Baseball team set for two vs. Bisons Lions hoping to keep momentum

By DAVID SEAMON
Collegian Sports Writer

Penn State's surging baseball team will look to stretch its impressive winning streak to six games this afternoon when it entertains Bucknell at Beaver Field for a doubleheader. The first game is slated to begin at 1 p.m.

The Lions, now 20-12 on the campaign, are coming off a festive holiday weekend in the Steel City. They devastated Atlantic 10 Western Division foe Duquesne in a four-game sweep, 10-0 and 12-3 Friday, and a pair of 7-0 whitewashes Saturday. It seems they had a more productive weekend than the chocolate industry.

What was even more satisfying to the Lions was the manner in which they won. Each and every game was a consummate team performance.

"It was a pretty good weekend," Lion Assistant Coach Jim Farr understated. "We committed only one or two errors in the field as we played good solid defense; also we simply had tremendous pitching — in fact, we did not walk one batter over the entire weekend.

"We also got some big hits," Farr added. "Doug Keener came up with some big hits, a hit by Paul Komorowski, Tim Hurley got us going Friday with a big home run. The first half dozen or so games guys have been coming together — we're getting at the right time. With 14 games in eight days, and 12 of those being conference games, we're coming together at the right time.

The only two contests of the 14 that are non-conference games are today's pair with Bucknell. On the surface, the Bisons may seem to be just a bridge between A-10 rivals Duquesne and George Washington, which will visit Happy Valley in very important makeup twinbill action tomorrow and Thursday. But just ask Lion Head Coach Shorty Stoner if today's games mean anything.

"These games may appear to be virtually meaningless," Stoner said. "But we must keep our momentum going into the GW games. We have to get some of our other pitchers on the mound so we can tune up for GW."

One pitcher the Lions will have on the mound this afternoon will be Byron Magee who will work the opener. According to Stoner, he will pitch as far as his arm will take him. "Magee will go as far as how well he throws," Stoner said. "We're going to play it by ear, though, because we want to get some of other pitchers who haven't worked much lately, guys like (Mike) Evonich, (Len) Sincavage and (Steve) Tunnal. These games will give some of our kids confidence.

Today's games will aid the Lions in their search for a bullpen stalwart.

"We're looking for someone to come out of the bullpen and put out the fire," Farr said. "We are searching for a late-inning reliever who can give us a good two or three-inning stint.

One setback for the Lions this past weekend, however, was the loss of freshman leadoff hitter Keith Ripka to a pulled hamstring muscle. The speedy centerfielder will be out of the lineup indefinitely, but of the Lions are fortunate to have in his place a versatile player like Doug Keener.

Philadelphia's Mill Thompson dives safely back to the bag ahead of Montreal first baseman Andres Galarraga's tag in the sixth inning of yesterday's game.

Phils, Bucs stage comebacks

By The Associated Press

MONTREAL — Lance Parrish hit a three-run homer, and Glenn Wilson followed with a solo shot as Philadelphia rallied for four runs with two out in the ninth inning to beat Montreal 4-3 in the Expos' home opener yesterday. Casey Candaele and a double to Mitch Webster before Montreal night-hander Jay Tibbs, 1-2, was working on a five-hit, 2-0 shutout when Von Hayes was safe on an out-thrown error by first baseman Andres Galarraga in the ninth. Mike Schmidt walked, and Mike Easler struck out before Parrish hit a 3-1 pitch for his second home run of the season.

Wilson followed with his second home run of the season. Dan Schatzeder, 1-1, was the winning pitcher. Kevin Gross worked the first six and one-third innings for the Phillies, and Mike Jackson got the final two outs of the seventh inning before Schatzeder came on. Schatzeder gave up a one-out homer in the ninth to pinch-hitter Dave Engle, his first, then yielded a single to Candaele and a double to Mitch Webster before giving way to Kent Tekulve, who earned his first save.

PIRATES 9, Mets 6

PITTSBURGH — Mike Diaz's three-run pinch homer capped a four-run Pittsburgh seventh-inning counter-rally and Sid Bream honored twice as the Pirates beat New York 9-6 last night, ending their 15-game losing streak against the Mets.

Kerr's hat trick propels Flyers past Islanders, 4-2, in opener

Nordiques top Montreal in other playoff game

Philadelphia goalie Ron Hextall guards the net while teammate Kjetil Samuelsson keeps New York's Alan Kerr in check during the first period of last night's game at the Spectrum. The Flyers got a hat-trick from Tim Kerr to beat the Islanders 4-2 and take a 1-0 lead in the series.

PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia Flyers got goalie Kelly Hrudey's attention in a flurry and with three goals from Tim Kerr beat the New York Islanders 4-2 in the opener of their best-of-seven, second-round Stanley Cup playoff series.

The Flyers erupted for three first-period goals against Hrudey, who stopped 73 of 75 shots Saturday night as the Islanders advanced to the Patrick Division playoff final with a four-over-time 3-2 victory over the Washington Capitals.

Two of Kerr's three goals were on power plays as the Philadelphia Flyers cooled off the surging Islanders, who became only the third team in NHL history to come back from a 3-1 deficit with their victory over the Caps.

Philadelphia reached the division final with a 4-2 first-round triumph over the New York Rangers.

The 225-pound Kerr, who has scored 50 or more goals in each of the last four regular seasons, accounted for two early first-period goals for a 2-0 Philadelphia lead.

Rookie Don Nachbaur, recalled Saturday from the Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League, boosted it to 3-0 before the first period ended.

Just 3:11 into the second, Kerr gave the Flyers a 4-0 lead. Flyers Coach Mike Keenan made a point to note that the victory was not due to the Islanders' fatigue from Saturday night's marathon.

"Fatigue wasn't a factor. I think they showed it wasn't. I don't think it played any part in the hockey game," Keenan said.

"Once we got the big lead, we defended it pretty well," he said.

As for Kerr's three goals, Keenan noted that the big Flyers' scorer did much against the Rangers but was a big factor last night.

Islanders Coach Terry Simpson said he didn't blame Hrudey for any of the goals.

"I just thought I'd take him out (after the first period) and see if Billy Smith could get us going. We got beat because we didn't play well. Kerr said he got his opportunities because, "they really can't put emphasis on me. If they do other guys will be open."

He said the Flyers lost their offensive touch in the last two periods because they got away from their game plan.

"We stopped playing our style, he said. Until Monday, Hrudey had beat them three times in the regular season without a loss and posted a 1.55 goals-against average doing it.

The Flyers fired 15 shots at Hrudey in the first period, and only eight the rest of the game against Smith.

The Islanders appeared sluggish at the start, but gained momentum in the final two periods of a basically defensive game in which the Flyers only got 23 shots.

The Flyers took a 1-0 lead at 2:55 of the first period when Kerr tipped the puck past Hrudey's glove side after taking a pass from Al Hill in the left corner. Hill gained possession when the disc jumped over the stick of Islander defenseman Gord Dineen.

Host Kutztown at home today

By ANN GARRETT
Collegian Sports Writer

After playing two back-to-back down-to-the-wire games in the past week, the men's lacrosse team de serves some rest and relaxation.

The Lions lost some critical ground in their overtime loss to Rutgers and then regained some confidence after this weekend's win over the University of Maryland, Baltimore County. The squad's rollercoaster ride through the season is taking its toll both physically and mentally, but the Lions hope to pull through tonight against Kutztown.

And while the showdown with Kutztown won't be all fun and games, Penn State is looking forward to a less taxing contest in a strong team showing in the first of three consecutive 7:30 p.m. games to be played at Jeffrey Field.

Head Coach Glenn Thiel said the game with the Golden Bears should provide him with the chance to see a good number of his players in action.

"Last year, we didn't have too much trouble with them," Thiel said. "We're hoping it's a game where we can play a lot of people and have some fun. We were much better than last year, even though the score (16-3) didn't really say that. We'd like to give some of the other kids that don't play very often a chance to show what they can do."

The Bears bring a 1-5 record into tonight's contest, and the Lions would like very much to add to their problems. Kutztown's sole win was over East Stroudsburg, while they were defeated by Villanova, Drexel, Salisbury State, Lehigh, and Montclair State. A win tonight is critical to keeping alive Penn State's quest for an NCAA playoff bid.

"The only way we'll get the national recognition we want is to win our next four games," said Lion goalie Chip Robertson, who boasts a save percentage of 61.3. "Even then, we're not guaranteed a bid. Some other teams have to lose while we win our last four games. We no longer control our destiny."

"I'm pleased with everything about our season except for the fact that we're 6-3," he added. "We could very easily be 10-1. It really hurt us to lose those two games (to Loyola and Rutgers), especially when we were ahead."

The Lions pulled it together at the right time when they managed to hang on to a four-goal lead and posted a 13-12 win over UMBC this weekend. Robertson said the victory gave the Lions a boost going into the final leg of the season.

Seko wins Boston Marathon

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON — Toshihiko Seko of Japan won his second Boston Marathon yesterday, running away from a dozen competitors 20 miles into the race and increasing his lead over the remaining six miles of the course to finish in an unofficial time of 2:11:49.

Seko, 31 and considered one of the world's top four marathoners, won in Boston in 1981 in 2:09:26. Finishing far behind Seko in the 91st running of the race were, respectively, Steve Jones and Geoff Smith. Winning the women's race was the favorite, Rosa Mota of Portugal, the 1984 Olympic Bronze medalist. Mota led from the start, finishing in an unofficial time of 2:25:20. Seko defeated a men's field that included two other of the world's top four, Juma Ikangaa of Tanzania and Rob de Castella of Australia.

Also in the strong men's field were Jones of Wales, Olympic silver medalist John Treacy of Ireland, 1984-85 Boston winner Smith of England, four-time Boston and New York City marathon champion Bill Rodgers, 1985 Pittsburgh marathon winner Ken Martin and standout road racer Bruce Bickford and Ed Eyestone.

Andre Viger of Quebec, holder of the world and course record of 1:43:26 for wheelchair participants, won his third Boston marathon in four years in 1:55:42. Viger led most of the race, following a six-wheeler pileup at the start that sent two competitors to a hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

The 26.2-mile race was run under cloudy skies with occasional rain and drizzle, considered good conditions for long-distance road races. However, the humidity remained high and the runners were facing a wind for the first dozen miles. More than 6,300 people were officially entered in the race.

LeMond shot in hunting accident

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Greg LeMond, the only American to win the Tour de France bicycle race, was in serious but stable condition yesterday after being hit in the back with a shotgun blast during a hunting trip, authorities said.

"He should recover from all injuries and they should not affect his performance as an athlete," said Dr. Sandy Beal, one of three surgeons involved in the two-hour operation on the cyclist. She said LeMond would probably be hospitalized for one or two weeks and would be able to resume cycling practice in a couple of months.

Knicks fire head coach, GM

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knicks dismissed Coach Bob Hill and general manager Scotty Stirling yesterday, in the wake of a 24-58 NBA season and a third straight last-place finish. The announcement was made by Richard Evans, the new president of Madison Square Garden Corporation.

Hill, who had served as an assistant coach with the club, replaced Hubie Brown as head coach last Dec. 1 and posted a 20-4 record including six straight losses at the end of the season after the return of injured star forward Bernard King.

Erving honored with parade

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Julius Erving rode through throngs of cheering fans yesterday in a downtown lunchtime parade in his honor and then thanked his teammates for helping him reach the 30,000-point plateau.

But before Erving even finished his speech, fans began looting, vandalizing and fighting nearby, according to police, who said they arrested 23 people in the violence.

Authorities closed a mall about a half-mile from the rally, which police estimated up to 20,000 people attended. The 37-year-old Erving is retiring after 11 NBA seasons with the Philadelphia 76ers.

Rev. Jackson knocks baseball hiring

NEW YORK (AP) — Rev. Jesse Jackson met with Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth yesterday, then called on the sport's owners to do away with minority hiring policies that they know "are immoral and unjust."

Jackson characterized his session with Ueberroth, which lasted for nearly two hours, as a "planning meeting and not a confrontation."

He said he would meet again with Ueberroth and hoped to meet commissioners David Stern of the NBA and Pete Rozelle of the NFL to form an affirmative action committee that would "include all levels of leadership" in sports as well as the community.

"We have to work out a plan for change, and that change should begin this year," the civil rights leader said.
