

Phils' Bedrosian, Samuel make Associated Press All-Star team

By RONALD BLUM
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — New York Yankees first baseman Don Mattingly is the first player voted to The Associated Press major-league All-Star team for four consecutive years, while San Diego catcher Benito Santiago is the first-ever rookie and one of eight first-time selections.

Other first-time winners announced yesterday were Wade Boggs of the Red Sox at third base, Juan Samuel of the Phillies at second, George Bell of the Blue Jays in left, Jimmy Key of the Blue Jays as left-handed pitcher, Steve Bedrosian of the Phillies as relief pitcher, Paul Molitor of the Brewers as designated hitter, and Alan Trammell of the Tigers at shortstop.

Two other players repeated from 1986 — Kirby Puckett of the World Series champion Twins in center field and Roger Clemens of the Red Sox as right-handed pitcher.

Andre Dawson of the Chicago Cubs, last an AP All-Star in 1983, was named right fielder.

Clemens' victory margin was the largest on the team, which was selected by print and broadcast members of The Associated Press. He beat Nolan Ryan of the Astros 167-12.

Molitor, a career .291 hitter going into the season, batted .353, hit 16 homers and drove in 75 runs despite spending seven weeks on the disabled list. He had a 39-game hitting streak from July 16 to Aug. 25, the fifth-longest hitting streak this century.

"I'm somewhat surprised because I didn't DH for more than fifty or sixty games this season," Molitor said. "It's caught me off guard."

Hamstring problems forced him on the disabled list from April 30 to May 26 and from June 27 until the day the hitting streak began. He beat Larry Parrish 132-25 in the voting.

"I think the streak helped bring attention to my season," Molitor said. "I do have maybe a greater appreciation for it now. You look back at the fortieth game and wish somehow, some way. But that was the way it was meant to be."

Santiago, the San Diego Padres catcher, beat out another rookie, Matt Nokes of the Detroit Tigers, 102-63. He was regarded as one of the better rookies coming into the season and his 34-game hitting streak from Aug. 25 to Oct. 2, ensured the recognition.

Santiago was in Puerto Rico yesterday and the Padres could not locate him to tell him the news.

"Eventually we thought he would be this way," Padres General Manager Jack McKeon said of Santiago's season. "The way he played this year he was certainly deserving of the award. I think we had a little idea when we traded a veteran catcher, Terry Kennedy, last year."

Santiago hit .300 with 18 home runs and 79 runs batted in.

"He got more disciplined at the plate," McKeon said. "At first he was a wild swinger. He was capable of making adjustments."

Boggs, who beat out Montreal's Tim Wallach 117-44, led the AL in 1987 with a .363 average, tripled his career high with 24 home runs and had 98 RBI, 20 more than his previous best.

He joined Charlie Gehringer, Chuck Klein, Al Simmons and Willie Keeler as the only players to get 200 or more hits in five straight seasons.

8 more file for free agency

By RONALD BLUM
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — Paul Molitor, who finished second in the American League in batting and had the fifth-longest hitting streak this century, was one of eight players filing for free agency yesterday, increasing the total to 24.

Chili Davis of the San Francisco Giants, Larry Herndon of the Detroit Tigers and Glenn Hubbard of the Atlanta Braves were among the other players to file. The last day for players to declare themselves is Nov. 9.

Also filing were Garth Iorg of the Toronto Blue Jays, Joe Sambito of the Boston Red Sox, Thad Bosley of the Kansas City Royals and Chris Bando of the Cleveland Indians.

"Unless something very surprising develops, I suspect I'll be back in a Brewer uniform next year," Molitor said. "I think in my case filing is more of a formality."

Ron Simon, Molitor's agent, met in St. Louis last week with Milwaukee General Manager Harry Dalton and owner Bud Selig.

"I think we're maybe looking for a four-year contract," Simon said.

"At his point, we're going to focus on working out a deal with Milwaukee."

Molitor made $1.26 million last season in the final year of a five-year deal after earning $1.16 million in 1986.

He batted .353 and hit 16 home runs with 75 runs batted in despite missing seven weeks with pulled hamstrings.

Molitor started a 39-game hitting streak the day he came off the disabled list for the second time. It was the longest streak in the major leagues since Pete Rose hit in 44 straight in 1978.

Davis hit .250 this season with 24 home runs and 76 RBI. His average has dropped from 1984, when he hit .315 with 81 RBI, but his 24 homers were a career high. He made $815,000 in 1987.

Herndon, one of eight Tigers eligible for free agency, signed a $225,000 contract with the Tigers last fall after becoming a free agent, taking a $400,000 pay cut. He batted .324 with nine homers and 47 RBI in 225 at-bats.

Hubbard batted .264 this season with five homers and 38 RBI. He made $525,000.

Bando, who earned $305,000, batted .218 with five homers and 16 RBI in 211 at-bats. Bolsey made $457,500 and batted 140 times with one homer, 16 RBI and a .279 average.

Iorg had the worst season of his major-league career, batting .210 with four home runs and 30 RBI. He earned $362,500.

Sambito, a free agent last year who re-signed with the Red Sox for $360,000, was 2-6 with a 6.93 earned-run average and no saves in 47 relief appearances. Another Boston pitcher, Steve Crawford, filed for free agency on Wednesday.

Asked if the Red Sox would resign them, General Manager Lou Gorman said yesterday "I don't think we will."

"I think they got the indication that we will make changes in the bullpen," Gorman said.

Crawford had surgery on his elbow Sept. 28 after a 5-4 season with a 5.33 ERA.

"I was actually taken aback a great deal by Crawford deciding for free agency coming off an operation like that," Gorman said.

Molitor and Dave Righetti are the two stars who have filed so far.

7 ways to housebreak a burglar.

Remember, the average burglar will break into a house only when the going looks easy. Here are 7 effective ways to discourage him.

1. Install deadbolt locks on all exterior doors.
2. Make certain all windows and patio and garage doors are securely locked.
3. Buy an inexpensive timer to turn on your lights and radio when you're out for an evening.
4. When you go on vacation, ask neighbors to keep an eye on things. Have deliveries stopped, mail picked up, and keep your grass cut. The point is, make your house look occupied.
5. Keep your lawn tractor and bikes locked up when they're not in use.
6. There is no place you can think of to hide a key that a smart burglar hasn't thought of first.
7. Never leave notes to delivery men indicating that nobody is home.
