The Hungarian Crown.

The Hungarian crown worn at their accession by the emperors of Austria as kings of Hungary is the identical one made for Stephen and used at his coronation over 800 years ago. The whole is of pure gold, except the settings, and weighs almost exactly fourteen pounds. The settings above alluded to consist of fifty-three sapphires fifty rubies, one emerald and 338 pearls. It will be noticed that there are no diamonds among these precious adornments. This is accounted for by the oft quoted story of Stephen's aver gion to such gems because he consid ered them "unlucky."

A False Alarm.

"I know something, I do, about a member of this family," said little Bobby Slithers triumphantly to his old er sister, Maud.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Miss Slithers "Half a dollar is all I have, Bobby Will you promise not to tell if I give you that?"

"Sure, I will," answered Bobby in surprise. "But it ain't nothin' on you sis. It was the cook and the iceman. -Birmingham Age-Herald.

Tibetan Penal Code.

The Tibetan penal code is curious Murder sepunished with a fine vary ing according to the importance of the slain, theft by a fine of seven to onhundred times the value of the article stolen. Here, again, the fine depends on the social importance of the person from whom the theft has been commit ted. The harborer of a thief is looked upon as a worse criminal than the thief himself. Ordeals by fire and by boiling water are still used as proofs of innocence or guilt, exactly as wathe custom in Europe in the middle ages. And if the lamas never inflict death they "re adepts at torture.

A perfume of flowers is wafted gentby from the mountains. The sun is new risen, and the dew still glistens on the leaves of trees and the petals of flowers. When You "See Stars." The man who when struck violently on the head says he "saw stars" is not far from telling the truth. The fa is that there is a phosphorescent pow er in the eye which does not attract a person's attention under ordinary con ditions, but while is distributed an reveals itself whenever the head gets a sudden shock and sometimes even in the act of sneezing. A blow on the bead results in a pressure of the blood vessels upon the retina, causing either total darkness or a faint blue light which floats before the eyes, and it is in 'bis faint blue light the imagination discerns the thousands of fantastic forms and figures that by general acventance are termed stars; hence. while the astronomical display so fre quently mentioned may be said to be entirely a creature of the imagination there is at least some foundation for the idea.

The Exception.

Our children play unravished in the sun, We walk with quiet men who understand Tomorrow's work is what today begun, Yet over common task and careless word Ring out such sounds as we have never Commercial attaches in foreign capitals, as well as the consular officers of the state department, have been instructed to cover in their reports business organizations, manufacturing and producing . efficiency, merchandising methods, business and industrial laws. and particularly the relation between business organizations and governmental authority. Instructions were prepared separately for each of the various countries.

Special instructions have been issued calling for reports on the so called "cartel" system of business organization, as developed in Germany, under which great combinations of capital are fostered.

The reports also will be available for use by the bureau and the commission in their efforts to extend the foreign trade of the United States. The commission already has held numerous hearings in this country on this sub-

Bertholiet and Robespierre.

It is said that the celebrated savant Berthollet in the most dangerous times of the republic sustained his fearless love of truth. Some days prior to the ninth Thermidor a sandy deposit was found in a barrel of brandy intended for the army. The contractors, suspected of poisoning, were immediately arrested, and the scaffold was already prepared. Berthollet, however, examined the brandy and reported it free from all adulteration.

"You dare maintain," said Robespierre to him, "that that brandy does not contain poison?"

As his reply Berthollet drank off a glass, saying, "I never drank so much before.

"You have plenty of courage!" exclaimed Robespierre.

"I had more when I signed my rethe matter terminated.
