

Schiano talks football in return to Happy Valley

By Brendan Monahan

Rutgers football coach Greg Schiano hears the rumors about Big Ten expansion, but he says the topic is not his concern.

"I'm going to leave that one up to our administration," said Schiano, a former Penn State assistant from '91 to '95. "I'm going to go where they tell me." The coach addressed the issue Sunday at the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholar Athlete Awards Banquet, which took place at The Penn Stater Conference Center Hotel.

Along with expansion talk, Schiano was also the featured speaker at the event, highlighting high school and collegiate athletes from central Pennsylvania for academics, athletics and community service. The banquet recognized around 40 student athletes and awarded scholarships to several of them.

As he stood at the podium and addressed the crowd, Schiano, dressed in a black suit and red tie, stepped back and swung his arms down as if he wielded an axe. The Scarlet Knights' coach re-enacted the story used to motivate his players at a time when his football team was on the brink of losing confidence in turning the program around — where little-by-little and chop-by-chop improvements would be made.

Former Penn State punter Jeremy Boone was one of those recognized at the banquet and receptive to Schiano's speech. For Boone, being recognized by the National Football Foundation didn't seal his football legacy but was an opportunity to celebrate his career with family and coaches.

"It adds to it," Boone said. "I wouldn't have changed the last five years of my college career with the friends, with the family I've made here."

Schiano used his own perseverance to make it to Happy Valley — beginning practice Saturday, driving to State College, then needing to return for Monday's practice. "He's got some Joe Paterno in him," Ganter said.

"I enjoyed it, and it really was a big sacrifice for him to come here."

Schiano, who recruits central Pennsylvania, believed in the National Football Foundation's mission for protecting the game of football, which, along with recruiting, was why he made the trip.

"If you're not careful, you ignore it, it's going to go away," Schiano said.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, March 29, 2010: This year, you frequently see situations as either-or. You are very creative and dynamic; others are clearly drawn to you. You learn that often both sides of an issue are relevant, and discover ways of accepting both possibilities. Your work and relationships with higher-ups and the community transform. Avoid power plays at any cost. If you are single, quite a few suitors might desire you, but which one is right for you? Enjoy the process of finding out. If you are attached, the two of you need to give up having situations a certain way. Remember to defer to your significant other more often. LIBRA can be challenging.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)  You could be dealing with a difficult person. You can try to energize this person, but your impact will be negligible. Pressure builds around work and a boss. Know when to back off. Tonight: Let others vent.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)  If you feel that you have more than your fair share on your plate, you are right. Take breaks, relax and know what you want. Consider taking a class to brush up on a skill, or going back to school in your chosen field. Tonight: Know when to vanish.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)  Where others hit a logjam, you discover another route. Your creativity marks the next few days. You could feel pressured by someone's expectations.

Let go and allow others to be themselves. Tonight: Let your imagination rock and roll.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)  You are coming from a place of security when making decisions. Key people are pushing you in another direction. Let a partnership evolve and become closer. Don't play into a control game. Tonight: Happy at home.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)  Keep discussions flowing. How you express dissatisfaction could change with time and thought. You could surprise someone with how vocal you can be. Try to detach some and understand your responses. Tonight: Catch up on a friend's news.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)  Be sensitive to your needs and your limitations. Though someone might cheer you on, the path you are considering might not be the best. Creativity bubbles up from out of nowhere and could encourage risk-taking, like it or not. Tonight: Walk a conservative path.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)  Know that you are on a high cycle and probably hard to stop. Nevertheless, others could toss a boomerang or two in your path. You'll skip right over, though you might want to make a note to rethink a certain personal situation. Tonight: Only what you want.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)  If you feel a bit out of sorts, back off or take your leave. You might need time to come up with a better idea or a better way to communicate what is on your mind. Tap into your intuition when dealing with a boss. Tonight: A must appearance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

 Use a meeting to maximize your ability to create success and to encourage others' support. Don't completely shoulder a risk. Say "no." Juggle different concerns. Tonight: Whatever puts a smile on your face.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)  You could be seeing a situation differently from many people. You might be looking at a change in how you project yourself, especially if you are hitting a wall in your path. Take charge. Others naturally look up to you. Tonight: Don't forget a family member!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)  Keep the big picture in mind. You are able to make it past a problem because of your total perspective. A partner or associate could be lobbying for more of your time. A discussion might help, but you need to take action. Tonight: Let your mind wander.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)  Your ability to relate openly is tested. You might wonder what is happening with a business or financial agreement. You might be in the process of re-evaluating your decisions and course of action. Put 100 percent into a project. Tonight: Listen to a friend or loved one's suggestion.
