

The BOLD and the Beautiful

Last week's hot weather left most of us wondering if it was actually the first week of fall. But that didn't stop students from going out in their fashionable outfits last Friday.

Aida Mekonnen (sophomore-economics) was shopping in the Penn State University Bookstore at the HUB-Robeson Center when I spotted her Jay-Z concert T-shirt with a vest, jeans and flip-flops.

Mekonnen said she bought the shirt at the Jay-Z concert last year at the Bryce Jordan Center. The T-shirt had the image from his current album, "The Blueprint 3." Not only is the album awesome, but so is her shirt.

Her vest from Uniqlo was a strong addition to her outfit to make it interesting. Concert T-shirts are cool to begin with since they can be conversation starters, but the smallest accessory or clothing item paired with the shirt can make a person stand out so much more.

The vest did just that by bringing out the red and gray in the Jay-Z T-shirt and her dark blue Gap jeans were very trendy.

The red Old Navy flip-flops were a perfect fit to the outfit since they matched the red designs in her T-shirt.

This outfit is perfect for going to class and then meeting some friends later for some fun to end a somewhat stressful week for upcoming midterms and exams.
