27 MORE BODIES FOUND

Report That Vanderbilt Corpse Is Located Not Confirmed.

London, May 1.—Late dispatches from Queenstown report that twenty-one additional bodies were brought here and six others are reported at Skull on Cape Clear.

The body of Alfred G. Vanderbilt is not among those found so far as can be learned. While rumors are persistent that it was washed ashore representatives of his family have been unable to locate it, although they have an army of men and a fleet of boats engaged in the search.

Among the last to be found was the body of Senor F. A. Padilla, Mexican consul general at Liverpool.

Among the bodies of the women was one who carried in the pocket of her skirt the name "K. Hickson" and it is undoubtedly that of Miss Kathryn Hickson of the firm of Hickson & Co. of New York. In the pocket of a man was found the name of James Harrison and in another A. P. Norris, Mr. Harrison came from Bridgeport, Conn.

Every effort is being made now to find all bodies. Not only are the tugs Flying Fox and Storm Cock cruising about the scene, but patrol boats as well as coast guard boats are constantly employed.

WORLD COURT PROPOSED

Peace Congress Begins Its Deliberations In Cleveland.

Cleveland, May 13.—A league of peace, comprising the great powers of the world, with a world court for adjudication of international disputes and a conciliation commission for non-justifiable differences, is the herculean labor to be done by the world court congress which began its deliberations here.

Foremost among the speakers are former President Taft, John Hays Hammond, chairman of the congress; former Judge Alton B. Parker and Bainbridge Colby of New York.

Noted statesmen, diplomats, financiers and scholars are here to voice their ideas toward the creation of the world court, the single aim of the congress. About 1,000 delegates, most of them from Cleveland, are here.

Former President Taft said: "A movement like this loses force by making claims of what it will accomplish. We are trying to be practical."

FLEET WON'T GO TO PACIFIC

Administration Decides to Keep Ships In Eastern Waters.

Washington, May 13.—As a result of the pending international crisis it has been decided by the administration that the battleship fleet shall be held in eastern waters instead of being sent through the canal to the Pacific as planned. While there is no official authority for the statement it is believed a decision to this effect was reached at the cabinet meeting.

Aside from the decision that the fleet shall be continued in Atlantic waters there is no evidence at either the navy or war departments that this government apprehends trouble with any foreign power.

The review of the fleet at New York will be held as planned after which, unless there is a change of program, the warships will proceed to northern waters for the war games.

The Only Chance. "Hurry, George, or we will be late to the picture show."

"Oh, we don't want to get there before it starts."

"Yes, we do, too—if we don't I can't see what the other women are wearing."—Exchange.

Wonderful Earthworms.
As Darwin long ago showed, the earthworm is the farmer's friend. Its burrows drain and aerate the soil, while the earth which has passed through its body is finely divided and is constantly being brought to the surface from lower levels. Its body is adapted to the burrowing habit. The pointed head end is devoid of feelers and eyes, and the foot stumps are only represented by rows of bristles, which can be felt if the finger be passed along the body from back to front. There are no jaws, but the muscular part of the digestive tube acts as a kind of pump for taking in food. This includes plants and animals. It has a small gizzard, which contains many stones, and these are used instead of teeth to grind the food.—Chicago Herald.

A Lesson In Politeness.
Armed with a subpoena a deputy sheriff went out to serve it on a wealthy and extremely snobbish manufacturer, whom he met at the gate of the manufacturer's country home. The great man was in an automobile, accompanied by two ladies, and as the process server handed over the papers he politely raised his hat. The other assumed a democratic manner. "You don't need to take off your hat to me, young man," he said. "I took off my hat not to you, sir," was the answer. "but to the ladies with you."—Argonaut.

Prof. Cogswell to Leave Indiana Soon

Will Take Up New Duties as Superintendent of Music in Washington, D. C. Schools

The principal topic of conversation about town for the past few days has been in regard to Prof. H. E. Cogswell and family severing their connection with the Indiana Conservatory of Music, and leaving for Washington, D. C., where he has accepted the position of musical director of the Capital City's schools where he will have charge of the entire work, having under him a corps of 14 supervisors. Mrs. Cogswell will accompany her husband and Miss Cogswell will shortly become the bride of Mr. Clarence Wendell Otis, of Terre Haute, Ind.

It is doubtful if any town the size of Indiana in the whole country can boast of more or better first class musicians than this, and it is due wholly to Prof. Cogswell that this is so. Through his efforts the Indiana Military Band and the Symphony Orchestra were organized, and as director of these organizations he will be more than missed. He is a man who instills confidence into every man with whom he comes in contact and to this is due his great success in music. Whatever he starts he is never satisfied until he has brought that one thing to a satisfactory and successful culmination.

Mrs. Cogswell and Miss Edna Cogswell, also members of the faculty, have made a place for themselves that seems well nigh impossible to fill. Not only will they be missed in music and literary circles, but socially as well.

We hate to see them go, but are glad to know that Indiana has been one of the many progressive steps to their great and well deserved success.

Theatrical Manager Went Down With Liner

CHARLES FROHMAN.

Baseball Slang Beaten.
Baseball fans are slangy in their baseball talk. Their slang is picturesque and finely descriptive, but for real unadulterated slang you must give the trapshooters the palm. Listen to this from a well known gunner:
"Yes, sir, I toed the firing line, put the iron to my shoulder, drew a humdinger from the box and killed it. The second saucer was a lazy boy, flying straight away, but I went to sleep and the pigeon nested in the grass. The next mud pie sailed to left quarter, but the old pea shooter simply knocked the fuzzi off. The fourth dicky bird was smothered as soon as it was hatched. Then a cripple fluttered out and died. Next came a right wheeling streaker, and I pulverized it."

FIGHT RENEWED IN PORTUGAL

Warships Reported Bombarding Lisbon Again

HEAD OF REVOLT SHOT DOWN

Senator Freitas Puts Four Bullets In Body of Senhor Chagas, Head of New Cabinet—Former Officials of Republic Are Now Prisoners Aboard Warships—More Details of Early Rioting Received.

Paris, May 18.—A dispatch from Madrid says that fighting in Lisbon has begun again. With the renewal of fighting the warships resumed the bombardment of the city. It is said that more than 100 persons, many of them Spaniards, have been killed in this latest attack. The Spanish warships Espana and Rio de la Plata and a Spanish torpedo boat have arrived at Lisbon.

The same advices say that Senhor Joao Chagas, who had just assumed the post of head of the Portuguese ministry, was attacked by an assassin. Four shots are said to have taken effect. The shooting occurred on a train. Senator Freitas was the assailant.

Senhor Chagas was taken to a hospital, where it was announced that his condition was grave. In addition to other wounds he is suffering from a fracture of the skull. Senator Freitas was killed by grenades.

Besides the premiership, Senhor Chagas had accepted the portfolios of the interior and public instruction.

Additional details of the rioting in Lisbon are given in a Havas dispatch filed Friday evening but delayed in transmission.

When the cruiser Almirante Reis caught fire and began to sink the crew escaped to shore and sent an ultimatum to the government giving it until 11 o'clock that night to resign.

Senhor Cunha, former governor of Madeira, was killed by a shell which entered his house.

Jaime Castro was at the head of a division which marched on Lisbon to support the government troops.

Civilians went to the artillery museum and helped themselves to all kinds of weapons. The ministry buildings and those of the museum were badly damaged.

General Pimenta Castro, the prime minister, is a prisoner in the hands of the revolutionaries on board the warship Vasco de Gama. Admiral Brito, commandant of the arsenal, and Commandant Gounart Medeiros, ministers in Castro's cabinet, are prisoners on the cruiser Adamastor.

Admiral Brito is accused of having ordered the submarine Espadarte to sink the ships bombarding Lisbon.

ITALIANS AWAIT WORD

All Factions of Country Are Now United For War.

Rome, May 18.—News that the Salandra ministry is to be retained has swept over Italy and united all factions in a great cry for war. Reservists of the age of fifty-five have been called out.

A demonstration, such as Rome has not seen since the days of the revolution, began last evening and lasted throughout the night. Contrary to former practices there was no effort by the police or military to stop the popular enthusiasm and the crowds surged through the city acting very much as if war had been declared already.

The same thing has occurred throughout the country. The one call is for Salandra, the war advocate, and for his ministers. The fact that King Victor Emmanuel has at last accepted Premier Salandra is taken as proof that he has come at last to favor intervention and has given his consent to mobilization. Momentous events are expected momentarily. The king's life guards already have been supplied with campaign uniforms.

Practically a third of Rome's population, including all classes from nobleman to peasants and laborers, and even including priests, engaged in a wonderful demonstration. As the mobs crossed the principal streets they were showered with flowers from crowded windows and balconies. Linked with the Italian flags were the emblems of France, England and Belgium. The enthusiasm knew no bounds and along the entire line of march the men and women joined in singing national anthems interspersed with an almost continual shouting for "War, War, War!"

All troops were withdrawn from the streets and guards were left only at the German and Austrian embassies and consulates. The occasional soldiers sighted by the crowds were cheered and cheered again.
