

PSU to observe 25 years of study abroad

By CAROL CHASE
Collegian Staff Writer

In recognition of 25 years of academic partnership with the first universities to participate in Penn State's Education Abroad Programs, 14 dignitaries from the three universities will be guests here this week.

The University's Education Abroad Program began in 1962 when 23 students attended the University of Cologne in West Germany and 48 attended the University of Strasbourg in France. In addition, 34 students attended the University of Salamanca, Spain, in 1963.

During the silver anniversary celebration, the University community will be made more aware not only of the educational programs offered at the University, but also of the important international links, said Margie Groff, program assistant of the Office of International Programs, 222 Boucke.

Since then, the program has grown to include 28 programs in 16 countries with about 400 Penn State students participating annually.

Fourteen dignitaries from the universities of Cologne, Salamanca and Strasbourg arrived at the University yesterday and will stay until tomorrow.

Students who already have or will participate in one of the three education abroad programs in these countries will have a chance to meet the dignitaries at a reception tomorrow in the office, Groff said.

During their stay, the visitors will take part in a series of activities with representatives from the University's French, Spanish and German departments, the Office of International Programs and the College of Business Administration, Groff said.

The dignitaries will also attend receptions, luncheons, dinners, and business meetings with University students, faculty and administrators.

The dignitaries will tour the campus, central Pennsylvania and an Amish farm in Belleville. They will also be the guests of University President Bryce Jordan and his wife at a candlelight dinner at the University House, Groff said.

Sue Schellick (senior-hotel, restaurant and institutional management) who studied in Salamanca last semester, said international study gives students a better understanding of people and different cultures.

It is hoped the celebration this week will make people understand how important the program is, she said, adding that learning a foreign language "can be a plus for job opportunities."

James Newman (junior-accounting) plans to study abroad in Cologne this spring and would like to see today live in Germany. "With business now, the market is becoming very international," he said.

Knowledge of the language and culture will "make me more attuned to the differences between the cultures," he said.

Steve Barberinski (junior-quantitative business analysis) said he is planning to work on an independent study program this spring at Salamanca.

The study abroad program is important, he said, because "the U.S. is becoming more and more dependent on international economy."

Groff said: "We're very excited about the celebration... It represents a great span of time that Penn State has participated in Education Abroad Programs."

Homecoming '86 was such a blast. We are only sorry that it has passed.

It is not only the pomping, the laughter and the fun.

But also the memories that in our hearts will remain #1.

Thanks for showing us the way
To a great Homecoming Day!

police log

• Two overhead projectors worth $270 were reported missing by Fred Burns, 1 Willard, Monday morning from 317 Henderson, East and 136 Henderson, South, University Police Services said.

• $400 was taken from a vehicle pulled over on the side of the road for repairs Monday afternoon, State College Bureau of Police Services said. Police said the car, owned by Walk's Arco, 1692 N. Atherton St., was disabled near 100 N. Atherton St. when a person helped the driver, Kenneth Robinson of Milesburg, to push the car off the street. After Robinson got under the car to check the problem, the person ran away from the scene with the money, State College police said.

• A $350 slide projector was reported missing by Aaron Cole, 203 Keller, Monday afternoon from the Faculty Club, University police said.

• A stereo cassette player worth $250 and three mirrors worth $27 were reported missing by Kris Zwycwicz and David Honeyford, 240 N. Burrows St., from a car parked at their residence Saturday night, State College police said.

• $100 damage was reported to three benches in gym 3, Intramural Building, Monday morning, University police said. Bud Thompson, 17 IM Building, reported the incident.

• Two telephones worth $100 were reported missing by Beverly Fisher, 206 Engineering Unit East, from 204 and 205 Engineering Unit East, Monday afternoon, University police said.

A SEMESTER IN BOSTON
WILL SHOW YOU WHY THE BRITISH WERE SO RELUCTANT TO LEAVE.

Boston, Massachusetts. It's been America's favorite college town since Colonial times.

Simmons College is located in the heart of Boston, a city rich with history, culture, museums and theatres. It also has 60 colleges and 200,000 students.

Now you can discover this remarkable city during The Simmons Semester in Boston.

The Simmons Semester offers extensive liberal arts and professional studies for both men and women.

For more information about this unique opportunity, write today or call 1-617-738-2107.

You'll find out why the British would rather go to war than leave Boston.

ASCEND TO HIGH TECH WITH ASC.

Careers take off at ASC... because we have. In our eleven fast-paced years, many rewarding careers have been made as we expand our participation and expertise in data communications, electronic warfare, signal processing and systems engineering. Raising the standard of technological excellence is our goal in a broad range of disciplines, a goal we seek to share with graduates in:

Electrical Engineering
 Computer/Engineering Science
 Systems Engineering

Disciplines will include:
HARDWARE: Microprocessors, Computer Simulation, Digital to Analog Converters, Artificial Intelligence, Digital Processing, Operating Systems, Digital Communications, Compressed Algorithms, Communications Protocols, Computer-based Training Systems, Real-Time Processing, and Signal Analysis.
SOFTWARE: FORTRAN, Ada, LISP, PL/I, C, CMS2, UNIX, MS/DOS, and RMX.

Highly motivated individuals who possess strong academic qualifications, demonstrate leadership abilities and desire a challenging career are encouraged to consider ASC. U.S. citizenship required for employment.

ON-CAMPUS INTERVIEWS: November 12

To arrange for an appointment, sign up at your Placement Office. If unable to meet with us on campus, please send your curriculum vitae and resume in confidence to B. Stohman.
