TO EVERYONE I know, I hope you all have a wonderful Valentine's Day! (Not to mention Cupid's arrow going in the right direction!) Sincerely, Susan K.S.
TO MY BIG teddy bear, Hope the next six months are as great as the first. See you soon at the h.v.m.i.! Happy heart day! Love Cuddles

Maureen,
As the days go by I realize that I'm loving you more and more. Happy Valentine's Day.
With love,
Scott

ORANGEBIRD
I know you are looking for this. Happy Valentine's Day!
JMS

Boar (Boo)
It's just a strange twist of fate. You mean more to me than words can express. Stay cool and I love you!
Your little Princess (M.C.)

Rosenberger, Webster aide Lion effort

By CHRIS LINDSLEY Collegian Sports Writer

It had been four long years since he won his last dual meet match. He has had three major operations during those four years, and has had his position at 150 - where he was a starter four years ago - taken away during that time.

Rosenberger began the weekend with a hard-fought 19-11 victory over Pitt's Greg Dille on Saturday, but that was just the beginning.

Sunday against West Virginia, Rosenberger built up a 6-1 lead early in the second period before pinning Jim Battista at 4:36, which increased the Lions lead over Penn State the Mountaineers to 23-0.

The fifth-year senior seemed to get better as the weekend progressed, and Penn State Head Coach Rich Lorenzo said no one deserved it more than Rosenberger.

"He looked slicker today (Sunday) than he did yesterday, and we wrestled with confidence," Lorenzo said. "It was nice to see him get the wins, and I feel it was a blessing in disguise that he didn't give up (over the years) and that he got his just reward here in front of the home crowd."

Over his time with the Lions, Rosenberger has had two knee operations and a wrist operation, and has been relegated to second string with the arrival of sophomore Chris Bevilacqua.

Facing this kind of situation, he could not have been blamed for quitting the team, but Rosenberger just kept hanging in there, and this weekend he finally got his chance.

"It has been tough at times to stay with it," Rosenberger said, "but all the guys and coaches have given me a lot of support and it felt good to be back in the lineup again."

Another Lion who felt good to be back in the lineup again was 126-pounder Scott Webster.

Webster, who has a 4-6 record, has had the misfortune of facing some of the toughest wrestlers in the country, including Rich Santoro of Lehigh and Kyle Nellis of Pitt in recent weeks.

But after losing to the tough Nellis 14-5 on Saturday, he came back determined against West Virginia, defeating Dan Rowell 19-9 for his first dual meet victory since before Christmas.

Harriers set 2 records

By ROBERT LEICHTMAN Collegian Sports Writer

Two indoor school records were broken this past weekend by the men's track team, one at a tri-meet in Syracuse on Friday and one at the Boston University-Budweiser Light Invitational on Saturday.

Ron Campbell set a Penn State indoor record at the tri-meet with Colgate and Syracuse by winning the pole vault at 16-7.

Ken Wynn set a Penn State record in the 500 meters when he clocked a 1:03.42, good enough for third place at Boston University.

The Lions won 11 out of 18 events.

At Boston, Todd Shenk placed fifth in the 35-pound weight throw with a toss of 58-3/4. In the distance medley, Arkansas was the winner with a time of 9:35.8, while Penn State placed fourth at 9:46.1. In the 4 X 400 meters, the Lions finished third at 3:14.5.

The Lions dominated at Syracuse though, winning the first four events. John McKay won the 35-pound weight throw with a toss of 48-0. Mike Valenti (45-8) and Greg Reyer (44-1/4) took fourth and fifth places, respectively.

Row Gulaskey won the high jump at 6-6 3/4. Rick Kleban and Darryl Jones took fourth and fifth places, respectively, both at 6-3/4.

Rob Boulware won the long jump at 23-7. Joe Phillips (22-3/4) and Dave Masgay (22-1/4) finished third and fourth respectively.

The Lions took the first three spots in the 1500 meters, with Steve Shlater winning at 3:32.6. Mark Overhelm second at 3:35.2 and Nick Kello third at 3:59.6.

Rick Clelan (8:31.8) and Harry Smith (8:32.7) were first and second in the 3000 meters.

The Lions finished second in the 4 X 400 meter relay at 3:23.0, while winning the 4 X 800 meter relay (7:53.2) and the distance medley at 10:19.5.

Reyer and Valenti placed first and second in the shot put. Reyer's toss was 56-7 1/2 and Valenti's was 56-3/4.

Mike Papula won the 500 meters with a time of 1:05.3 and Bob Hudson won the 1000 meters at 2:27.0.

Lady harriers take 4th

By CHRIS RAYMOND Collegian Staff Writer

The women's indoor track team traveled to Champaign, Ill., Saturday for a five-team meet and turned in fourth place finish.

Coach Gary Schwartz said, however, that he was not disappointed with the team's performance.

There are two main objectives in such a meet, he said. First to provide a high quality meet and second to match top individuals in top competitive races.

The coach said he believes this kind of competition helps the team members.

"I would rather come in fourth against four really strong teams than win easily," Schwartz said, "the kids learn to compete easier."

Co-captain Elaine Sobansky agrees with this philosophy.

"It's kind of hard going into a meet knowing that there's not that much competition," she said.

Stephanie Weeks, winner of the 60-yd. hurdles, echoed their thoughts.

"It was competition that we hadn't seen before," Weeks said.

All in all, however, Penn State was successful as they went on to capture three events and place in several others. Senior Stephanie Weeks took the 60-yd. hurdles with a time of 8:29. She is now only 26 hundredths of a second from qualifying for the National Collegiate Athletic Association Championships.

Tammie Hart won the 800-yd. run in 1:21.58 and Elaine Sobansky surpassed all other competitors in the shotput with a throw of 15.68 meters.

Despite a second place finish in the 2-mile run, Doreen Startare qualified for the NCAA Championships and beat the old Penn State record for this event, 10:01.9 set by Kathy Mills in 1978, with a time of 9:54.76.

Schwartz said she gave a super performance against stiff competition.

"It was a tremendous indication of just what kind of person she is," he said.

Other team members who placed in their events included the foursome Tracy Spalvins, Sue Walker, Heidi Gerkin and Lisa Ross, who took third in the 2-mile relay in 9:26.69. Carla Criste took third in the 60-yd. hurdles in 8:37 and Donna Howes took second in the high jump (5-7).

lcers' Sipe sets single season scoring record

By RICH BRADLEY Collegian Sports Writer

The puck in the corner. Lynn Sipe dug it out and veered behind the goal line. He passed it to Greg Powers in the slot, who fired wide of the net.

Jeff Speece picked up the loose puck and fed Powers again. This time Powers ripped a wrist shot into the net's upper left hand corner for a goal.

With this assist on Penn State's first goal against Notre Dame last Friday night, Sipe became the Lions' single season scoring champion with 67 points.

Sipe, who already holds the single season assist record with 42, needs only seven goals to beat the record for the number of goals in a season. With five games left on the schedule, Sipe has a shot of breaking the goal scoring record of 34, which is held by three players.

One of the three holders of the record is Sipe's linemate Brad Rush, who scored 34 goals in 1981-82. Sipe's other linemate is Nick Pappas, who, like Sipe, transferred from Bowling Green. Sipe is quick to credit his linemates as the main reason he has established the record.

"They're both unselfish," Sipe said. "That's what makes our line click so well. We're pretty unselfish and we're all getting our points. We're all basically the same type of hockey player."

"I'd consider Nick a digger, a hard worker," Sipe said. "Brad is a real good playmaker. I would consider myself in the same category as Brad. We both score a lot of goals and set up a lot of plays."

After Saturday night's game, Pappas was the second leading scorer with 46 points and Rush was third on the team with 42 points. Both Pappas and Rush had nothing but praise for their center.

"He's really smooth; I guess that would be a good way to describe him," Rush said. "He's a very good center. He's got a lot of moves and he's really tough with the puck after he gets inside the blue line. If he gets a shot, he's usually going to score. If you set him up with a pass, usually he's going to put the puck in the net."

"He's a smart player with the puck," Pappas said. "He's the guy you want to get the puck to. You don't want to leave him standing around."

Sipe, who is in his first year with the Lions, said even though he has a chance to break the goal scoring record, it doesn't mean that much to him. He also stated that the Penn State career mark of 211 points set by Thom Hogans is "within range."

"The other (goal scoring) record doesn't mean anything to me at all," Sipe said. "I'd rather have the assists."

As for the rest of this year, what is left for Sipe to accomplish?

"To win the National Invitational (Club Championships in March)," Sipe said.
