CARRANZA DOES NOT LIKE MEDDLESOME ENVOYS

by American Press Association.

SENOR JUAN ORTEGIA

Senor Ortega was the Guatemalan minister in Mexico City until a few days ago, when General Carranza gave him peremptory orders to leave the country within twenty-four hours. He was accused of "meddling."

ANOTHER APPEAL TO MEXICO

Conferees in New York Agree Upon Form of Note.

New York, Aug. 12.—More details of the administration's plan to bring about peace in Mexico have been worked out. Secretary of State Lansing and the representatives of six Latin-American countries in conference in the Hotel Biltmore agreed upon the wording of an appeal to be sent to the warring factions in Mexico, urging them to meet, compose their differences, decide upon a form of government and elect a provisional president.

The diplomats agreed also on "the form of recognition" which they would recommend to their respective governments with reference to the new government which they hope to see established in Mexico.

That they should have worked out so carefully this piece of diplomatic machinery, it was pointed out, may be taken to suggest one of two things. First, either the diplomats are confident that the various factions in the country south of the Rio Grande will listen to the appeal of the leading countries of the western hemisphere. Secondly, it may mean that the diplomats have agreed, in the event that any one faction refuses to join a peace conference, to recognize the work that may result from the gathering together of the other factions.

It was learned also that the conferees in this session, which lasted for almost three hours, discussed the guaranties that the man who should be selected as provisional president of Mexico must give in regard to working out the economic, social and political problems that now confront the pauperized country. It was denied that the name of any man was discussed at the meeting or that the question of the financing of a new Mexican government came up.

WE STILL HAVE PAPER BAG

But Then, What Is to Prevent Someone Else Using That?

Washington, Aug. 12.—"Bite the bubble," is the latest "health hint" from the United States Public Health and Marine hospital service. The expert for the Marine hospital service says:

"If improperly constructed or improperly used, the bubbling drinking fountain may be a greater menace to health than the common drinking cup. The other day an inspector of the United States public health service took a seat beside a bubbling drinking fountain in a railway station and watched the way in which it was used. Forty-seven different persons, 11 men, 22 women and 14 children, used the bubbling fountain. In almost every case the lips were placed almost completely around the metal ball from which the water spurted and one small boy seemed as if he were trying to swallow it. Several of the men obviously were chewing tobacco.

"In using the bubbling fountain the rule should be 'bite the bubble.' The lips should not touch any part of the fountain."

REPORT ADRIATIC SUNK

Unconfirmed Rumor Says Ship Has Been Torpedoed.

New York, Aug. 12.—A rumor that the steamship Adriatic, due at Liverpool this evening, had been torpedoed by a German submarine, was circulated here yesterday and today.

The story was telephoned to the various news agencies and the impression was intensified by frequent calls on the wire by various persons asking if it were true that the ship had been destroyed.

Diligent inquiry failed to discover who was the author of the rumor. The White Star line people had not heard a word of her.

The Adriatic left New York late last Wednesday, six hours behind time, owing to the delay in getting aboard of her the enormous amount of ammunition and other war supplies with which she was loaded.

DON'T MEDDLE SAYS CARRANZA

Mexicans Are "Displeased" at Neighbors' Interference

DO NOT KNOW SITUATION

Duplicate Notes Were Presented to South American Ambassadors, Say Interference "Will Not Be Looked Upon With Levity"—Claims Reforms Are Practically Completed, But Does Not Say What Reforms.

Washington, Aug. 12.—General Carranza has served notice on the United States that he will not subscribe to any plan for the restoration of peace in Mexico devised by the Pan-American conference that would tend to defeat the aim of the constitutional party of which he is the head.

In a communication addressed to Secretary Lansing, Carranza, speaking through his Washington agent, has made it plain that he will not tolerate interference by this government or the Latin-American republics in the internal affairs of Mexico. Officials here believe that Carranza will fight rather than assent to the establishment of any group in Mexico City other than the one that he leads.

Unofficial advices received here are to the effect that in a note addressed to the president of Argentina, Carranza made his threat more specific. Protesting against the participation of Argentina in the Pan-American conference Carranza is quoted as follows: "Argentina has made herself an accomplice in a crime against our race, which possibly may help to bring on war between two American nations."

Carranza's message referred to the Pan-American conference and was taken as plainly signifying he would not agree with its action toward Mexican affairs.

Carranza's communication, delivered on his behalf by his Washington agent, Elesio Arredondo, was regarded as little less than a defiance of the United States in its effort to bring all the Mexican factions into a conference for peaceful settlement of Mexican affairs.

In a letter to Secretary Lansing Arredondo expresses surprise that a Pan-American conference had undertaken to devise a plan for the pacification of Mexico and says reports to that effect "have caused the constitutional government to feel justly alarmed." He declares he has been instructed by Carranza to communicate to the secretary on the subject.

"Mr. Carranza and the persons who co-operate with him," says the letter to Secretary Lansing, "are of the profound conviction that if the American government would know the true situation in Mexico it would understand that the only possible, just and acceptable solution would be to leave the revolution to follow its natural course until the complete victory of the party representing the greater necessities and popularity.

"The constitutionalist government represented by Mr. Carranza, abstains from passing any comment on the conferences that are being held, because it has no knowledge of their character, and of the conclusions which may have been reached and because it does not want to afford the supposition that they tacitly consented to it; but at the same time it considers it its duty to inform the American government of the displeasure with which the Mexican government and people would view any act which would tend to frustrate the success practically accomplished against the reactionary factions by the constitutionalist army, representing the hopes and ideals of the Mexican people."

General Carranza's agency gave out the text of identical notes which he addressed to Argentina and Chile protesting against their participation in the Pan-American conference. Carranza evidently had been misinformed that Brazil refused to participate and sent a message to Rio expressing his gratification. He took occasion, however, in the note to Brazil to assail the Brazilian minister in Mexico City.

"I regret to say that Minister Cardoso de Oliveira," said Carranza, "has been one of the persons who have brought the greatest evil on the republic of Mexico and who in a certain way may be responsible for the present status of our relations with the government of the United States."

An address to the American people which Carranza has prepared was being held back awaiting the outcome of the Pan-American conference. Argentina already has replied to Carranza's protest, saying the Mexican people should regard the conference as a proof of friendship for Mexico.

Major General Funston, in command of the American forces in Texas and elsewhere on the Mexican frontier, can have all the troops available to the war department if he needs them to cope with the situation due to the raiding of bandits, the defiance of Carranza adherents and other incidents of the Mexican situation.

Secretary of War Garrison has telegraphed General Funston to this effect. It was said at the war department that General Funston had not directly asked for more troops, but that all requests from other sources for additional military protection for American interests along the border were being referred to him.

Traps in French.
A frequent trap in French for the unwary is the difference of meaning in similar phrases. For example, "faire feu" means to fire a gun, while "faire du feu" means to light a fire; "tomber par terre" conveys the idea of falling to the ground from one's own height, whereas "tomber a terre" means to fall from any height—in other words, to tumble down and to tumble off. In the same way "traiter de fat" means to call a man a fop and "traiter en roi" to treat him like a king.

The English bore may be expressed in two ways—"un raseur" gives the idea of an active bore and "une bassinoire" of a passive bore.—London Saturday Review.
