Cause determined in woman's death

A woman found dead Feb. 21 in a local hotel room died of an acute drug overdose, according to a news release from Centre County Coroner Kerry Benninghoff. Elevated levels of morphine and significantly elevated levels of cocaine combined to kill Rhonda Aughey, 23, of 333 Logan Ave., according to the release. The suppressant Benzodiazepine was also found in her system. Although levels of the drug are yet known, the suppressant would intensify the lethal effect of the other drugs, according to the release. No medical conditions, injuries or alcohol levels were found that would have contributed to her death, according to the release.

The other occupant of the room, Amin Robinson, 21, of 836 Bellaire Ave., was bound over for trial on various charges of possession and possession with intent to deliver. Under the drug delivery resulting in death law, Robinson could be tried for third-degree murder if the drugs he possessed contributed to her death. Centre County District Attorney Ray Gricar said he has not decided if Robinson will be charged in connection with Aughey's death. Although Gricar said he met with detectives Friday, he would not estimate when a decision would be reached but said it should be soon. —by Anne Savanick

Late night fire kills one, causes retirement complex evacuation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An 81-year-old woman died, three people were treated for smoke inhalation and 182 residents were evacuated following an overnight fire at a retirement complex. About 25 volunteers with the American Red Cross of Southeastern Pennsylvania were on the scene yesterday helping feed, clothe and accommodate the elderly residents who had been evacuated from apartments overnight Saturday. Red Cross spokesman Matt Fischrom said it was the agency's biggest sheltering operation in the city in more than a year. The three-alarm blaze at the Mount Airy Commons retirement complex was discovered just after 11 p.m. Saturday in a third-floor bedroom of an apartment building.
