"An inveterate one."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

New Rope.

New rope may be made pliable without impairing its strength by boiling it for an hour or two in water.

Rain Hats in Korea.

Korea is a country of strange head-dresses, but perhaps the most curious headgear of all are the immense rain hats worn by the farmers' wives while working in the fields during the rainy season. These extraordinary coverings are often as much as seven feet long and five feet broad and protect the body as effectively as any umbrella could do.

Man and Flight.

Mathematicians have calculated that man is too heavy ever to be sustained in air by the power of his own muscles, no matter how large the wings are which he fastens to his body. The weight limit is probably approached by the largest birds, such as the Australian crane, which still flies, although it weighs about twenty pounds. The ostrich long ago gave up all hope of winging its way through the air. An aeroplane can be built, say the experts, which will sustain a man and use but three horsepower, but as the best athletes can exert only a maximum of about two horsepower for fifteen seconds at a time he will always be dependent on a machine.

Glass was made in Egypt 3000 B. C. Transparent glass was first manufactured 719 B. C.

The Test.

It is the things a man could do but does not which stamp him as incompetent.—Judge.

His Attachment.

The tramp looked over his dilapidated garments when at a safe distance from the farmhouse.
"I can't see," he muttered, "why such a big fuss is made over the dog's instinct in attaching himself to man!"—London Telegraph.

A Puzzled Artist.

Achenbach, the German artist, enjoyed a vogue some years ago. A certain collector had bought from an art dealer a seascape represented as a genuine Achenbach. Afterward it was pronounced to be a copy. The buyer brought an action against the dealer, who turned the tables by declaring that his picture was genuine and the other was a copy. Achenbach himself was summoned by the courts to tell which was which. Amazed at the absolute similarity of the two paintings, he gazed at them for a long time, inspected them closely, front and back, sniffed them and then frankly admitted he could not tell which was the original and which the copy.

EDUCATION.

Bend all your energies to acquire an education. Nobody ever drifted into an education. Conscious effort to direct one's reading and thinking into the best channels is an absolute requisite. Choice must be made of books, of friends and of pleasures. One cannot read trash and think literature.—Amos R. Wells.

Wise Precaution.

"Good night, Jinks. What are you stuffing all that raw cotton into your ears for?"

"Well, I was told not to stay out late and I believe in preparedness."—Baltimore American.

Advice.

Let no man presume to give advice to others who has not first given good counsel to himself.—Seneca.

A PITHY SERMON.

Here is about the pithiest sermon that was ever preached: "Our ingress into life is naked and bare, our progress through life is trouble and care, our egress out of it we know not where; but, doing well here, we shall do well there. I could not tell more by preaching a year."
