

Swimming and diving teams open seasons

By Mike Still
COLLEGIAN STAFF WRITER

For Amy Modglin, there's nothing like racing in a dual-meet for Penn State.

Both the men's and women's swimming and diving teams opened their 2010-2011 schedules this past Saturday, traveling to West Virginia for dual-meets against the Mountaineers.

After a long summer season, Modglin and the Nittany Lions were happy to be back in the pool donning the blue and white.

"It felt great just to race again and do the cheesy stuff, all the cheers and dressing the same," Modglin said. "I love the atmosphere of dual meets, so it was nice to be back in that atmosphere."

In the women's meet, the Lions cruised to a 174-67 victory, with eight individual first-place finishes.

Modglin, an Honorable Mention All-American in the 200-backstroke last season, led the way, taking first place in both the 400-IM and 200-backstroke.

The sophomore also teamed up with Merritt Krawczyk, Alex Young and Hailey Campbell to win the 400-medley relay with a time of 3:48.14.

Carrying just six seniors on the roster this season, the older Lions were happy to see production out of their younger teammates.

"I was a little bit nervous just because we have a whole new squad and we lost some really good seniors," said sophomore Paige Whitmore, who finished first in the 50-freestyle. "But the freshmen really stepped up and it was a lot of fun to get back to racing and not doing a million practice runs."

While the women's team coasted to victory, the men's squad came up just short on Saturday, dropping a 125-116 decision to the Mountaineers.

In the 400-freestyle relay, the final event of the meet, West Virginia finished just over two seconds ahead of the Lions' fastest foursome to seal the win.

Junior Brian Alden turned in Penn State's most impressive performance, finishing first in both the 100- and 200-freestyle.

After seeing his team narrowly miss out on its first victory, Alden feels the Lions can only improve from here.

"We showed a lot of room for improvement," Alden said. "We do a lot of stuff wrong, and it sounds like a bad thing, but if you look at it through a positive lens, we have a lot of room to improve."

The Lions finished with five first-place finishes, and swept the top three spots in the 400-IM, with junior Scott Marino, senior James Capparell and freshman Chris Cipolla taking first through third respectively.

In the diving pool, freshman Jordan Harris took second in both the 1- and 3-meter events in his debut for the Lions.

With one meet under their belts, both teams are excited to get their respective seasons underway.

"I think we're all working toward a common goal," Modglin said.

"We have a really talented group of girls and guys, and I just think it shows we have a really bright future ahead of us as a team."

Men's volleyball announces roster, captains for 2011

By Emily Kaplan
COLLEGIAN STAFF WRITER

One week before its first pre-season scrimmage, the Penn State men's volleyball team announced its captains and finalized its roster for the 2011 season.

Redshirt junior Edgardo Goas and senior Alan Mars were elected as this year's captains, chosen by a team vote.

Meanwhile four players — junior Mark Shipp and seniors Brad McCoy, Thomas Pereira and Jesse Wagner — are no longer on the team, coach Mark Pavlik confirmed.

The Nittany Lions, who made it to the national championship match last season, have 16 players on this year's squad, including five freshmen.

The NCAA maximum roster size for men's volleyball is 17.

"It was an extremely difficult decision for us to make this year, we had such a high level of talent in the gym," Pavlik said. "But every year you look at the makeup of your team and the versatility that you have and the understanding that your position on the team is not like a hand-me-down sweater. Every year you have to earn it."

Pavlik said he often tells recruits when they come to Happy Valley that the beauty of coming to Penn State is that a player has the opportunity to play with some of the best players in the country. The downside, though, is that some of those players play their position.

Pavlik said now that the roster is finalized, he's starting to look forward to the upcoming season. The Lions will host Juniata at Rec Hall on Saturday in an informal scrimmage to kick off preseason play.

The coach said he likes what he's seen in the practice gym so far, and thinks this year's team has a lot of potential.

"And that will begin with the captains," Pavlik said. "Edgardo's the guy with the personality that everyone likes to be around, and Alan's the guy that's not afraid to tell people, 'Hey, this is the direction we have to go. We need to get the job done.' They have great leadership qualities, and if the guys listen to those two throughout the year, it will be a big advantage for them."

Goas, the Lions' starting setter for the last two seasons, is ready for the challenge.

"I'm honored the team named me and Alan as captains and saw us as leaders," Goas said. "I'm excited because we have a lot of young guys, and a lot of good talent. I can't wait to lead them to a national championship this year."
