Iraqi army bombards northern Kurdish rebels

By G.G. LaBELL
Associated Press Writer

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Kurdish rebels said yesterday the Iraqi army was using virtually every weapon it has — helicopters, bombs, rockets, tanks and artillery — to try to break the back of the rebellion in northern Iraq.

Spokesmen for Shiite Muslims also fighting to topple President Saddam Hussein maintain their fighters are holding off a three-pronged assault by Iraqi troops on the southern cities of Basra, Karbala and Tannuma.

Iraq's government-controlled newspapers claimed the army crushed the revolt in the south despite attacks from Shiite rebels that had left cities in ruins. Kuwait's Crown Prince disputed that, saying Iraqi resistance was winning in the north as well as in southern Iraq near Iran.

Officials of the Shiite and Kurdish rebel groups in Damascus and London charged Iraqi forces were using napalm and phosphorus bombs to try to put down the twin revolts against Saddam. None of the claims could be independently verified.

However, refugees fleeing Basra told reporters with U.S. troops in southern Iraq that rebels still held parts of the city and were being pounded by Iraqi artillery.

Other sources reported:

- About 5,000 bodies littered the streets of Basra, Iraq's second-largest city after Baghdad; Dogs were seen eating bodies;

- Food shortages in Iraq were critical, and a 2-month-old Iraqi brought dead to a U.S. Army checkpoint last weekend was a victim of malnutrition; and

- People had taken to eating animal feed mixed with sea water to live.

Sources also reported huge — but unconfirmed — casualty tolls in the war. Tehran radio, monitored by the BBC in London, said 12,000 to 16,000 people were reported killed on the highway between the Shiite holy cities of Najaf and Karbala in the Iraqi south. It gave no source for the figure.

In Washington, State Department deputy spokesman Richard Boucher said there was heavy fighting between Iraqi forces and Kurdish dissidents in northern Iraq.

He said the dissidents "now appear to be in control of large portions of predominantly Kurdish areas of northern and northeastern Iraq."

Fighting is also continuing in the south along the lower Tigris and Euphrates rivers and in the vicinity of Shia holy cities, he said, adding there had been damage to holy shrines.

In Kuwait City, Crown Prince Saad Abdullah al-Sabah told U.S. congressmen the Iraqi resistance has the upper hand in northern Iraq and in southern Iraq along Iran's border.

The army newspaper Al-Qadissiyyah reported yesterday that anti-government riots had been crushed in southern Najaf, Karbala, Hilla, Amarra and in Dhi Qar province.

Broom thwarts burglar

ALTOONA (AP) — The owner of a convenience store used a broom handle to clobber a youth he caught crawling through a broken window into his store early yesterday.

Richard Dickinson, owner of the Corner Cupboard convenience store in Altoona, said he was on his way home about 3:15 a.m. when he walked by his store and noticed one of two glass doors had been smashed with a cinder block.

Nothing had been taken, but Dickinson, whose store was burglarized in a similar manner on March 8, was taking no chances. He curled up in a sleeping bag near the entrance to ensure no one entered the store.

Police found a utility knife in the youth's pocket.

Bush demands Iraq pay for war damage

By TERENCE HUNT
AP White House Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Bush yesterday demanded that Iraq pay war reparations for its "environmental terrorism" and said he wanted to cut arms sales to the Middle East. Yet, the administration also announced new steps to underwrite sales of military goods.

Bush, just back from postwar talks with leaders of Britain, France and Canada, compared notes with Secretary of State James A. Baker III, who returned Sunday from a trip to the Middle East and Moscow.

The president said he wanted to build on a feeling of good will in the aftermath of the war against Iraq to calm the turmoil in Lebanon, reconcile Arab-Israeli differences and find a solution for the Palestinian problem.

He cautioned, "I don't think the American people ought to think that you can wave a wand and solve all three of these very difficult problems at once." However, he added, "I think the longer one waits to take any initiatives, the danger is things revert back to a status quo. And I think that will be unacceptable."

The United States and its allies in the Gulf War are holding talks at the United Nations this week on conditions for a permanent cease-fire.

"Broadly speaking, people know what is required," Bush said. "I would like to see us reduce the flow of weapons into the area. . . . Iraq must pay reparations or pay damages. The more one looks at the environmental terrorism that they embraced . . . the more the world understands that they have got to do something about that."

He said Iraq is a wealthy nation that spent its money on weapons and aggression. "Now we've got to see that they use their resources for helping their own people."

Bush is expected to visit the Middle East soon, but he said no dates have been set. Administration officials say the trip is unlikely before the end of the Muslim holy month of Ramadan, which ends April 17.
