Twins

Newman, catchers Tom Nieto and Sal Butera, designated hitter Don Baylor and outfielder Dan Gladden. His most significant deal was made Feb. 3 when he got reliever Jeff Reardon.

"Reardon made us instant contenders," MacPhail said. "This club was beaten psychologically last year when so many leads were blown in the late innings. Reardon saved 31 games and, more importantly, gave this team confidence.

Playing in the weakest division in the majors, the Twins were never more than five games out of first place. A seven-game winning streak from June 6-12 put the Twins in first and they were never more than percentage points out again.

On Aug. 30, Puckett, the stumpy center fielder who sparked the Twins all year, went 6-for-6 with two homers and four RBI - capping a two-game spree in which he was 10-for-11 with four homers and six RBI -and the Twins were alone in first for good.

Although the Twins will be remembered as baseball's best home club, the games in which they won both the AL West and the AL pennant were played on the road.

"Whenever this team had to play what we felt was a must-win game, at home or on the road, this club performed well," Roy Smalley said.

The top performers included:

• Puckett, who batted .332 with 28 homers and 99 RBI and made several homer-robbing catches. His 4for-4, four-run effort helped the Twins rally from a 5-2 deficit in Game 6 of the World Series.

• Gaetti, who batted .257 with 31 homers and 109 RBI and established himself as perhaps the best defensive third baseman in baseball. He batted .300 with two homers and five RBI in the playoffs.

• Hrbek, the first baseman who batted .285 with 34 homers and 90 RBI. He hit a grand slam in World Series Game 6 that just about took the roof off the Metrodome • Brunansky, the right fielder who batted .259 with 32 homers and 85 RBI. He batted .412 with two homers and nine RBI in the playoffs.

• Viola, the left-hander who was 17-10 with a 2.90 ERA and won three postseason games.

 Gagne, who had a 47-game errorless string at shortstop and drove in the Series-winning run.

• Gladden, who stole 25 bases and provided the Twins with the leadoff batter they had been seeking. He hit safely in all seven Series games, driving in five runs in Game 1.

• Reardon, a factor in almost every big game.

• Bert Blyleven, the 36-year-old right-hander who was 15-12 and then won three postseason contests. including the playoff clincher.

It's said that to the victors go the spoils. What kind of spoils can the Twins expect in the coming months?

"A few players on this team will get national notoriety that they would have never gotten otherwise because we play in Minnesota," Smalley said.

They will also get richer. Gaetti can declare free agency. Viola, Puckett and Gagne can go to arbitration.

"Let's not get into that," Pohlad said from the jubilant dressing room Sunday night.

Not surprisingly, the Twins have picked up the option on Blyleven and Reardon for next year. For other Twins – like Smalley, Baylor, Niekro and Carlton – the future is uncertain.

Baylor, the 38-year-old late-season pickup who hit a game-tying homer in Game 6 of the World Series, wants to return.

World Series MVP Frank Viola delivers to the plate in Game 7.

Oilers to remain in Houston

By MICHAEL L. GRACZYK Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON - Houston Oilers owner Bud Adams spurned a lucrative offer from Jacksonville, Fla., and ended months of speculation and negotiations yesterday by announcing he will keep his NFL team in Houston.

"This is my home," Adams said yesterday. "I've been here 41 years. I could have gone to Jacksonville for a lot more money.

Jacksonville, starving for a professional football team, assembled a package that could have brought Adams more than $125 million over 10 years. Adams and his family toured the Florida city several weeks ago for a red-carpet visit that rivaled treatment given to a head of state.

But Adams said he was swayed after a Houston proposal that calls for construction of 72 luxury boxes at the Houston Astrodome.

The new 10-year deal to remain in Houston, where the Oilers have played since 1960, hinges on sale of 75 percent — or 54 — of the boxes by Dec. 15, according to a letter of intent signed by Adams.

teams in the Great Lakes area trying to put together a good soccer pro-gram," Bahr said. "In that area out there it was Indiana, Cleveland, Akron, St. Louis. Now there are a few others that are starting to emerge, which indicates they're putting a lot of time, money and effort into their soccer program.

"Ohio State just hired a new coach last year, and is committed to improving their program," Bahr continued, "and their record so far this year indicates that they are playing well."

The Buckeyes bring an 11-5-2 record, which includes a 2-1 loss to Louisville Sunday, to Happy Valley. Todd Young and Pierre Bigby lead the OSU offense with eight goals each. Young is the Buckeyes' top scorer with 20 points.

Bahr said that although his squad didn't get a win out of Friday s contest, he found another bright spot in the play of a certain freshman midfielder.

"One of the highlights to me was Danny Gil, our outside right," he said. "... He chased a player from his own outside right position to the opposite side of the field and all the way down to the opposite corner and finally put some pressure on him.

coach I'm happy to see things like around the goal mouth.

that. It means they're doing things the way we'd like them to.'

One player who's been doing things right all season is defenseman Paul Moylan, the Lions' leading scorer with 10 goals and three assists. Bahr said the efforts of Moylan are an added bonus to the team's offense.

"We're not concerned with Paul scoring goals, that's a plus," the coach said. "Paul's goals have to be put in the proper perspective. A number of them were penalty kicks. He has a great penalty kick and he has a great ball for free kicks.

"We still don't look at him as our main offensive threat," he added. '(Forward) Jan (Skorpen) makes things happen, so does (midfielder) Danny Kelly. (Forward) Kamel Hadaad does things up front. and these are our main offensive people, and Paul's a bonus.

Skorpen follows Moylan in the scoring drive with six goals and two assists. Bahr, however, says Skorpen's contributions go beyond statistics

"Jan has been unlucky on a number of occassions," Bahr said. "He deserves special credit. Last year he scored a bundle of goals. This year he's not scoring them, but he's worked harder and done more for us "It's just a little thing, but as a this year, especially with his activity
