

Vigil is set for missing prof

By LISA NURNBERGER
Collegian Staff Writer

International interest organizations will hold a vigil at noon Wednesday on the steps of Pattee for University Professor Boris Weissteiner, who disappeared in Chile in December 1984.

The vigil is one of several events scheduled this week to commemorate Weissteiner's disappearance and educate the University community about political oppression and torture.

At 7:30 Wednesday night in 301 HUB, the film Your Neighbor's Son — the Making of a Torturer will be shown.

Also, human rights activist Veronica De Negri will speak at 8:30 Thursday night in 301 HUB in an attempt to provoke all citizens to work for human rights and justice in Chile. De Negri's family fled Chile in 1977 after she underwent two years of torture by Chilean security forces because of her affiliation with Chile's trade unions.

De Negri's 19-city tour in the United States is a personal campaign she has said will continue "until I have resistance to different methods of torture, such as resistance to beating, electricity, hangings, etc."

Missing

Continued from Page 1.

The colony also appears to have underground torture centers used for interrogation. "In these cells, torturers allegedly carry out interrogation over a closed-circuit radio system, with the detainees naked and tied to their berths while electric shocks are applied," the U.N. report said.

The colony denied the article's accusations, claiming to be an educational society with its own school and clinic. Katie O'Neil, co-director of USG's international affairs department, said the campus groups plans to use the Freedom of Information Act to demand access to all communications between the American embassy in Chile and the Chilean government, as well as between the embassy and the State Department.

"There's a slim chance that he may be alive," Tubbs said. "If he's not, then he was a victim of foul play and some people should be brought to justice."

Four days later, their small group turned into an army of 10,000 women marching through hostile streets to put an end to the violence in Northern Ireland. Although both women are Catholic, Catholics and Protestants alike participated in the march.

Williams and Corrigan were the first women to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize since 1946. Their marches and rallies spread throughout the country to London.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

achieved justice for my son," whom she said was murdered by the Chilean security force last spring while taking pictures of a street demonstration.

Witnesses have said security forces beat De Negri's son Rodrigo and his companion, Carmen Gloria Quintana, then doused them with a flammable liquid and set them afire.

Rodrigo had returned from a nine-year absence from his homeland "to search for his roots," his mother said.

In her presentations, De Negri stresses that human rights is a global responsibility.

"When I was growing up, I used to hear about the things that the Nazis had done in Europe," she said. "I thought how lucky I was to be where I was. So nobody should feel it can't happen to them."

According to Amnesty International, the Chilean government maintains it had nothing to do with Rodrigo's death. The only charge pending against security force personnel stemming from the incident is a charge of negligence on the part of a junior officer for not taking the two burn victims to a hospital.

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Nobel laureate to speak on global peace today

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

—by Kirsten Lee Swartz

Bellevue, a 1977 Nobel Peace Prize winner for her work in Northern Ireland, will present "Peace in the World is Everybody's Business" at 8 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

Eleven years ago in Belfast, Northern Ireland, English soldiers shot and killed an Irish Republican Army soldier who then lost control of his car, killing two young children and fatally wounding a third.

Horribly by the senseless killing of innocent children, Williams and the aunt of the dead children, Mairead Corrigan, knocked on doors to convince women to join them in a protest march.

Tiffany introduces Beli the Special of the Week
Hours: 11am-midnight
237-6200

Italian Sausage
With Peppers and Onions
$2.55
(offer good thru 4/19/87)

The 6th Annual
Miss Black Penn State Pageant

Tuesday, April 14th
8:00 p.m. Schwab Auditorium
Tickets on sale now in the Hub at the Black Caucus Office for $1.00.

Sponsored by ΩΨΦ

ORIGINAL Italian PIZZA & RESTAURANT

LARGE PLAIN PIZZA
$5.50

Monday - Pizza: All you can eat
11am - 6 pm - $2.59

Eat in Only

FREE DELIVERY AFTER 5:00 PM
222 W. Beaver
(Under Beaver Plaza Apts.)
238-5513

I'VE DISCOVERED THE GREATEST LITTLE PLACE TO SHOP FOR ANTIQUES!

WHERE EDNA, WHERE?

IN THE CLASSIFIED PAGES!

LOOKING FOR BARGAINS? SHOP OUR CLASSIFIED SECTION!

XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ

The Sisters of Chi Omega would like to congratulate

Douglas M. Beatty
Honorary Chi-O Man 1987

XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ - XΩ

Verbatim
DS/DD $12.95
SS/DD $ 9.95

DataLife

THE LOGICAL LINK
COMPUTER STORE

300 S. PUGH STREET, SUITE 100, COLLEGE, PA 17001
814-299-3104

IS YOUR IRA EARNING 8.1%?

If your IRA is currently with a bank or savings & loan in a certificate of deposit, you're probably earning less than you would with a VALIC IRA. VALIC IRAs offer you 8.1% for any IRA transfer, new contribution, or corporate rollover received before April 1, 1987. Just compare our high rates with those offered by banks and savings & loans institutions nationwide.

TSA also available by payroll reduction to PSU employees.

John Wolanski Bryant Mesick
238-0143 237-0586

CINEMETTE THEATRES

BARGAIN NIGHT
MONDAY & TUESDAY
AT ALL THEATRES

CINEMA 5
119 Main 237-7251

ARISTOCATS
NIGHTLY 7:30

TIN MEN
NIGHTLY 9:45

Dead By Dawn
EVIL DEAD 2
NIGHTLY 8:00 & 10:10

Winner of 4 Academy Awards including Best Picture PLATOON
NIGHTLY 8:15 & 9:45

Max Glendon and Danny Glover
LETHAL WEAPON
NIGHTLY 7:50 & 9:50

Charlie Sheen
THREE FOR THE ROAD
NIGHTLY 8:30 & 10:30

THE MOVIES
424 E. Beaver 237-0003

Ulrich Woods and Kim Basinger...
BLIND DATE
NIGHTLY 8:00 & 10:00

STATE
113 W. College 237-7254

THE SECRET OF MY SUCCESS
NIGHTLY 8:00 & 10:00

Take off with the original cast...
POLICE ACADEMY 4: CITIZENS ON PATROL
NIGHTLY 8:15 & 10:15

ROWLAND
419 E. Beaver 237-1133

Andrew McCarthy
MANNEQUIN
NIGHTLY 7:15 & 9:15

STUDENT UNION BOARD
April 13-19
SURPRISING FUN! for all

SUB WEEK

MONDAY APRIL 13	WEDNESDAY APRIL 15	THURSDAY APRIL 16	FRIDAY APRIL 17	SATURDAY APRIL 18	SUNDAY APRIL 19
ICE CREAM SOCIAL 2:00 pm HUB Lawn Flavors include: Chocolate Vanilla Strawberry	EASTER EGG RACES in Association with Nestle 3:00 pm HUB Lawn MOVIE: "TRUE STORIES" HUB Assembly Rm. 7:00 & 9:00 pm Admission $2.00	COFFEEHOUSE Eric Gross & Friends 7:30-8:30 pm HUB Cellar Free Admission Free Refreshments MOVIE: "TRUE STORIES" HUB Assembly Rm. 7:00 & 9:00 pm Admission $2.00	HEAVY METAL CONCERT Heart of Darkness Rhythm Pigs & Hallows Eve at 7:00 pm HUB Ballroom MOVIE: "ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST" 119 Osmond 7:00, 9:00 & 11:00 pm Admission $2.00 MOVIE: "TRUE STORIES" HUB Assembly Rm. 7:00, 9:00 & 11:00 pm Admission $2.00	SUB & THE JAZZ CLUB PRESENT: THE 2nd ANNUAL PENN ST. JAZZ FESTIVAL at 11:00 am HUB Lawn MOVIE: "ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST" 119 Osmond 7:00, 9:00 & 11:00 pm Admission $2.00 MOVIE: "TRUE STORIES" HUB Assembly Rm. 7:00, 9:00 & 11:00 pm Admission $2.00	MOVIE: "ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST" 119 Osmond 7:00 & 9:00 pm Admission $2.00 MOVIE: "TRUE STORIES" HUB Assembly Rm. 7:00 & 9:00 pm Admission $2.00

The Biggest Concert Of The Spring.

John Cafferty & The Beaver Brown Band.

And Three More Acts.

Tickets Only $2.00

Sunday, April 26 Penn State's live music drought ends in a torrent of music. John Cafferty & The Beaver Brown Band, famous from the movie "Eddie & The Cruisers." CBS recording artists, Synch, Sammy Atlantic & The Jersey All-Stars all-Springsteen show. And Stelyn Hours, State College's top band.

Tickets for all this music would run you $20.00. But the Regatta gives them all to you for just $2.00.

The Seven hours of sun, fun and the good times of Spring at nearby Bald Eagle State Park are free.

The Beta Sigma Beta/Sy Barash Regatta. Sunday, April 26, 10 to 5. For the Cancer Society. Co-Sponsored by Mid-State Bank, Uni-Mart and Alpha Phi Sorority.

BΣB. YA GOTTA REGATTA