Booters defeat Temple 6-5 in sudden death

Collegian Sports Writer

tournament Saturday at Jeffrey tion contest between two talented by him, or the Penn State shot went ending the game in a tie, looked team could have emerged the victor. In past games, the downfall of the After all, it took the Lions more (penalty kicks). It happens, if you scored first, breaking the mental clinch the game, cannot be consid-

But the No. 18 Lions, weren't adhering to logic.

Through skill, determination, and graced by luck, the Lions were able to make a remarkable comeback in those nine minutes, scoring two goals and sending the game into double ods, the game went into penalty kicks followed by sudden-death elimination resulting in a kick ruled good from Larry Miller giving the Lions a 4-3 advantage. This gave the Lions (15-5- deadlock. 1) a 6-5 victory and the title of Mid-

Atlantic Regional Champions. time we had a game that went into mates Kevin Jennings and Troy familiar Dicce and Gbinije duo conpenalty kicks and that's the way it Snyder went wide. Bahr said. "We were not prepared for Hausner successfully faked out Eck- for the Owls' fifth and final goal it. We have four people that can take elmeyer, yet the Penn State goalie (80:17). penalties and we practice a little bit saved attempts from Tom Csongradi With 5:22 remaining in the game, with them, but we went down to our and Franklin Gbiniji. Again, the midfielder Gerry Moyer took a Greve sixth and we were ready for the Pennsylvania powerhouses were at a to Jennings pass to help rally the

With the win, the Lions advanced to Owl midfielder Glenn Curry's atwith 2:08 on the clock when he took an the NCAA Quarterfinals. Penn State tempt, won on the sudden-death elimassist from Greve, posting a 5-5 deadwill next challenge No. 1 Evansville, ination coin toss, went over lock, forcing the game into overtime. a 3-0 victor against unranked Indiana Eckelmeyer's domain, setting up LION NOTE: In other regional in the Great Lakes Regional finals. Lion midfielder Miller's perfect shot playoff games: New York Region — Bahr said that the exact time and past Caya's right side, giving the Hartwick over Columbia, 2-0; New place of the quarterfinal game will be Lions a 6-5 triumph in front of more England Region — Boston University announced by the NCAA Soccer Com- than 1,000 spectators. mittee by 1 p.m. today. He added that Yet the day was not only not a kicks; South Region — South Carolihe expects the game to be played in triumph for the Owls, but it wasn't a na over Clemson, 1-0 in penalty kicks; Evansville. Ind., since the site degood day for Temple goalie Caya South Atlantic Region - American pends on which school draws the either.

Nothing, that is, except for the condition of tailback D.J. Dozier.

The junior from Virginia Beach,

ing of Pitt Saturday in Pitt Stadium. ing for the Orange Bowl)."

rules, the quarterfinal games must be already spoiled the game statistically played by Dec. 1.

Regional finals of the National Colle- For a playoff game to go down to any after-regulation goal attempts. giate Athletic Association playoff the wire in a sudden-death elimina- Caya either allowed the ball to go Field, the men's soccer team was teams leaves no true winner. Each wide trailing No. 11 Temple, 5-3. The team's season was decided in those The Lions started out on the right chances of a Lion victory, much less few short minutes in which either mental note by scoring the first goal.

than 75 minutes to score those three dive the right way and get out there concentration of the Lions. and it's down low where you can get it, it's pretty much chance." Lion down the left side of the field, passing ered an easy thing to do when you're

It's a tough way for either team to to Snyder. Snyder then deposited it in the first penalty kick, which sailed goals), and Jennings on a penalty Lion forward Thomas Greve took After two scoreless 10-minute peripast Temple goalie Dale Caya's left side and into the cage. Owl forward Steve Jeremenko responded with a ball put past Eckelmeyer's right side. Once again, the rivals were at a Lions' Paul Moylan and Steve Potter managed to put the ball in the "I can't even remember the last cage, while attempts from teamwas decided." Head Coach Walter Owls' Peter Dicce and Steffan (66:10) while Dicce fed Curry the ball seventh, eight, ninth, and on down the standstill, forcing the game into sud-Lions. 5-4. den-death elimination.

> Nov. 1 confrontation in Philadelphia mark of the first half. in a 1-1 deadlock, once again remained even after regulation time for each of its first three goals includexpired.

The loss for Temple marred its Caya had only given up 10 goals in Logically, they shouldn't have previously perfect schedule of 14-0-2. 16 games, one scored by Greve on a Saturday's loss was its first of the penalty kick, before he met the Lions With more than nine minutes left in season, after two consecutive ties a second time. In a single game, he regulation play in the Mid-Atlantic with Penn State (1-1) and Penn (2-2). gave up five goals and failed to save

"It's very much of a chance thing game has been after the opposition Midfielder Snyder took the ball

even though we won, I feel really bad. looped it back across the goal mouth the far side of the Temple goal cage, The two challengers, who ended a giving the Lions a 1-0 lead at the 9:11 Temple and Penn State traded off ing the lead-off goal scored by Snyder, followed by Owl Gbiniji (two > Midfielder Dave Dabora was put in the game for an ailing Harrison who suffered an injury to the shoulder at the 34:38 mark of the second half. Four minutes later, Dabora accepted a pass from Greve, bulleting it past The next two goals were taken by Temple, edging out the Lions 5-3. The Evansville in NCAA Quarterfinals. tributed to the Owls' fourth goal over Connecticut, 2-1 in penalty over George Mason, 3-1. larger crowds. According to NCAA For Caya, the No. 18 Lions had the Lions following their 31-0 trounc- weeks (before he will begin practic- this season with 723 yards and fifth for Saturday's game through coaching and moral sup- the Mid-Atlantic Regional final. alltime, is one person Paterno needs port.

D.J. injured, should play in Orange Bowl elimination, the fate of the Lions was Doylestown freshman's shoulders.

"It's not something (penalty kicks)

Temple goalle Dale Caya could not stop Lion defender Larry Miller's sudden death ellmination attempt, giving the Lions a 6-5 victory over the No. 11 Owls and the Mid-Atlantic Regional Championship Title. No. 18 Penn State will face No. 1

Booters are heroes in Mid-Atlantic Final

By CAROL D. RATH

Mothers adore them, fathers are proud of them, girls worship them and little tykes look up to them. In any sport, heroes are to be considered the best second of the game, with just a little more than two players; the players who score the most points, or make minutes left in the game, threw the game into overtime. the key saves, the ones put on a pedestal. Yet during the Mid-Atlantic Regional final Saturday at Jeffrey Field, one single player cannot really be pinpointed as the hero in the Lions' 6-5 victory over the Temple Owls. Each player, in fact, earned the right to be called the hero of the game. But if one had to individually pick a hero, one could say that goalie Bert Eckelmeyer should be the hero since he was credited with four saves in the second half and only allowed five goals and three sudden-death attempts to slip

In the penalty kicks as well as the sudden-death

"It's not something (penalty kicks) you practice everywas a shoulder injury were for not. "I just talked to him and he's day. In all seriousness, he (Larry Miller) and Marco Dabora has been known to occupy a bench seat during "The x-rays are negative," Pater- hurting a little bit," Shaffer said, (Bulatovic) and John Pascarella had a heck of a lot to do the starting minutes of the game, but has been known to no said. "He's got a dislocated elbow, "but I think he'll still be around." with what I did today," Eckelmeyer said.

After getting his left arm put in a to be healthy when the Lions square Or maybe the hero is defender Larry Miller who has sive nine goals and four assists for the season, with two of sling to take the pressure off the off against Oklahoma in the Orange been a key defensive player throughout the season as well those goals scored on Saturday. The senior substitute as this past weekend. The Myerstown native has been an forward occupies the number third spot on the individual Va., dislocated his left elbow at the the field to watch the last few minutes Sports Information Director Dave important backbone man in the defense for the Lions, scoring record. Baker said yesterday that "he would although his position is new to Miller this season.

But as a defender, Miller is still an offensive contributor with seven shots on goal, one goal and four assists. Or maybe the hero is midfielder Dave Dabora. Dabora's third goal tied the game at 3-3 while his tenth place on the individual scoring record with 29 goals, you practice everyday. In all seriousness, he (Larry Miller) and Marco (Bulatovic) and John Pascarella had a heck of a lot to do with what I did today,'

'It's not something (penalty kicks)

-Bert Eckelmeyer, goalie

enter the game and be an offensive key for the Lions. Nothing could have been better for and it will probably be three or four Dozier, Penn State's leading rusher Eckelmeyer added that those three helped him prepare Dabora has scored in eight games, including two goals in

The senior from Storrs, Conn., has compiled an impres-

No one player can be singled out as the ultimate hero in Deriod when he fell on his left arm.

When asked about his teammate, being the field on a quarterback John Shaffer said he against the Sooners, and that his left fall, Head Coach Walter Bahr decided the Lions were to contribute and without just one of those important stretcher, but Penn State Head Coach expects him to be in the backfield elbow would be in a sling for about hurting for defenders. Miller had previously been a threeyear starting forward for Penn State and is currently in Regional final may have turned out a little differently.

Collegian Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH — Although it was not truly home, Tim Manoa still managed to have a homecoming to remember when the football team traveled to face the Pitt Panthers Saturday night.

Manoa lists Pittsburgh as he latest residence, but he is hardly a native to the state. He was born in Tonga, an island in the South Pacific, and moved to Hawaii when he was five. Eleven years later, before his junior year of high school, he moved to Pittsburgh and lived with family friends in order to get a better educa-

In terms of homecomings, the 1983 Aloha Bowl probably meant more to the 6-01/2, 227-pound junior, but Saturday's performance in the No. 1 Lions' 31-0 victory made this game special Manoa rushed for 91 yards and two touchdowns against a defensive unit ranked fourth against the run. His first score, a 60-yard burst through the Panther defense, gave Penn State a comfortable 14-0 lead midway through the second quarter.

On his second touchdown, Manoa relied more on brute force than speed as he ran through a host of defenders for a three-yard score early in the final period Both runs were equally special for the fullback who has rushed for 380 yards and three touchdowns on the "I came through the hole . . and my eyes opened up." he said. "I said, 'I've got to do it.' I saw the guv coming from the side and I thought he was going to catch me. . . I think I ran zone twice in his adopted hometown. time they had a lot of good running we've had good leadership and matuthe quickest I've every run on that "I was glad Timmy could come backs and I just wanted to play some-and goal from the three showed just great run, I thought he did a great offense for his sophomore season and how strong Manoa is after he gets job." going. He was met by a host of Manoa is just glad he is getting a 166 yards, after rushing just once in defenders at the two, but continued chance to do the job period. moving until he crossed reached the As a freshman he started the sea- "When John Williams (graduated), "I've been stopped a lot of times at and defensive end.

home and have a big night," Paterno where." His second touchdown, on a first said. "That (first touchdown), was a He welcomed the switch back to mind that I was going to make it." . wanted to play — I wanted to play as to move any more."

Tim Manoa

end of a 16-yard run late in the third of the game.

injured elbow, Dozier reappeared on Bowl on New Year's night.

Joe Paterno said people's fears that it when the Lions take on the Sooners. three weeks.

Manoa stars in homecoming Lady spikers win Atlantic 10 title

Collegian Sports Writer

ranked No. 1 in the Atlantic 10 Con- against the Lady Rams from URI, secutive Atlantic 10 Conference Tour- Penn State. nament title. The Lady Lions defeated both giate Athletic Association tournament to be played in two weeks. Head Coach Russ Rose said the main objective of the weekend was to receive a bid to NCAA's. Penn State had a 5-0 record in conference play and although all factors pointed towards a Lady Lion victory, the team needed to play intense, competitive were pretty tight," Rose said, "but I Assistant Coach and former All- His confidence in his team was American player Lori Barberich ex- obviously not unmerited. In spite of conference were presented at the knocking them down. go to the NCAA," Barberich said, "so Lions for the NCAA bid. therefore, we couldn't lose.'

and URI didn't play the first round of setter Dee Dee Hull was able to the tournament. In the first round' compete after missing the team's West Virginia defeated Rutgers, encouter in Rec Hall. The women's volleyball team, which pitted the Lady Mountaineers The games were fast moving well played competitive volleyball. Alference, proved its dominance last and George Washington triumphed though Penn State won all three game," senior Co-captain Marcia nent. George Washington and No. 2 Univer- Leap said. "We had the jitters be- "They were up to play us but we sity of Rhode Island, to earn an cause it was a big tournament and we played our own game, we served well automatic bid to the National Colle- made a lot of nervous mistakes." Despite the jitters and mistakes,

The points for George Washington loosened up. The final result was a 3-0 players had noteworthy games, inmatch victory, 15-10, 15-4, and 15-3. cluding Denise Navoney, who aided "In the beginning of the game, we the defense with 15 digs. Lisa Leap slammed 12 kills and Izetta Phillips wasn't too surprised or concerned."

plained that because the tournament their slow start, several players still conclusion of the match. Penn State was played at West Virginia, neither had some outstanding statistics, ineam had a home court advantage. cluding Marcia Leap, who had 15 Three players, Marcia Leap, Lisa Since Penn State was ranked No. 1, kills, Vida Kernich, who had seven, all the teams were fired up to play and Lisa Chidester, who had three competitive volleyball in the hope of service aces. URI was victorious against WVU.

"We knew the winner was going to earning the right to take on the Lady selected for the all-conference team.

weekend by capturing its third con- over Temple, forcing them to face. games 15-12, 15-9, and 15-9 and were never behind during these games, "We were very nervous in the first URI was definitely a worthy oppoand passed almost perfectly." Barberich said. "We were really scrapthe scores told the story of the match. py, we wouldn't let their ball drop and they had very few service aces." came less often as the Lady Lions During the URI match several > Chidester, and Ellen Hensler, were voted on the all-tournament team.

Hensler was the MVP. Hensler, Leap and Kernich were The conference also honored Leap as the type of player Paterno said has he responded by carrying 47 times for manding 21-0 lead.

rity," Paterno said. "And they were son unbeaten. able to handle the pressure of trying to win all their regular-season games our schedule and having an undepen a lot of times."

feated season. It's not going to hap-team. We worked really hard over the "It's just another game, another end zone. Manoa said he had some- son as a fullback, but ended up split- they needed fullbacks and they asked No matter how good you are, the practiced together. I knew we'd be "They've got a great football team, ting his time as an outside linebacker me to come back," he said. "It turned ball has to bounce your way someout last year that I liked it. I figure | times to go undefeated, as it did for al championship scene, I didn't think and it's a great challenge for the the goal line," he said. "I had it in my "I came in as a freshman and I I'm going to stay there — I don't want | linebacker Pete Giftopoulos Saturwe'd be undefeated or ranked No. 1." Penn State program." day. Giftopoulos recovered Pitt quar- But they are No. 1 and, after a And as Penn State's opponents Head Coach Joe Paterno said it was a fullback — but they wanted me to

You could say that fullback is the terback John Congemi's fumble in sluggish start, have shown just how have laerned this season Joe Paterno nice to see Manoa make it to the end play linebacker," he said. "At that one place Manoa can truly call home. | the end zone for his first career good they can be in crushing Notre likes nothing better than challenges.

And with a win over 8-1 Oklahoma, chance for the Lions to prove those "I couldn't have imagined 11-0, but who think Penn State can't stay with I couldn't imagine another year like the wishbone offense, All-America-... I think it's tougher to be playing last year," Giftopoulos said. "I filled defense the Sooners possess

New-look lady cagers win Lady Lion Classic

Collegian Sports Writer

nesse and power that has rarely a pair of season-opening victories en annual Lady Lion Classic.

tournament Friday night, Penn State minutes of the championship game overcame a mediocre first half and a playing catch-up ball. serious shortage of rebounds to down Providence, 93-68. In the against Western Michigan, the Lady Lions put Friday's difficulties behind them, winning handily, 83-53. The speed came from the usual who fueled the transition game with her passing. She finished the weekend with 20 assists and 27 points and was the tournament MVP even though she played little over 20 minutes in each pected. Forward Joanie O'Brien and they did last season. It was the power, though, that surprised, especially considering who it came from. While the Lady Lions fully expected newcomer Pia Edvinsson to bring a more physical style of play to Penn State thanks to her experience in the European leagues, it was back-up center Bethany Collins and forward Vicki Link who turned in performances.

In the championship game Link was the star, topping her previous 12.6 average from last season, her their shooting from the perimeter, from the floor, and McConnell's drivbeen bothered with a painful back personal best of 11 points with 16 to defensive performance against the where they hit a lowly 29 percent. ing lay-ups which accounted for 20 injury since before coming to Penn lead the Lady Lions, and crashing the Broncos' Tracie Wells received It was a defensive performance points to help sink the Lady Friars. State last year. boards for 13 rebounds. Edvinsson mixed reviews. bounds and pouring in eight points of well," Portland said. "Wells shot two dence. In a game that marked the game high and a personal best. her own. For both, it was a chance for for 11, I think she's a street player, head coaching debut of former Penn Collins muscled most of her shots in to use that as an excuse."

"I thought I did a lot better re-It's a strange hybrid, this new Penn bounding," Link said, "but it's some-State womens' basketball team, an thing we still need to work on. We let unlikely combination of speed, fi- them get a lot of offensive rebounds." existed in the past. But together, Lady Lions came out smoking and these disparate elements resulted in rarely let up during the ensuing 40 minutes. The Broncos, who had esroute to a first place finish in the caped the first round with a narrow come-from-behind victory over Min-In the first round of the four-team nesota, spent all but the first two

mances against Providence.

With the score tied 2-2, the Broncos took their last look at daylight as the championship game Saturday Lady Lions proceded to bury them with 12 unananswered points. By halftime, Penn State had extended that cushion to a comfortable 21 points. "We forced them into taking some source, point guard Suzie McConnell, bad shots." O'Brien said. "We forced on the clock, it's usually not going to be a good shot." Although Head Coach Rene Portland agreed that the Lions acquitted themselves better against the Bronreserve guard Lisa Faloon hit from cos than the night before, she was the outside, seemingly at will, just as cautious when assessing the Lady

> "We were more relaxed," she said, "but I still contend that rebounding is probably the biggest area that down the road could get us in trouble. So fects of a bout with the flu. Although wanted to. I don't think we did a good boards. Western Michigan, nearly up to her Lady Lion guard Suzie McConnell drives for a score in Saturday's championship game of the Lady Lion Classic at Rec Hall. McConnell led the women's basketball team to the championship with a 83-53 win over Western Michigan.

Lions' future.

Even so, the Broncos did much of O'Brien, who was six for seven short a stellar performance. She's she chipped in 11 assists against job of keeping her out of the middle." It took the deadly outside shooting questionable health threatened to cut weekend was the health of McCon-she threw up a lot of junk, but she was. State assistant Bob Foley, the Lady from the middle in heavy traffic, and nell, who was suffering the after-efable to penetrate on us anytime she Friars dominated Penn State on the some, uncharacteristically, from outside. But like McConnell. Collins' that Portland had no reason to expect But most of all, it took the shooting of "I just wanted to play to begin with followed her lead, snagging nine re- "I don't think Suzie felt all that after being outrebounded by Provi- Collins, whose 26 points were both the and I wasn't sure was going to happen

Flyers past Penguins, 7-4

ka Sinisalo scored two goals in the third period as the Philadelphia Flyers surged to defeat the Pittsburgh Penguins 7-4 in the NHL last night.

Dave Poulin scored three goals, shooting his last shorthanded into an empty net at 19:55 in the third period after Pittsburgh pulled goalie Denis Her Sinisalo's game-winner, his fourth of the season, came on a power play off a rebound shot from Tim Kerr 11:43 into the period to give Philadelphia a 5-4 lead. His first goal, which broke a 3-3 tie, came on a rebound shot off a faceoff deep in the Pittsburgh end at 4:43.

Ron Sutter gave Philadelphia an insurance goal on a break away steal at 19:55 before Poulin ended the scoring.

The lead see-sawed until Sini salo's game-winner. Pittsburgh opened up the scoring when Mario Lemieux fired in a rebound off a blocked shot by the Flyers' Brad Marsh at 6:03 into the first period. Poulin's first goal of the night on a pass from Tim Kerr, tied i at 1-1 7:38 into the period. The Flyers took the lead at 14:27 when Murry Craven scored on a faceoff pass from Peter Zezel on a power Pittsburgh came back for a 2-2 tie at 17:09 when Randy Cunneyworth took a pass from Jim John son and fired past Flyers goalie Darren Jensen.

The Flyers pulled ahead 3-2 at 1:14 into the second period with Poulin's second goal, a 40-foot

Grapplers fare well in two tournaments wrestling season is starting off 167-pound title. while Brugel won the 167-pound walter. Mayo won on riding time bout, the Lions finished second in after a 1-1 overtime score. The last night's tournament. Penn State fared better, however, in Saturday's East Strouds- decision over John Bott of Rider to burg Open, taking home first capture the 190-pound title. place. Penn State also had a total At Bloomsburg, Penn State sent of seven individual titles over the five wrestlers to the finals and Head Coach Rich Lorenzo sent ners. Brugel defeated Ted half the squad to compete at East Filwinski of Duke 19-7 at 167 Stroudsburg while the other half pounds. The other Lion winner was Glenn Koser in the 150-pound traveled to Bloomsburg. On Saturday, the Lions won weight class. The 5-8 junior won by their fourth straight East Strouds- injury default over Dave Gable of burg Open by scoring 82.5 points. Franklin and Marshall. Maryland was second with 74.25 Finishing in second place for while Rider finished third with Penn State was Keith Maurer at Penn State finished second with Rocky Bonomo 7-2 of Bloomsburg. 130.25 points. Bloomsburg won the Bonomo was named the outstandtournament by scoring 175 points ing wrestler of the tournament.

59.75. The tournament host placed 126 pounds. The junior lost 6-4 to fifth with 48.25 points. In the Bloomsburg Invitational, 134 pounds, Tim Flynn lost to and Franklin and Marshall came The 142-pound champion was Bloomsburg's Marty King, who in third with 105.25 points. At East Stroudsburg, Penn State defeated Penn State's Rob Meloy placed six wrestlers in the finals 9-3. hard finished in second place at Ellis in heavyweight class. East Stroudsburg's Tom Vara be- with the team's performance. nerve in his neck.

Elinsky won by forfeit over Jody For Eric Brugel, the 1985-86 Karam of Lock Haven to win the well. The 5-10 senior began his In the 177-pound class, Dan season with a win last night at the Mayo won on criteria over former Bloomsburg Invitational. But Lock Haven standout Doug Buck-

pounds, Joe Hadge beat Jim Frick

regulation score was 6-6. Penn State's Andy Voit won a 7-3 emerged with two individual win-

Ricky Bonomo of Bloomsburg. At and the Lions emerged with five Third place winners were Lions' individual title winners. Matt Ger- Jan Johnson at 190 pounds and Jeff 126-pounds when he defaulted to Overall, Lorenzo was impressed cause Gerhard had a pinched "The competition was very intense," he said. "We gave a good Freshman Jim Martin beat Tim effort and I feel we did a lot of Defensive woes plague cagers in loss Marathon took advantage of a se-By MARK BRENNAN ries of Penn State turnovers to tie the Collegian Sports Writer game at 49 with about 14 minutes left When Craig Collins finished his in the game. A few plays later, center basketball playing days at Penn State Brian Roth of the Oilers hit a short last year, there is no doubt Head baseline jumper to give Marathon the Basketball Coach Bruce Parkhill was lead for good sorry to see the four-year letterwin- Parkhill attributed the mistakes to the youth of the team and said it is a ner and team co-captian leave. Parkhill was probably even sorrier matter of the younger players getting after Collins lead Marathon Oil, an used to the game situations. amateur touring team, to 84-78 victo- "The mistakes are there because ry over the Lions in an exhibition we are a young team," Parkhill said. game at Rec Hall yesterday. "It has been evident in practice that range jump shots, some strong inside situation, the kids were like they were moves, and a slam dunk or two. He running in sand." went 15 for 20 from the field and one Junior forward Carl Chrabascz got for two from the line while grabbing his feet out of the sand enough near five rebounds and handing out four the mid-way point of the second half to take control of the game offensive-Despite the loss, Parkhill was glad ly for Penn State. The 6-8 tri-captian to see Collins play well against the scored on a series of inside power

"I was glad he had a big game," 'straight points for the Lions in one Parkhill said. "I hope it will help him stretch. down the road, maybe give him a The only problem was that Marchance to play in Europe. I was really athon responded almost every time he was wearing blue and white." ing in front of the Penn State crowd, behind.

fortable on the court.

eveident in the first half that the guys should be against Marathon because were breathing hard and really they don't have a chance to practice looked nervous. We were very tenta-team defense a lot." Parkhill said. tive defensively." The nervousness caught up with we're not good defensively. And on Penn State about one quater of the the boards we were bad too. way through the second half. After "So those two areas have been controllling the game throughtout the areas of concern fron day one and will first half and building up as much as be all year," he added.

glad he had a good game, I just wish Chrabascz scored, so the Lions came out of his scoring tear in just about While Collins seemed at ease play- the same position they went into it, Parkhill said the Lions were tentative Parkhill said that is one of the main and did not look like they were com- problems his team is facing now. He pumped in 22 for Marathon.

said offensively, the team seems to be "I really think we were hesitant in good shape, but defensively the and uncomfortable for most of the team is struggling. game," Parkhill said. "It was really "The offense was O.K., but it

"Defensively, it stands right out, a nine-point lead at the beginning of . Guard Tony Ward finished with 18

the second half, the Lions started to points and Chrabascz added 17 to lead Penn State's Paul Murphy soars for a layup in yesterday's exhibition game make some mistakes that later in the the Lions while 6-10 Frank Kaminsky against Marathon Oil at Rec Hall. The men's basketball team lost to the amateur stingy defense to beat the Lions 8-0 Friday and 6-4 just went out there and tried to hit." Saturday at the ice pavilion.

Icers improve despite setbacks

Collegian Sports Writer

Jacoutot of Trenton State 12-8 in things right. We now know what the 118-pound finals. At 134 we have to work on." the third period before two Michigan-Dearborn goals at third period.

Going into this weekend, the ice hockey team had an 0-7 he said, "and we came out, and the first couple shifts we record against powerhouse Michigan-Dearborn since late did, and I think that kind of helped set the tone for us, that we were going to play a more aggressive game."

tion Division I clubs, used good puck movement and a he said. "We figured we didn't have anything to lose. We On Saturday, Penn State jumped out to a 1-0 lead on a Michigan-Dearborn, which the Lions considered Divigoal by Pat McQuillan at 8:56 of the first period, but the sion I-caliber, jumped on Penn State early Friday, Wolves tied it only 17 seconds later. The Lions regained registering five goals in 11:22 of the first period in the the lead on a slap shot from the left corner by defenseman

Penn State showed signs of a major resurgence on The Lions also showed an ability to come back, pulling Saturday, however. The Lions had one-goal leads of 1-0 to within one at 17:27 of the second period on Podeszwa's and 2-1 in the first and second periods, respectively, and first-ever goal in a Penn State uniform and tying the also came back from a 4-2 deficit to tie the game at 4-4 in game on a goal by team captain Lynn Sipe at 9:31 of the The Wolves then kept their unbeaten streak against the Head Coach Jon Shellington said the difference between Lions alive, however, when forwards Pat Marody and Penn State's performances Friday and Saturday was the Scott Davenport scored goals within 1:20.

Lady harriers set for title meet

Coming off of a big win at last week's Regional nation's top 16 squads are squaring off to finalize the ance today in the NCAA championships at Marquette New Mexico and North Carolina State.

"I see this as a top ten team, nationally," the coach nova, Washington State and Wisconsin. said at the season's outset. the Lady Lions have taken advantage of their extreme whose teams failed to qualify.

Aston, Kathy Pitcher and Stacy Prey With five first place finishes in seven attempts, the II Championships at Lehigh. Lady Lions have never finished 'out of the money'; Considering their performance and development, taking a second at the Western Ontario Invitational Jordan feels that her squad, ranked No. 14 nationally, and third at the Rutgers Invitational. But, according to is better than the polls indicate. Kuhn, the competition in this meet is by far the toughest that they've faced. "In a meet like this we all have to run to our counts is at the end of the season."

everyone is so evenly matched and you're competing with the best runners in the country." Teams joining Penn State in Milwaukee, where the

Other teams that have made the cut in their respec-Penn State is hoping to live up to Head Coach Teri tive regional meets include Northwestern, Oregon, Texas, University of California at Los Angeles, Villa-

Also competing in the meet will be the many athletes By using the best runners available for each meet, who placed individually in their respective regions, but team depth to remain consistent throughout the season. Jordan has listed the same line-up for today's. during the regular season and Regional competition,

They finished a respectable third to No. 1 North Kuhn, juniors Holly Loht and Lisa Ross and sophomore Carolina State and No. 2 Wisconsin at the Rutgers Kathy St. Clair. They will be joined by freshmen Amy Invitational early in the season and ahead of Villanova and Boston College in last week's combined Region I &

> "I don't hold much stock in polls," she said, "They all go out the window (today) and the only one that maximum potential," said the team's captain, "be-

Unlike the last time these two tea- the Player of the Year and Rose as December, 1981. You can now make that mark 0-9. Due to their rankings, Penn State ms met, URI came in healthy, as the Coach of the Year.

"We've been very fortunate that thought we'd have a very competitive wrong.

touchdown, giving the Lions a com- Dame 36-6 and Pitt 31-0. Giftopoulos said he knew the Lions Paterno would have his second nawould improve upon last year's win tional char pionship in the last four total, but he didn't even consider the vears. possibility of going through the sea- Oklahoma will be just another summer, a lot of guys stayed up and challenge for us," Moules said.

The Wolves, an independent varsity team which has analysis of Saturday's game. had success against National Collegiate Athletic Associa"We forechecked a lot. We had our intensity level up," victory. The Lion offense also had trouble getting un- John D'Aloisio with only 1:25 gone in the second period, tracked the whole night, getting off only 14 shots on goal but Michigan-Dearborn answered with three goals in a level of aggressiveness. did, and it shows.

"We had a meeting (Saturday). We double-underlined 'We've got to be more intense, more aggressive, and we've got to want the puck, we've got to want it to win,'

Left wing Jeff Podeszwa agreed with his coach's

little more than 14 minutes.

Defenseman Geoff Bishop said a big momentum build "We were more aggressive (Saturday)," he said. er for Penn State in Saturday's game came when the "Don't ask me why. We talk about it all the time. You've Lions had their 2-1 lead in the second period. At one point, got to be aggressive in any sport. I don't know why we the Wolves fired many successive shots toward Gerry didn't have it (Friday), but they didn't, and tonight they Hourihan from both short and long distances, but the goalie did not let them score.

Collegian Sports Writer

Jordan's preseason prediction.

meet that was good enough to easily win Region I. Competing for Penn State will be senior Kathleen cause a few seconds could mean a lot of points when important role.

championships and a great regular season, the wom- 1985 rankings, include Boston College, Brigham en's cross country team makes its final 1985 appear- Young, Clemson, Kansas State, Iowa State, Kentucky, against four of these teams.

Paterno · made this team special.