FIVE CENTS

COUNTRYMEN

Joe Remanuski, of Ernest, Was Thrown Over Railing to Street

Joe Remanuski, aged 27, a miner of Ernest, this county, was killed Monday evening in a fight. It is alleged that Enoch Busavich and William Crivis of the same boarding house, picked Remanusky up and threw him backwards over the porch railing. He alighted on his head, breaking his neck and dying instantly. All three men are Lithuanians.

The drop from the porch is about 12 feet. The fight was the result of a drunken brawl. The two alleged slayers were arrested in their boarding house during the PUNX UTAWNEY MINERS night. Officers found them in bed with their clothes on apparently in expectation of slipping away before daybreak. They were brought to Indiana about 4 o'clock in the morning by Constable Wil liam North and Special Officer Fred Sherer and committed to the Indiana county jail by Squire J. A. Crossman.
