

To You Who Have Come to America!

Many of you people who are Americans today and who are enjoying all the privileges and opportunities of America were not born in this country.

America has freely placed at your disposal, on an equal footing with her own people, the opportunity to avail yourselves of everything she has to offer.

Are these opportunities worth anything to you? Are they worth doing anything to uphold?

If you feel that YOU have derived any benefit from coming to America, if you feel that you want to continue to live here, then surely the least you can do is to co-operate with the United States Government in protecting and making permanent American liberty and American institutions.

The way you can do this is to lend your money to the Government by buying LIBERTY BONDS.

You are not asked to GIVE anything. You are simply asked to INVEST your money in LIBERTY BONDS which pay liberal interest and afford absolute safety because they are guaranteed by the richest nation in the world.

NOW is your opportunity to do something for the country that has done so much for you.

Impenitent Camouflage

The notorious Louis N. Hammerling, the self-appointed President of an Advertising Agency labeled pretentiously and ingeniously, for political effect and vast commercial opportunities

"The American Association of Foreign - Language Newspapers" sent a telegram to the Soviets of Russia in the name of the 734 publications edited in 33 different foreign languages and with a circulation of 10 millions of copies!

As reported in its official paper, "The American (?) Leader" published semi-monthly in the interest of the foreign-born population, the telegram had the approval of Secretary Lansing.

A more brazen, arrogant and deceitful patriotic camouflage to arouse the sympathy of the Government toward his personality—not toward the 734 foreign newspapers which are never consulted in his dealings—could not easily be devised. He did the same thing with his $5,000 contribution to the Liberty Loan Committee of the National Advertising Board and which he afterwards shamefully withdrew.

It is an usual boastful and false claim of Mr. Hammerling, in order to obtain the moral support and good will of the authorities and the patronage of political, industrial and commercial bodies, to make believe that he controls the foreign language newspapers in this country and all their readers and that he is the teacher of patriotism to them all!

What Italian language newspapers have authorized you Mr. Hammerling, to say or do anything in their name without first consulting them? . . .

And how about the enemy and neutral language newspapers which form the bulk of the foreign language newspapers edited in this country? . . .

When will you stop fooling the public, the advertisers and the government of the United States? . . . For the honor of the independent foreign press we resent the meddlings of Mr. Hammerling and sustain most emphatically that the man who was responsible for the publication of "An Appeal" to obtain from the American Government the embargo on munitions and arms to the Allies should not be trusted in his present hysteric patriotic utterances.

A publication edited in New York and Pittsburg, the "Nardni List", Croatian daily, March 10th inst. printed a long list of queries directed to Mr. Hammerling and among them the following three:

Mr. Hammerling, "An Appeal to the American People," not to manufacture, sell or ship munitions of war, appeared in the press of the United States on April 5th, 1915, in full-page advertisements; how much did you receive from the German government, or its agents, to pay for this advertisement?

How much altogether have you received from the German government or from the Austrian government through Ambassador von Paper, Boy-Ed or other Central Powers agents to carry on their propaganda in the United States.

When Count von Bernstorff called at your office in the Woolworth Building was it just a friendly call, or a business call?

The publisher of "The Kuryer Polski" of Milwaukee has styled him to be "one of the shrewdest fakirs and that he is so shrewd and lavish with his money in certain places and certain editorial rooms that he is still enabled to keep above water and hobnob with influential politicians."

Several times these same accusations were thrown publicly at Mr. Hammerling's face, together with the fact that in getting his American citizenship papers, gave a fictitious name, declared to be born in Hawaii instead of Galicia (Austria-Hungary) and became later a Gentile.

What powerful political influence lies behind him that makes the Department of Justice ignore his notorious past activities of a dubious character? . . .

We are quite at sea about this and protesting against his continuous claim as the recognized leader of the foreign language newspapers, we again ask the proper authorities, to watch him closely, for, having handled the "Bernstorff's and Dumba's money", as known to the Department of Justice, his ostracism from every direct or indirect connection with government officials should take place at once.

We have always contended that foreign-born citizens hailing from countries at war with the United States should not be trusted. At their best protestations of Americanism they would never be pro-British, pro-German or pro-Italian, so that their connection with American officials may become at any time very dangerous to the cause of the Allies.

The precedents of Mr. Hammerling should make every American afraid to have anything to do with him.—(From "Il Cittadino.")
