ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.
Perfection to Which the Mechanical Arm Has Been Brought.

They are making artificial limbs with such perfection today that a technical observer who is also an enthusiastic baseball "fan" declares that he would not be surprised to see in the not far distant future some wooden armed pitcher making a good record. What is known as "glass arm" would be effectively superseded by "wooden arm."

Though this is a daring leap of the imagination, which, however, need not worry the perfectly good armed pitchers of the big leagues, still some of the things that can be done with artificial arms are simply amazing. Here you see a man lighting a cigar and with a naturalness of action and pose which would deceive the casual observer.

The mechanism is controlled by certain motions of the stump of the flesh and blood arm, and no little knack is necessary to the successful working of the artificial member, and yet withal it is not very difficult to acquire.

It is said that the man who is lighting his big cigar can pick a pin from the floor without difficulty, but it is not on record that he can give the "pop" to a ball so that it will speed by the batter like a projectile from a high powered gun. As a matter of fact, he is thoroughly satisfied with the many very necessary things that can be done with the mechanical arm without venturing afar into the luxuries and excitement of outdoor sport.—Buffalo News.

WOMEN OF EUROPE.
An Italian Critic Says Those of Spain Are the Most Beautiful.

A celebrated Italian writer of Florence has been favoring the world with his opinion of some of the women of Europe. He considers only four nations, and of these he selects Spain as most worthy of the crown for feminine beauty. He says:

"The Spanish woman is bewitchingly beautiful. She has small hands and feet and large eyes like the open windows of a sunburnt marble palace, a figure full of grace and life and long, dark, wavy hair. She is very religious, very ignorant, very jealous, very sensitive and very proud."

Of the British woman he says: "Her hair is like gold. She has heavenly eyes, a peachlike complexion, a delicately formed nose and good teeth. She is reserved, very active and generally a slave to etiquette."

As to the Frenchwoman he is less complimentary. It is thus that he describes her: "She is a cat and a serpent, a palm and a violet, and when she is not pretty she is charming. She is amiable, a dreadful coquette and generally false."

His summary of the Russian woman is that she is "of an oriental type which had been prematurely transported into Europe. In her are combined the extraordinary charms of a savage and the civilized woman."—Pearson's.

WILL SEARCH ARCTIC FOR CREW OF KARLUK.
Steam Trader Belvedere Makes Dash For Polar Regions.

Making a daring dash on a bare chance that eight men of the ill fated Stefansson exploring steamship Karluk, last seen by rescued companions on ice packs in the arctic, are still alive, the steam trader Belvedere left Seattle to push into the heart of the arctic to Herald Island.

This island is believed to be the only possible refuge for the party, that has not been seen or heard from since the loss of the Karluk, a year ago last January.

The Belvedere is in command of Captain A. P. Jochimsen, master of the famous schooner King and Wing on her memorable dash to Wrangel Island last year. Upon the story of the eleven survivors found on Wrangel Island is based the faint hope that some of the eight missing may still be alive.

With the Karluk crushed between grinding bergs nothing was left for her crew but to strike out over the solid ice for land. Led by Captain Bartlett, one group reached Wrangel Island, and Bartlett accomplished the almost superhuman feat of "mushing" from there to the Siberian coast with directions that later brought rescue for those remaining behind.

The Belvedere will head from Seattle for Petropavlovsk.

She will carry a crew of seventeen men. At Petropavlovsk a crew of about twenty-two Eskimo hunters will be shipped. Then the famous old ship will push on up the Siberian coast.

Pure Bred Arab Horses.
In Cairo there is a society for preserving the pure bred Arab horse. It is said that recent changes in the lives and habits of the Bedouins have resulted in the deterioration of these horses. A practical horseman of wide experience says that as a rule the Arab horse is now no better treated than our own horses, whatever may have been true of the old days when such poems as "The Arab to His Steed" were written.
