers.
- Sept. 2, 1973 — Fired as Tiger manager, after leading club to 1972 AL East title.
- Sept. 8, 1973 — Named manager of the Texas Rangers.
- Oct. 24, 1974 — Named AL Manager of the Year by The Associated Press after leading Rangers to second-place finish.
- July 21, 1975 — Fired as Ranger manager.
- Aug. 2, 1975 — Named manager of the New York Yankees.

- May 14, 1977 — Fined $2,500 for remarks directed at Yankee owner George Steinbrenner.
- June 18, 1977 — Involved in dugout altercation in Boston with slugger Reggie Jackson.
- Oct. 16, 1977 — Leads Yankees to first World Championship in 15 years, as they beat Los Angeles in sixth and final World Series game.
- July 24, 1978 — One day after making the "One's a born liar, the other's convicted" comment about Jackson and Steinbrenner, Martin resigns as Yankee manager.
- June 18, 1979 — Replaces Bob Lemon as Yankee manager.
- Oct. 25, 1979 — Involved in altercation in Minnesota with businessman Joe Cooper.
- Oct. 29, 1979 — Fired as Yankee manager.

- Feb. 22, 1980 — Named manager of the Oakland A's.
- Nov. 20, 1980 — Named AL Manager of the Year by The Associated Press after leading A's to second-place finish.
- June 1, 1981 — Suspended by the AL for one week after bumping umpire Terry Cooney.
- Nov. 12, 1981 — Named AL Manager of the Year by The Associated Press for the fourth time after leading A's to AL West title.
- Oct. 20, 1982 — Fired as A's manager.
- Jan. 11, 1983 — Named Yankees manager for the third time, becoming only the fourth modern major league manager to have as many as three separate tenures with the same team.

Memphis St. No. 1 despite loss

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — For the first time ever, Memphis State is ranked No. 1 in college basketball, and Coach Dana Kirk said yesterday that a 69-56 upset loss to Virginia Tech won't spoil it.

"In college basketball these days, no one is going to be undefeated," Kirk said. "We were beaten by a pretty good basketball team."

The loss to Virginia Tech, now 13-1, came just three hours before The Associated Press released its weekly poll listing the Tigers as No. 1 in college basketball.

Memphis State was 11-0 entering the game.

"I don't know how people will react," MSU forward Derrick Phillips said after the loss. "I really don't care. Our fans will understand."

In gaining the No. 1 spot, Memphis State got 42 of 60 first-place votes and 1,164 points from the sports writers and broadcasters who set the weekly rankings for The AP.

Last week Memphis State pummeled the University of Baltimore 103-57 and defeated St. Louis University 78-64.

The Tigers held a 54-point advantage for first place over No. 2 Virginia. At 11-1, the Cavaliers got 13 first place votes and 1,110 points overall.

Kirk said he was disappointed by Monday night's loss, but wasn't too upset by the timing of the loss and the announcement of a No. 1 ranking.

"I really don't concern myself and the players don't concern themselves with ratings. It's just something that happens," he said.

St. John's, 13-0, was selected No. 3 this week. Gaining the highest ranking in the school's history, St. John's got three votes for first place and 1,028 points.

The Redmen, off to their best start since the 1940s, moved up four places in the ratings because of a 79-62 victory over Seton Hall and 76-67 defeat of Georgetown.

Despite a weekend loss, Indiana, 10-1, got two votes for first place. But with 994 points overall, the Hoosiers dropped three places to No. 4.

UCLA, 9-1, moved up a spot to No. 5 after beating Arizona 92-87. The Bruins polled 994 points.

NCAA toughens standards

By DOUG TUCKER
AP Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO — Following more than three hours of emotionally charged debate that saw the issue sharply divided along racial lines, delegates to the NCAA convention passed a rule yesterday to toughen academic standards for incoming athletes.

The measure, clearly approved by a show of hands, was bitterly opposed by black educators, who asserted that it would be racially and regionally discriminatory. Drafted by a select all-white committee of university presidents, the measure — which applies only to the 277 Division I schools — was hailed by supporters as an answer to the deterioration of American higher education.

The proposal, No. 48, says athletes must have completed a "core curriculum" of math, English, social and physical sciences, as well as score a minimum of 700 on the SAT college entrance test and 15 on the ACT exam.

Moments after adopting No. 48, the delegates voted in what could be viewed as a loophole. It specifies that athletes who do not meet the new requirements will be permitted an athletic scholarship but cannot compete their first year.

After a two-hour lunch break, delegates resumed their debate and one of the most eloquent pleas was made by Father Edmund P. Joyce of Notre Dame.

"Far more criticism can be leveled at the system which places the 17-year-old in an environment he is ill-prepared for," he said.

Earlier yesterday, Penn State football Coach Joe Paterno charged during the pre-vote debate that black athletes have been "raped" for more than 15 years by a system that exploits their talents without developing their minds.

"We've raped 'em," Paterno told more than 1,300 delegates. "We can't afford to do that to another generation."

Meanwhile, one black delegate called the proposal, drawn up by the American Council on Education, "a black and white issue."

"I'm really surprised that so many black educators have gotten up and sold their students down the river," said Paterno, whose team just won the national championship. "I think you're underestimating their pride and competitiveness."

"More and more of our black athletes are frustrated later in life because they never got what they should have out of college," said Paterno. "If No. 48 is passed, they'll take up the challenge."

Ewing, Sampson crybabies?

By DAVE GOLDBERG
AP Sports Writer

Elbows to the left of them, elbows to the right of them, elbows behind them. It's been a frustrating year for college basketball's pre-eminent big men.

Ralph Sampson of Virginia and Patrick Ewing of Georgetown have spent less time playing basketball than pushing and being pushed, shoving and being shoved, pummeling and being pummeled. For them, life on the court is fighting off swarms of attack gnats — gnats who come in 6-7 and 6-8 packages.

"Pat and Ralph are targets of double standards," says Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Los Angeles Lakers, who has had similar problems in both college and the National Basketball Association. "They are not allowed the protections of the rules of players of lesser size. It can be frustrating and it makes it impossible to relate to the rules of someone else."

Sampson and Ewing both reached a boiling point in games last Saturday.

Sampson was called for two technical fouls in Virginia's 83-64 Atlantic Coast Conference win over Maryland after throwing an elbow at three players surrounding him. Virginia Coach Terry Holland subsequently threatened to pull his team off the floor unless the officials called the game more lightly.

Ewing got into two fights with Kevin Williams of St. John's in a Big East Conference game won by St. John's 76-67.

"I'll tell him to go hardship (go pro) if he's continued to be grabbed," Georgetown Coach John Thompson said after the game.

"I'm sick of the double standard on defense."

But the people who must face them suggest that Sampson and Ewing are like the town bullies who run to the cops when the victims start fighting back.

"Let him throw elbows like that next year in the NBA and he'll get his head split open," said Maryland Coach Lefty Driesell of Sampson. Maryland center Ben Coleman asks: "What's he going to do when he plays the Bulls and Rick Mahorn sets some picks and knocks him into Row Q?"

"To beat Georgetown, all we've got to do is get Ewing upset and he'll punch somebody," says Williams, who suffered a split lip in his fights with Ewing.

The Brickhouse Tavern tonight
Terry Whitlock
Attitude Adjustment
Hours: 4-7pm
Humes Alley around the corner from Uncle Eli's

Graphic Arts Center
FREE
copy of Your Wedding, how to plan and enjoy it, by Marjorie Winford Woods — for the pleasure of showing you our wide selection of contemporary wedding stationery. No purchase necessary!
123 Coal Alley 237-2304
(next to Unlimited Rent-Alls)

Rush tap at:
ΔΘΣ
Tonight at 9:00pm
Ray Anthony plays any and all kinds of music!
All agriculture and related majors welcome
Delta Theta Sigma
corner of W. College and N. Patterson Sts.

HI WAY PIZZA
Every Wednesday is Bluegrass Night!!
Tonight... LOWER FORTY GRASS
No Cover
entertainment
No Cover
Westerly Parkway Shopping Center 237-1074
Serving Pastoria

"NATO"
An Informal Discussion of the Organizational Structure of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization with
LTC JOHN H. MATTHEWS
Operations simulation analyst
Department of War Gaming
United States Army War College
HUB Main Lounge
Thursday 8:00pm
Presented by the Office of Student Activities in cooperation with the Public Affairs Office, U.S. Army War College

it's not expensive...
it's not difficult...
it's not the U.S....
it's INTER-CULTURAL AWARENESS
refreshments travel tips
entertainment guest speakers
waring lounge 8:00 pm Jan 10, 11, 12

Is Nuclear War Inevitable?
This may be today's most OBSCURE question because:
(1) Most people answer "yes" to it, and
(2) Most people can't talk about it.
There is a better way than silence and denial to deal with the honor and despair which the possibility of a nuclear holocaust raises. It lies in talking through the despair and making some personal decisions about how to live constructively with the possibility of disaster.
The Free University course on
"Freedom from Nuclear Despair"
at the Wesley Student Center, 256 E. College Ave.
Wednesdays at 7:30 — Jan. 12, 19, 26, Feb. 2
Leader: The Rev. Don Davis, Director, The United Ministry at Penn State
Get in touch with hope. Take charge of your emotions. This course can save your "life".

DANCER MEETING TONIGHT
— IFC Dance Marathon 1983 —
All those interested in dancing in the 1983 IFC Dance Marathon should attend the meeting tonight at 7pm in 105 Forum.
Responsibilities will be explained and a slide presentation will be shown.
Questions? Call the IFC Office, 203-B HUB, 865-3455.
All proceeds benefit The Four Diamonds Fund.
P.S. Bring Money for Buttons and Hats!
DANCE!

One of these prizes could be yours.
• $25 Gift Certificate from The Student Bookstore
• $20 Dried Flower Arrangement from George's Floral Boutique
• $10 Gift Certificate from The End Result
• $15 Gift Certificate from Cheap Thrills
• $15 Gift Certificate from Moyer Jewelers
Pay the full $18 for your 1983 LaVie — Jan. 17-21 — and your name will be entered in a random drawing for one of these prizes!
So, order your yearbook Jan. 17-21, in 209 HUB and... BE A WINNER!
(Winners will be contacted by phone, and their names will be published in the Collegian.)

LSAT - GMAT - GRE TELEPHONE REGISTER NOW!
We are now accepting registrations by telephone for our Feb. LSAT class.
Class begins Feb. 5th
Call today 234-6645
Convenient locations
Transfer among our over 40 locations
An additional 30-40 hrs. of convenient at-home preparation for LSAT and GMAT review sessions.
36-40 hrs. of classroom instruction
Limited class size for maximum effectiveness
Finest teaching staff available
Shoemaker - Kusko
Testing Preparation Services

STOREWIDE SALE
30 to 50% OFF
ALL Winter Merchandise
Start the New Year right by saving at
The Carriage House 109 S. Pugh St. and alleycat Calder Way
BLouses, SUITS, LINGERIE, COATS, DRESSES, SKIRTS, SWEATERS, PANTS

Grindin' Along
It was 7 p.m...
Buffy, I've had it with Intro to Nuclear Science. Let's go out!
But Mumsie didn't send a check... do you have cash, Izad?
Ipp sent me a little - and at the Grindin' Tavern it goes a long way!
LATER...
The Grindin' Tavern! Izad! He's just so perfect. I love the look, the food, the music, Izad, you're so smart. I know Daddy will love you to death the first time I see you!
...and I have enough cash left over for those cute knee socks you wanted!
The Grindin'... it's our kind of place!
Preppy or punk, family or friends... your kind of place... the Grindin'!

"Love Ya' Lions Day" at the Corner
Saturday, January 15, 1983
Gatsby's, Zeno's, The Corner Room, MR.C'S
Hotel State College & Company
The Entertainment Center
100 W. College Ave.
Zeno's All Day Happy Hours 11am-2am
The Corner Room 1/2 Price on All Food Items... ALL DAY LONG!
Gatsby's All Night Happy Hours... featuring music by "APPLE BETTY" and a continuous showing of the 1983 Sugar Bowl! No Cover from 8-9
MR.C'S The "ORIGINAL" Happy Hours From 5pm - 2am No Cover
IN CONJUNCTION WITH BACK THE LIONS ORGANIZATION, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND LION COUNTRY VISITORS & CONVENTION BUREAU OF STATE COLLEGE

Warren Zevon
A Solo Recital in Eisenhower Auditorium
Thursday, January 27th at 8:00pm.
STUDENT TICKET SALES
Thursday January 13th
Friday January 14th
at the HUB Desk
9:00-4:00pm
A University Concert Committee Production

The Brothers and Little Sisters of Phi Sigma Kappa are proud to announce their newest initiates
Joseph M. Masterson
Steven D. Rath John R. Rogers
Mark W. Robinson John L. Russ, IV
Dante S. Terrana
And warmly welcome their Winter Pledges
Randy G. Carr Scott D. Grezeszak
Robert M. Glass Richard Oakes
Thomas W. Gresham Matthew C. Rose
Kristine Barczak Gloria J. Collins
Lisa Bustinger Laura M. Martell
Congratulations and welcome to the Triple T's

Penn State's Artificial Hearts
will be demonstrated during a Bioengineering Open House
on Thursday, Jan. 13, from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m.
Tours begin in Kunkle Activities Center (or go directly to Room 24 Hammond Building)