NEW YORK — George Brett and the Kansas City Royals won baseball's version of "Tar Wars" yesterday when American League President Lee MacPhail overruled the umpires and restored Brett's homer against the New York Yan-

MacPhail's ruling upheld a protest by the Royals, who said the two-run, ninth-inning homer at Yankee Stadium last Sunday should not have been nullified just because Brett had used too much pine tar on his bat. "The important thing is something should be done before the bat is used." MacPhail said. "The pine tar was excessive, but the fact that it was beyond the 18-inch limit is not sufficient reason to call him out."

Under MacPhail's ruling, the game now must be treated as though it had been suspended, with the Royals batting with two out in the top of the ninth and leading 5-4. The game originally was ended by the umpires with Brett's homer nullified and the Yankees winning 4-3. The game could be resumed on

Aug. 18, an open date for each club, or played after the season ends, if it has a bearing on the "first-place position in either division," Mac-Phail said at a news conference. If, for any reason, the game is not resumed, all players' statistics will be counted, including Brett's homer, but there will be no winning or losing pitchers and no result. MacPhail admitted the umpires' judgment in nullifying the home run was "technically defensible," but it was "not in accord with the intent or spirit of the rules . . . " He said there was no evidence to show the pine tar gave Brett an unfair advanumpiring crew, headed by Joe Brinkman, may have applied one said, the bat merely would have quence at all." been removed from the game. MacPhail's decision, taking a vic- no right to appeal, and Cook said the

York out of a first-place tie with Baltimore in the AL East. "If the Yankees should lose the Eastern Division race on the ruling of American Legue President Lee MacPhail,'' said Yankees owner George Steinbrenner, "I would not hunting out in Missouri, close to "It's just a matter now of getting back in it," said Yankees General Manager Murray Cook, who at-

want to be poor Lee living in New York City. He better start house-

Brett should be called out. If the tive for our guys, and by the end of proper rule had been applied, he the season this will be of no conse-MacPhail said the Yankees have tory away from the Yankees at least club was not contemplating dragfor the time being, dropped New ging out the matter any further. "I don't think there's anything in the rules that provides for legal action," Cook said. "We feel we can police our own league. That's why we have a league president." Cook said he could understand MacPhail's decision and "appreciate his views. We just don't agree Steinbrenner, interviewed at his office in Tampa, Fla., said the decision really had not surprised him: "As much as I hate to admit it. I tended MacPhail's news conference. figured he would do just what he did.

describe the rationale behind that decision, in my mind, the word would be 'ridiculous.' '

Brett, who earlier said he had little hope the ruling would be overturned, was golfing and did not immediately comment. Yankees Manager Billy Martin went fishing. and he also was unavailable to com-

Royals General Manager John Schuerholz, however, responded to the ruling by saying: "I was delighted. I thought all along we had a chance to win."

He said the decision was more a clarification of the rules than the reversal of an umpire's decision. "The sovereignty of the umpires has not been damaged whatsoever,'

Steinbrenner: 'very poor ruling'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) - New York Yankees owner George M. Steinbrenner III said yesterday that American League President Lee MacPhail's decision in the George Brett bat controversy "undermined" the um-

Major league baseball will have to live with the consequences of the ruling, Steinbrenner asserted. "This thing will come back to haunt us," Steinbrenner said in an interview at his Tampa office. "Lee has opened Pandora's box and it's going to be interesting to see what happens now." Earlier in the day, MacPhail reversed the umpires.

letting count a two-run homer that Brett hit against the Yankees with a bat coated with too much pine tar. MacPhail said the "intent or spirit" of the rules "do not provide that a hitter be called out for excessive use of Steinbrenner said he felt MacPhail was "caught in a box" because of a 1975 ruling in which the AL president

"I just feel it's a very, very poor ruling. We can't start to talk about philosophy and intent and spirit of the rule if it's (written) there in black and white," said

The Yankees were declared the winners of last Sunday's game, 4-3, when the umpires disallowed Brett's two-out, ninth-inning home run because his bat was coated with pine tar more than 18 inches from its Now the game must be picked up in the top of the ninth with Kansas City leading 5-4. The contest was ordered completed before the close of the season or after the season if it has a bearing on division races. "The rule on this instance is clear and the umpires interpreted it as it reads and made the proper call," said Steinbrenner. "I feel sorry for them. This is where think baseball is in serious trouble."

Steinbrenner said several umpires have told him in the past that they don't like to make controversial calls on illegal pitches, bats and delays of games because they know they won't get the backing of the league "I have been a pretty harsh critic of umpires in the past, but here is a place where I really feel for them," makes a futile attempt to appease the umpires by praising their actions, while at the same time overrul-

The bat that George Brett used to hit a controversial home run against the New York Yankees on Sunday leans against the podium while American conference yesterday in New York. MacPhail ruled that Brett's homer would count even though the bat was coated with too much pine tar.

Pirates continue winning ways

Schmidt's homer gives Phillies win over Astros

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer NEW YORK - Mike Easler's two-run double highlighted a three-run first inning as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Mets 6-2 last night for their 18th victory in the past 23 games. Larry McWilliams, 10-5, struck out seven and walked one before Kent Tekulve and Rod Scurry put down a New York threat in the ninth inning,

Scurry getting his sixth save. The Pirates chased

Craig Swan, 1-5, during a two-run second inning. Swan was making his first start since July 3. Marvell Wynne opened the game with a walk, took third on a single by Johnny Ray and scored when Bill Madlock bounced into a double play. Jason Thompson then singled and Dave Parker doubled before Easler drove them home with his

In the second inning, McWilliams singled, took third on Wynne's double to right and continued home when first baseman Keith Hernandez dropped the relay throw. Carlos Diaz replaced Swan aznd gave up Madlock's RBI single.

The Mets got s run in the third on an RBI single by Hubie Brooks and one in the fifth when Tucker Ashford scored on McWilliamns' wild pitch. The Pirates got their final run in the seventh on Thompson's RBI single. After Swan departed, Diaz and two other New York relievers limited the Pirates to four hits the rest of the way.

Phillies 6 Astros 5

> HOUSTON (AP) - Mike Schmidt followed Joe Morgan's game-tying triple in the eighth inning with a two-run homer that gave Philadelphia a 6-5 victory over Houston last night as Steve Carlton of the Phillies regained the all-time strikeout record from the Astros' Nolan Ryan. Pete Rose led off the eighth against Mike LaCoss, 4-7, with a walk and scored on Morgan's triple to right-center field, tying it 4-4, before

Schmidt hit his National League-leading 23rd homer over the right-field fence. It extended Houston's losing streak to five games. Carlton struck out nine batters to regain the career strikeout lead from Ryan, 3,597-3,591, but the Astros kayoed him with a three-run seventh inning. Ron Reed, 5-1, was the winner in relief and Al Holland got his 10th save despite giving up Denny Walling's RBI triple in the eighth.

MONTREAL (AP) - Tom Herr drew a twoout, bases-loaded walk from Jeff Reardon in the top of the 10th inning yesterday, giving the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over Montreal in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader.

Woodie Fryman, 0-3, took over and got the second out, then went to a full count against pinch-hitter Floyd Rayford before experiencing pain in his Reardon completed the walk to Rayford, who was replaced by pinch-runner Mike Ramsey. Reardon then gave up an infield single to Ozzie Smith and walked Lonnie Smith and Herr to force Ramsey home with the deciding run. Montreal starter Steve Rogers got the first out Bruce Sutter, 8-6, got the victory with 1 2-3 of the inning before being forced out of the game with a cramp in the palm of his right hand.

Injuries give Eagles tight end shortage

Two weeks into training camp, two injuries have created a shortage of tight ends for the Philadelphia Eagles, team officials say. Lawrence Sampleton, a second-round draft selection in 1982, will undergo surgery today for removal weeks —two weeks into the regular

Free agent Scott Nizolek, a rookie from Boston College, will be out a spring while working out on Astrofew days with rib and shoulder injuries, team officials said. The injuries leave the Eagles with tice last week, Campbell said. of a bone spur on his right ankle, the only two tight ends — starter John Spagnola and Vyto Kab, the thirdnow," trainer Otho Davis said. "This way, he'll be out the shortest "I can't cut the way I want to,"

PSU Tennis Championships open today

By STUART FELDMAN Collegian Sports Writer

By BEN WALKER

AP Sports Writer

A couple of weeks ago, Dick Ver-

He went there to watch and stand team's leader. He was away from the field, away from football and away from coaching, a job that occupied - many said possessed - half his 46

Now, six months after, he's talking

"I was excited," he says. Then he pauses. "No, I don't think that's exac-

Another pause as he grasps i

TARNISHED

in New York about that particular

meil went to visit the training camp of the Philadelphia Eagles.

visit to the Eagles' camp.

tly what I mean."

right words.

Some of the best collegiate tennis players on the East Coast will be in State College this weekend to compete in the Penn State University Tennis Tournament Director Doug Collins said there were only 26 players registered to compete this year, "but we have our strongest field to date." Collins said this year's competition will be just as excellent and even more competitive than 1980's tournament, which drew 32 players.

In 1980, Charles Parkhurst won the singles and teamed to win the doubles titles playing indoors in 100-degree heat. In his championship effort. Parkhurst won six singles and three doubles matches. The players from this year's tournament come which is a seven-state area made up of Pennsylva- No. 1 in the MSTA. nia, Maryland, Ohio, New Jersey, New York, Delaware and West Virginia. "Mainly players from Pennsylvania will compete along with several members of the Penn State tennis team," Collins said.

compete in this weekend's tournament is Bill Pilardi, who will compete in the men's singles and doubles events. Pilardi will be playing doubles with teammate Ben Shobaken. "I believe there's a good chance that someone standpoint. I didn't look at it as a his Veterans Stadium office, of ignorhaving hepatitis.

into the ground.

ing doctor's orders and working while

He took the Eagles from the doldrums to the Super Bowl, and when he announced his resignation one week after last season ended, people pointed to him as a classical case of an overachiever who had run himself from Penn State will win the tournament," Pilardi said. "Ben's good in doubles because he is a strong and aggressive player." from Oklahoma, who is a former Pennsylvania Sunday.

football practice," he says. "I looked at it from a people standpoint. Here were a lot of friends of mine. It was a distance, perhaps thinking of what meant, perhaps about the things that convinced him it was time to get out.

driving there and being there, but I felt good about driving away."

"I mean, I was extremely happy

For several months, the word

During his seven years as coach of might as well have been part of the Eagles, his practices, preparation and games were almost legendary.

There were stories of constant 18-hour days, of sleeping overnight at Swing into Sunday with the Tarnished Six. Their rousing renaitions of dixie favorites will take you to Bour bon St. and back! Join the festive mood from 1 104 p.m. on Sundays at the Grinder.

He stops again, looking off in the warm feeling.'

on the sidelines, no longer the NFL coaching the Dick Vermeil way

Also attending the tournament will be Tom Mastromarino, who defeated No. 1 ranked David Kraus in a tournament last week.

To round out the field, three players from Bloomsburg State University will also compete. Bloomsburg, known to have a well-structured ten-One of the Penn State tennis players expected to nis program, has split matches with Penn State in intercollegiate competition. In addition, there will be a new 35-year-old men's division. Collins expects about eight to 12 players to ompete in that category. "The 35-year-olds are not over the hill — they are seasoned players," Collins said. The tournament will begin with men's singles at 4 today. The matches will resume at 9 tomorrow with

Other area competitors include John Setticerze the men's semifinals and finals to be held on

Vermeil talks about life after coaching

"I find myself doing things that I haven't done in years," he says, smiling, "Odd jobs, working on the cars, things like that. Just plain conversation. People used to talk to me at home all the time and I never heard what they said." The way he sees it, the decision to "I'm happy. I used to be happy only leave coaching was difficult, alif we won. And that wouldn't last very though not — as some people had long. There was always another thought — a nearly impossible one. "I really didn't think I had a game the next week." Vermeil admits he will miss some aspects of coaching football, and hopes his new job as a game analyst for CBS-TV will help keep him close choice," he says, casually munching some nuts. "The way I was going, something had to change A big question, asked by his family and himself, was how well Dick Verenough to the parts he enjoys. meil, the coach, would adjust to being "The thing I'll miss most is not the Dick Vermeil, the person. game, but the people," he says.

ALL

Summer Merchandise

1/2 off

— additional $1.00

.228 e. college ave. - open mon.-fri. till 8:30, sat. till 5:30 differently. It's not a conscious thing. My wife says it took me about four

> Chicago (Noles 3-6) at PHILLIES (Bystrom 3 Atlanta (Dayley 2-3 and P.Perez 11-2) at San Diego (Lollar 4-8 and Montefusco 8-2), 2, (n) Cincinnati (Price 10-5) at Houston (Madden 3-Los Angeles (A.Pena 8-4) at San Francisco

PIRATES at New York Los Angeles at San Francisco Cincinnati at Houston, (n) Atlanta at San Diego, (n)

Milwaukee 13, Minnesota 9 Kansas City 5, Cleveland 4 Baltimore 10, California 4 Oakland 7, Boston 6

Chicago 11, Toronto 3

Seattle at Detroit, (n) Only game scheduled

Cleveland (Sutcliffe 12-5) at Toronto (Clancy 10 Milwaukee (McClure 7-7) at Boston (Eckersley 6-8), (n) Texas (Honeycutt 13-6) at Baltimore (Davis 9-Kansas City (Gura 8-12) at Detroit (Morris 10-

The Daily Collegian Friday, July 29, 1983-9

EAST DIVISION

WEST DIVISION

W....L... Pct..... GE

55 40 .578 1/2

scoreboard

major league basebal

NATIONAL LEAGUI

EAST DIVISION

WEST DIVISION

New York

Los Angeles

Atlanta 6. New York 3

Chicago 2, Los Angeles

Montreal 6, Cincinnati 3
PIRATES 10, San Diego 1

St. Louis at Montreal, 2, (t-n)

Today's Games

PIRATES (Candelaria 9-6) at New York (Seav

St. Louis (Allen 7-8) at Montreal (Smith 1-4),

PHILLIFS at Houston, (n)

Only games scheduled er 6-10), (n)

PHILLIES 3, Houston

St. Louis 7, San Francisco (

New York (Guidry 11-5) at Chicago (Koosmar Seattle (Beattle 8-6) at Minnesota (B.Castillo Oakland (Conroy 2-4) at California (Forsch 9-

Cleveland at Toronto Kansas City at Detroit Milwaukee at Boston Texas at Baltimore, (n) New York at Chicago, (n) Seattle at Minnesota, (n) Oakland at California, (n)

Woodrings

Announcing the "Your Patience Has Been Rewarded" Sale

MEN'S SUMMER FASHIONS

Good things come to those who wait... like spectacular savings on everything you need for right now. All our remaining MEN'S summer fashions at 50% savings!

......were $150 to $375 NOW $75 to $18750 SPORT COATS......were $140 to $325 NOW $70 to $16250 ...were $28.95 to $65 NOW $1447 to $3250 ...were $45 to $75 NOW $2250 to $3750 DRESS SHIRTS....were $21.95 to $32.95 NOW $1097 to $1647 ..were $20 to $36 NOW $10 to $18 ...were $35 to $70 NOW $1750 to $35

All sales final — Minimum alteration charge

STATE COLLEGE...ON CALDER WAY (Behind the Tavern) Shop daily 10 to 5:30 Thurs. to 8:30

ALTOONA...ON 11TH AVENUE

Patty Sheehan watches her tee shot on the 15th hole yesterday at Cedar Ridge Country Club in Tulsa, Okla. Sheehan's 71 tied her for the U.S. Women's Open lead with Betsy King.

Sheehan tied for Open lead

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

TULSA, Okla. - Patty Sheehan, the current LPGA champion, and unheralded Betsy King survived the 103-degree heat and bermuda rough of Cedar Ridge Country Club yesterday, to match par 71 and share the first-round lead of the 31st U:S. Women's Open. Sheehan, a former LPGA Rookie of the Year, played in the afternoon when the heat was most intense but offset two bogeys with

"It's the first time I've ever hit 15 greens in the Open," she said. "I feel very drained. You don't find many tournaments where the lead is even par. I'm just very thankful I survived." Both Sheehan and King, who had the blessing of an early tee time, had even par nines of 36-35. They owned a one-shot lead over seven other players.

"Even par for four rounds would look mighty good," said King. The heat and the perils of the 6,298-yard tightly trapped layout inflicted disaster on numerous big names, including defending champion Janet Anderson and LPGA Hall of Famer JoAnne Carner.

Anderson unraveled with an 11over-par 82, including a 10-over 45 on the back nine. Carner shot the worst U.S. Open round in her career, a 10-over-par 81 which included three water balls and a four-putt green. "I played like I was pregnant," said Carner, 44. Just one shot back were former U.S. Open champion Pat Bradley, U.S. Amateur champion Juli Inkster, Jan Stephenson, Janet Coles, Becky Pearson, Lauren Howe and Debbie Meisterlin. Stephenson said, "I want the U.S. Open so bad I started choking two weeks ago. However, this is

"We might bring in another tight end." coach Marion Campbell said. Sampleton turned his ankle last turf at the University of Texas and the ankle kept locking during prac-

Sampleton said Tuesday.

Pittsburgh's Marvell Wynne gets back to first base as New York's Keith Hernandez goes into the dirt to get the pickoff throw from catcher Junior Ortiz. The Pirates went on to defeat the Mets 6-2.

Dr. Vincent DiStefano, the team physician, will perform the surgery, and Sampleton will wear a fiberglass cast for about three weeks. "He would probably just prolong the problem if he kept playing on it

Rental Office Park Hill 478 E. Beaver

Call today,

Trip a journalist today.

Plenty of parking behind the Station.