Greece 11th Nation to Take Up Arms Against the Germanic Allies

King May Flee To Turkey

LONDON, Sept. 29.—It is reported that King Constantine of Greece and his family will go to Constantinople for the remainder of the war, says an "Exchange Telegraph" dispatch from Copenhagen today.

Reuter dispatches from Athens state that a declaration of war by Greece against Bulgaria has been decided upon.

Greece's decision to enter the war on the side of the allies, as reported in a news agency dispatch from Athens, has been followed by immediate preparations to put the Greek army on a war footing.

It is believed that King Constantine has already signed a decree of mobilization.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Greece's decision to enter the war on the side of the Allies, as reported in a news agency dispatch from Athens, has been followed by immediate preparations to put the Greek army on a war footing. It is believed that King Constantine has already signed a decree of mobilization.

The Greek army and navy will be supplied with great stores of arms and munitions by the Allied nations. M. Venizelos, former premier and leader of the pro-Ally party, has become the man of the hour in Greece. His prestige ranks with, if it does not overshadow that of King Constantine.

A formal declaration of war by Greece would make the 15th nation to enter the world conflict, and the 11th to take the field against the Germanic allies.

In some quarters belief prevails that the Greek government has been impressed no less by the growing pro-Ally feeling in Greece than by the great victories which the Anglo-French armies are winning on the Somme front. Almost every day now brings news of fresh progress in that quarter and of growing demoralization among the Germanic.

News from Athens that seven Greek warships have joined the Allied fleet has been followed by reports of further desertions from the army and growing strength of the national defence army of the revolutionists.

ARMED TANK STARTS FOR BERLIN DESPITE DRIVER

At The British Front in France, Sept. 28.—With a lull prevailing after the two days' battle which gained five villages and in which 5,000 prisoners were taken, the correspondent has gleaned from participants many stories, not only of courage and impulse, but of humor and paradox, possible only in such complicated and remorseless warfare as that of the grand offensive.

The most wonderful of all perhaps was that of one of the "tanks" or new armored motor cars which started for Berlin on its own initiative. This monstrous landship, ambling and lumbering along, did not wait for the infantry after the taking of Gueudecourt, but plodded over shell holes and across lots looking for food like some pre-historic lizard. Sooner or later it was bound to find another German trench and engage the occupants with its machine guns. In this it succeeded, but it ran out of gasoline.

When the Germans found this strange creature, with its impenetrable steel hide, stalled, curiosity and a desire for revenge was a flip to their courage. They went after it with the stalking avidity of the prehistoric man after a wounded mammoth that has had his bulk fast in one of the alleys of Save Dwellers' row, while they tried to avert the thrusts of its deadly tucks.

No such game was ever seen before on this western front, which is used to all kinds of bizarre fighting.

According to the account veraciously given by officers, while the tank's machine guns were blazing right and left and taking heavy toll of life, some Germans managed to creep along their trenches under the fore and hind legs of this crushing beast and then they swarmed over it looking for an opening through which they might strike at its vitals.

ADRIAN MINERS GO OUT ON STRIKE, DEMANDING EIGHT-HOUR WORK DAY

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Sept. 29.—As a result of the strike of the "outside men" at the Adrian mine of the R. and P. Coal and Iron Co., the mine is idle today. The tippie men and firemen are demanding an eight-hour day at the present wage rate. A conference was held yesterday between James Purcell, district U. M. W. of A. president; Richard Gilbert, district secretary; W. S. Davidson, sub-district president of Indiana county; B. M. Clark of this place, representing the R. and P. Co.; Rembrandt Peale of St. Benedict; H. J. Hinderliter of Clearfield, representing the C. B. C. C., and several other members of the Operators' association with regard to the general situation in this district.

JUDGE HARRY WHITE IS GUEST OF COMRADES

Judge Harry White of Indiana was an honor guest of the Westmoreland county civil war veterans today, says yesterday's Greensburg Tribune. The grizzled warrior of the rebellion looked hale and hearty and marched along with all his old time martial air. Before going to the armory, Judge White called on old friends at the office of the Daily Tribune. The aged jurist is very popular with his comrades and made a short talk to them at the dinner. He is one of the few officers from Pennsylvania now living who commanded a brigade during the civil war. He escaped from Libby prison.

Sentences Are Handed To Illegal Dispensers Of Liquor

Several illegal liquor sellers refused the motion and sentenced the defendant to pay the costs, a fine of $100 and serve nine months in the workhouse. James Colangelo of Indiana pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license as proprietor of the Montgomery hotel, and a heated discussion arose between District Attorney Liggett and Attorneys Cunningham and Getty, who appealed to the court for leniency in behalf of the defendant. The district attorney insisted upon the maximum penalty of fine and imprisonment, alleging the violations were in open defiance of the law and that the defendant had approached various officers with offers to "make it right" with them on condition they "keep still." He also stated proof could be offered to show Colangelo under assumed authority as the county detective had exacted tribute from proprietors of speakeasies under threats of prosecution. Counsel for Colangelo alleged the charges were the outcome of prosecutions he had made in good faith and revenge on the part of the district attorney. The court passed the usual six months sentence to the workhouse with a fine of $500 and offered to parole on payment of costs and $200. The district attorney then moved the court to revoke the detective license held by Colangelo on cause shown, but the motion was refused.

A week of civil court is being held by Judge Langham. The jury returned a verdict yesterday for $48 in favor of Cora Myers against Elizabeth Williams of town, for ejecting Mrs. Myers and her husband from the defendant's Philadelphia street property and damaging some of the household goods. Defendant alleged the ejection was justified because of violation of the lease.

DOUBLE FARE IS ILLEGAL

The Pittsburgh Railways Company's 10-cent night fare was declared abolished in a decision handed down by the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission yesterday at Harrisburg. The company is ordered to return all excess fare to those holding the slips issued under a previous ruling of the commission.

The ground of the decision is the secrecy practiced by the company in the methods used in establishing the fare. In this respect the company is declared to have violated both the spirit and the letter of the law. The question of the propriety of the fare itself is not passed upon. The opinion was written by Commissioner Michael J. Ryan.

General Manager P. N. Jones of the railways company had not seen the decision when asked about the matter and refused to comment on it, but Attorney D. A. Reed of Reed, Smith, Shaw and Beal said: "An appeal from the decision of the Public Service Commission will be taken at once to the Superior Court. This appeal will set aside the decision of the Public Service Commission until the Superior Court renders its opinion, and pending final decision by the courts the Pittsburgh Railways Company will continue to collect the 10-cent night fare and give rebate slips. The decision of the Public Service Commission was based on a technicality and not on the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the 10-cent night fare."
