On Campus

Private Benjamin Blonnie Hawn stars as a spoiled rich girl whose husband drops dead on their wedding night. She decides to join the Army as a way of "getting away from it all." Of course, neither she nor the Army gets what they bargained for. Hilarious adventures ensue. Tonight and tomorrow night, 7 and 9, 105 Forum. Presented by the Penn State Movie Co-op.

Downtown

Agnes of God Jane Fonda plays a lawyer defending a

Arnold Schwarzenegger stars in Commando, now playing downtown.

Return of the Jedi The final chapter of the Star Wars trilogy. All kinds of surprises, including Darth Vader's true identity and the real relationship between Luke and Leia. More ghost appearances by Alec Guinness. This one isn't as good as Star Wars but better than The Empire Strikes Back. Tonight and Sunday night, 7 and 9, 115, 112 Kern; Tomorrow night, 7, 9:15 and 11:30, 112 Chambers. Presented by the Graduate Student Association.

Apocalypse Now Vartin Sheen, Marlon Brando, Dennis Hopper, Harrison Ford and Frederick Forsyth star in Francis Ford Coppola's adaptation of Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness. Set in the jungles of Southeast Asia during the Vietnam War, this film explores the evil side of the human psyche. Tonight and Sunday night, 7:30 and 10, Saturday night, 9:30, 101 Chambers. Sponsored by the GSA.

The Terminator Arnold Schwarzenegger stars as an evil assassin from the future, who is sent to the 20th century to kill a woman and erase her influence on history. Tonight and Sunday night, 7:30 and 9:30, 112 Chambers; Saturday night, 7:30 and midnight, 101 Chambers. Sponsored by the GSA.

Ghostbusters A new campus movie at last! A professor of parapsychology and friends take advantage of a surge in metaphysical activity in New York by starting a ghost removal service. When an ancient spirit tries to take over the city, there's only one place to call! Lots of seriously funny stuff here, especially in the ghostbusters' encounters with supernatural pests. Starring Bill Murray, Harold Ramis and Dan Aykroyd. Tonight and Saturday night, 7, 9 and 11, Sunday night, 7 and 9, 119 Osmond. Presented by the Student Union Board.

Starman Jeff Bridges stars as an alien who comes to Earth to study human behavior in the guise of Karen Allen's deceased husband. He enlists her assistance when trying to return to his home planet. An adult E.T.? Tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday night, 8 and 10, HUB Assembly Room. Presented by the Student Union Board.

Psycho II The sequel. Tony Perkins returns to the house on the hill and reopens the Bates Motel. He spends most of the movie trying to convince people that he's sane, but is he? Horror ensues. Tonight and tomorrow night, 7, 9 and 11, Sunday night, 7 and 9, 108 Forum. Presented by the Penn State Movie Co-op.

The Enforcer Clint Eastwood plays Dirty Harry again. This time Harry has to succumb to working with a female partner, Cagney and Lacey's Tyne Daly, as they track down a terrorist group in San Francisco. Tonight and tomorrow night, 7, 9 and 11, Sunday night, 7 and 9, 111 Forum. Presented by the Penn State Movie Co-op.

Confidentially Yours Truffaut's homage to American black comedy. Fanny Ardant stars as a secretary who turns amateur detective to clear her boss of murder charges. Saturday night, 7 and 9, 112 Kern. Presented by France Cinema.

Up-N-Coming Marilyn Chambers stars. Rated X. Tonight and tomorrow night, 7, 9 and 11, Sunday night, 7 and 9, 105 Forum. Presented by the Penn State Movie Co-op.

movie give him a chance to flex some brains instead of some brawn? Your guess is as good as anyone's, though judging from the TV ads, the chances look slim. Shows nightly at 8 and 10, Saturday and Sunday at 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 p.m. The Movies.

Kiss of the Spiderwoman A deep, thoughtful look at the friendship which develops between two very different prisoners — a romantic gay and a tough revolutionary — while they share a jail cell. Starring William Hurt and Sonia Braga. Shows nightly at 7:30 and 9:45, Saturday and Sunday at 2:15, 4:45, 7:30 and 9:45 p.m. The Screening Room.

Jagged Edge In this serious drama, Glenn Close plays a lawyer who is terrorized, supposedly for defending a man (Jeff Bridges) accused of murdering his wife. Shows nightly at 8 and 10; Saturday and Sunday at 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 p.m. The State.

Back to the Future Yes, it's still here! Michael J. Fox of Family Ties plays a thoroughly engaging adolescent who travels back in time and meets his parents as teenagers. His intrusion into the past creates many problems that could affect his future — his mother thinks he's a "dreamboat" and falls for him instead of his dad, who's the total dork of the high school. Watching Fox get out of this mess is a lot of fun. One of the summer's most popular hits, it's a must to see. Shows nightly at 8 and 10; Saturday and Sunday at 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 p.m. The Cinemas.

Prizzi's Honor In this black comedy, Jack Nicholson and Kathleen Turner turn in fine performances, each playing hitmen involved in the criminal underground. The romance that develops between the two creates a conflict when each is ordered to kill the other. Which will prove more important — their love for each other or their heritage? Shows nightly at 7:30 and 9:45; Saturday and Sunday at 2:15, 4:45, 7:30 and 9:45 p.m. The Flick.

Maxie Glenn Close plays Jan, a dull housewife whose body becomes habitually occupied by the spirit of a dead flapper named Maxie (Ruth Gordon). Under Maxie's control, Jan's schizophrenic behavior confuses and startles her husband (Mandy Patinkin) and her peers as she turns into a boozing, over-sexed loudmouth. The film's comic premise, based on the mix-up of incongruous identities, sounds promising, but Peter Travers of People magazine says: "Maxie is a disaster — a brew of curdled chockablock with cutesy dialogue and career-crushing performances." Shows nightly at 8 and 10; Saturday and Sunday at 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 p.m. The Garden.
