Judge O'Connor Toastmaster.

Judge F. J. O'Connor was the toastmaster of the occasion. He was introduced by Grand Knight James Ruth.

Judge O'Conner said that the ceremony of the morning had awakened the community and that he was proud of the organization which in a few short years had grown so remarkably. He told of the hopes of the local council that it will soon have a home of its own.

Following Archbishop Bonzan's address, Bishop Garvey spoke briefly. He said there were no Catholics more loyal to the Holy See than the Catholics of America. He said all nationalities should harmonize and he cited the example which Somerset county has set. A number of different nationalities are represented in practically every mining town. These little groups have been slow in uniting and can establish but few parishes. He expressed the confidence that before long nationalities will harmonize more freely, and he told once this feeling of brotherhood can be instilled.
