SPAIN NOW BUYING WAR STORES HERE

Special Commission Is Making Contracts For Supplies.

ESTABLISHES VAST CREDITS

Leader Denies Spanish Nation Is to Join European Conflict, Give Aid to Huerta or Enter Mexican Troubles. "We Are Merely Making Ready," Says Colonel Balbil.

Spain is now said to be "on the verge of war." There is some mystery in the preparations being made. A special commission of the Spanish government has opened headquarters in New York for the purpose of buying 250,000,000 cartridges, several thousand war automobiles and a large flotilla of aeroplanes. The commission is also expected to order a number of submarines. They are to be of two tonnages, a large type for ocean cruisings and a smaller craft for the shallower waters of the Mediterranean. The Bank of Spain has established large deposits for the purchase of war supplies with the National City and First National banks. There are five Spanish commissioners—Colonel Manuel Rivero Balbil, Captain B. Sarda and Captain Louis Claros of the Spanish army and Commanders Fernando de Carranza and Julio Moreira of the Spanish navy. "We Are Only Preparing."

Colonel Balbil is president of the commission, which has headquarters in the Spanish consulate, 18 Broadway. Seen by a reporter, the colonel said: "Our country is not going to war, out we are preparing. We believe it is wise to be all ready in these days of trouble. The rest of Europe is on fire. We do not know how long or how far this war will go." "Is it true that Spain is preparing to protect the rights of the wealthy Spaniards driven out of Mexico and whose interests are said to be represented by General Huerta?" the newspaper man asked. "There is no truth in that story," replied Senor F. Xavier de Salas, the Spanish consul. "The Spaniards who settled in Mexico will have to look out for themselves."

Denies Aid For Huerta. Captain Louis Claros, who has been negotiating for large supplies for cartridges for Mauser rifles, was told of a report that the ammunition was intended to put Huerta back in power in Mexico. Captain Claros replied: "These cartridges are for Spain, not for Mexico. It is true that the Mexican rifle is of the same standard Mauser type, but don't let that fact misguide you. Although Huerta has been living in Spain and although many wealthy Spaniards were driven out of Mexico and have returned to Spain, we have nothing to do with Huerta or the Mexican Spaniards. The Spanish government is paying our bills. "The commission," Captain Claros added, "is greatly interested in automobiles, aeroplanes and submarines. We are now going over specifications submitted by several automobile manufacturers. A special expert on aviation is on his way from Madrid, and when he arrives we will take up the purchase of a large number of aeroplanes."

Wanted, a Carver. "You say your son belongs to a corn club?" "Yes; raised a fine crop last year." "That ain't the kind of corn expert I want to consult. I want to know what to do for the pesky things."—Pittsburgh Post.

Willing to Do That. "So your grocer refuses to give you credit for another thing?" "Not exactly; he says he'll give me credit for any cash I pay on account."—Boston Transcript.

Italian Monarch About to Lead Country In War

VICTOR EMMANUEL.

PUNISHED FOR WIVES.

Joffre Makes Soldiers at Front Responsible For Stolen Visits.

A habit developed by French wives of visiting their soldier husbands at the front, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung, has led General Joffre to prohibit such visits and warn the husbands of punishment for their wives' disregard of this order. In publishing the text of the order the Frankfurter Zeitung says that the perseverance of the wives in eluding the military guards is remarkable in that it is very difficult for any noncombatant to get to the French lines, even the official war correspondents being allowed to go there only for very brief periods. The paper cites the following order, published in the Temps, as issued by the commander of one infantry regiment:

"Every married man has the duty, as required by civil law, to strive for the obedience of his wife. Therefore every married soldier must be in a position to prevent his wife from visiting him. The worse for the married men if they have not sufficient authority over their wives to enforce the obedience demanded by the civil law. Therefore they are to be made responsible for the obedience of their wives. If in former times a married woman succeeded in getting into the army, inasmuch as it was not possible to throw her into prison, her husband was imprisoned instead, since he was made responsible for the poor military training of his wife. That method was not so foolish as it appears to be at first glance, and it will be applied again in such cases as occur."

BABY WEIGHS 15 OUNCES.

Girl Is Only Ten Inches Long—Fed With Medicine Dropper. The population of Lynn, Mass., has been increased in weight by fifteen ounces through the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Mower of No. 144 Williams street. Physicians declare that the child—the smallest ever born in the city—has more than an even chance to live. Her lungs are lustrous, and from her nest of cotton batting atop a radiator in the house she makes known her presence at every opportunity. The baby is only ten inches long and can be held with ease in the palm of a hand. She is fed with a medicine dropper.

Vicissitudes of Warsaw.

No city in Europe has known so many changes of masters as Warsaw. Founded about the year 850, it was capital of the independent dukedom of Mazovia until the fifteenth century, when it was annexed by Poland. In the seventeenth century its possession was contended for by Sweden, Russia, Austria and Brandenburg, until, in 1794 Russia practically annexed it. In 1795 the city was handed over to Prussia, but Napoleon occupied it in 1806, and at the peace of Tilsit Warsaw was proclaimed an independent duchy. In 1809 the Austrians seized the city, but lost it again, and after another brief spell of independence the city passed finally to Russia in 1813.—London Chronicle.
