

Steelers rethinking their expectations

By MARCIA DUNN
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH — Pittsburgh Steelers Coach Chuck Noll may have ringed at the prospect of a 7-9 season a few months ago, but it's beginning to sound better and better.

The Steelers, 5-9 following Sunday's 27-17 victory over the Detroit Lions, face the Jets in New York this Saturday before ending the season in a Dec. 21 showdown against the Kansas City Chiefs at home.

"From this point right now, it (7-9) would be a good goal. From the beginning of the season, obviously I wouldn't be a good goal," Noll said at his weekly news conference Monday.

Noll said he's grateful for Sunday's victory, even though it doesn't ease the pain of missing the playoffs.

"Why did we need it? For the most important thing, ourselves," he said.

Steelers wide receiver Louis Lipps caught eight passes for 150 yards and two touchdowns against the Lions, and quarterback Mark Malone enjoyed his best passing day of the season, 18 completions out of 32 attempts for 232 yards.

In addition, running back Earnest Jackson accounted for a touchdown and a season-high 147 yards, the most by a Steelers back since Franco Harris gained 153 yards against the Cleveland Browns in 1979.

"It was a good game for us, a good game offensively and a good game defensively," Noll said. "If there was a shortcoming, I think we gave up a couple big ones, a big kick-off return, a touchdown run that added greatly to their running stats. For the rest of it, I thought we played pretty well."

Perhaps the poorest performance of the day came from Gary Anderson, the NFL's best kicker, who missed three of four field goal attempts.

"He was trying to kick it as deep as he could," Noll explained. "His kicks were very long."

Noll bristled at the suggestion that

Flutie phenomenon ups jersey sales in Chicago

By WILLIAM C. HIDLAY
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO — Doug Flutie's No. 2 Chicago Bears' jersey has become the hottest-selling item in some stores since William "The Refrigerator" Perry's No. 7 last season.

Flutie's performance Sunday, in which he had a hand in three touchdowns, has triggered a buying frenzy. "After Sunday's game, it seemed like everyone who walked into the store wanted a Flutie jersey or something related to Flutie," said Dawn K. Cottini, retail buyer of Bears' paraphernalia for Morrie Mages Sports store in Chicago.

Perry, the beefy defensive lineman who weighs at least 325 pounds, was a sports-marketing phenomenon last year. But he is playing less offense this year and his popularity has cooled.

"I think if (Flutie) continues to play well and they give him more time, I think you'll see it snowball. I think you may see another situation like what happened last year," she said.

Robert Tangen, regional manager for Merle Harmon's Fan Fair, an Illinois chain of sports paraphernalia stores, said he also said store sales in Chicago.

"The response to Flutie jerseys has been phenomenal."

And with such high expectations placed upon him, Chase does have to find a way to escape it.

"It's a mental test," he said. "You have to make sure you get rest and relax. When you have time to yourself you should do what you want to do."

Something else that helped Chase was his own expectations about himself. When he came to Penn State he wanted a starting position. He was aggressive and worked his way up. But he had to realize what he didn't have the skills (older players) had."

So kept working and practicing until he did get a starting position. He was also rewarded when he became a first-team All-American.

"He certainly was not All-American last fall, but he had the potential. He spent so much time working," Tait said. "And he earned the starting berth."

Important. With the loss of some of last year's bench-players, such as Bobby Faux, the younger players will be relied upon this season.

Rights now Tait is not sure what level the team is at but said there is no doubt it has the potential for another great season.

But potential isn't everything. "Potential never scored a point or won a match," Tait said. "We have to make it turn into ability."

The season begins Jan. 2 in Toronto against the University of Manitoba, which beat Pepperdine University earlier this season. It was Pepperdine that eliminated Penn State in the NCAA semifinals last year and went on to win the national championship.

The press is mounting on Jets quarterback Ken O'Brien to reverse a three-game skid in which the team has scored just 16 points.

Jets faltering in homestretch

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

After the game, the usually calm, patient O'Brien bolted the locker room, declining to talk to the media.

On Monday, Coach Joe Walton retreated his faith in O'Brien.

"Ken is our quarterback," Walton said. "He has a lot of character, is a strong individual with a lot of talent. Kenny believes in himself and we believe in him. We're all got to work our way through it."

O'Brien is the unquestioned leader of the offense. If his confidence is ebbing, it can have an even worse effect on his teammates.

"To see Kenny's spirits down both sides this season, Ken O'Brien stood above the competition. He was the leading passer in the NFL and his New York Jets won with regularity and potency."

Now, with the Jets at 10-4 and in the midst of a three-game skid, O'Brien doesn't seem to swagger quite so much. He is less in control of his team's attack and destiny.

O'Brien's worst day came Sunday as the San Francisco 49ers handed New York a 24-10 defeat. He threw three interceptions for the first time in his career, missed open receivers, threw others and passed into tight coverage more than he did in all nine games of the winning streak.

Walton refuses to place any blame on any individuals for the losing streak, in which the Jets have been outscored 86-16.

"The whole team has got to rally and do things better," he said. "They all can kind of catch their hole card. If they didn't feel like that, I'd be disappointed."

While Walton certainly is disappointed with recent results, he also has some positives to focus on. Klecko and defensive end Marty Lyons, who was having an excellent season before hurting his shoulder, could be back for regular duty this Saturday against Pittsburgh. And the Jets' need only one more victory to clinch a playoff spot.

Eagles are hoping Byars is back on track

By RALPH BENSTEIN
AP Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA — Coach Buddy Ryan took Keith Byars to the movies to remind the young Eagles rookie running back how good the coach expected him to be.

Ryan isn't sure whether the films helped, but Byars, who has alternated between the bench and a backup, turned from puffy cat to tiger Sunday in the Eagles' 10-10 overtime tie with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Byars gained 100 yards on 24 carries Sunday. It was his first 100-yard plus game in the NFL, and first as any Eagles' running back this season.

"He and I sat down Saturday and looked at films of the Ohio State-Illinois game of two years ago," said Ryan.

"I wanted him to see what it looked like when he played a great game."

The former Ohio State All-American helped the Buckeyes rally from a 24-0 deficit to beat Illinois, 45-38. He rushed for 274 yards and five touchdowns, including a 67-yarder in which he reversed his field and ran most of the way after losing his shoe.

"I don't know if that had an effect on him, but at least he rocked up on his toes and took off. He played the best game he's played for us. Maybe I'll get him a bunch of his college films."

Ryan read the movie during this week's news conference at which he also said there wasn't much else he liked about Sunday's game.

The coach said his players allowed their upset 32-27 overtime victory the previous week over the Los Angeles Raiders to go to their heads.

"And it just wasn't the rookies either," declared the coach. "The old guys were as bad as the rookies, getting all excited over winning a game."

"That's the difference between an amateur and a pro. The amateur can afford to get high and maybe off a week. Pros have to be ready every week. They have to get themselves mentally ready. The coaches can do just so much."

Byars, after Ryan benched him before the Nov. 23 Seattle game, carried a groin injury that allowed three carries in a game.

"I need to run 20 or more times to get into the flow of the game," he said.

Ryan was asked if Byars would be allowed to run the ball as much Sunday against Dallas as he did in the final game of the season against the Washington Redskins.

"I'd like to. That would be the ideal situation if the score and other things dictate it," he said.

The coach also was pleased with the running and blocking of rookie tailback Anthony Toney, who scored on a 74-yard run.

"Those two young running backs did a heckuva job," Ryan said. "Both of them ran the football well and blocked well. We see improvement."

The defense, he said, took a step back.

"This is the only time this year that I can say I was really disappointed in the way we performed," he said.

The offense produced 230 yards on 46 carries, the best since 259 yards against the Cardinals in the last regular season game of 1981.

Ryan said quarterback Randall Cunningham was questionable for Dallas, and even the finale against Washington. Cunningham suffered a severe bruise of the thumb on Dec. 7.

The former Boston College star, pin-sized next to the Fridge, caused a stir in Chicago when he was signed by the Bears last Oct. 21 by the Bears after his United States who was released during the pre-season.
