Local woman's condition upgraded after assault

The condition of a Ferguson Township woman assaulted in her home Friday has been upgraded to satisfactory, a Geisinger Medical Center spokeswoman said yesterday.

Ferguson Township Police Chief Edward Connor said the investigation into the assault of Laura Schneider is continuing. It has been determined that there was no forcible entry into the house.

Forensic experts are being brought in to examine the evidence already collected and give their opinion about the case, Connor said.

"This is the slow part of the investigation," he said.
