Across the Seas They Call

ACROSS the seas from every war-torn nation in the Allied cause there comes the call for Red Cross help.

It comes from soldiers who have grimly faced the gleaming bayonet steel and poison gas and screaming shells, and who now lie with parching throats and throbbing wounds.

It comes from soldiers sick with fever, pneumonia, tuberculosis.

It comes from soldiers crippled, mutilated, blinded, who can no longer fight and must be taught and trained for useful occupations.

It comes from the underfed, shivering, helpless prisoners in the German prison camps.

It comes from little children, orphaned, homeless, slowly starving day by day, by tens and tens of thousands.

It comes from mothers in the pillaged zones of war whose hearts and souls have been made numb with horror.

From all these millions of suffering human beings there comes across the seas the call for help—help that because of the frightful burdens placed upon our Allies cannot be given unless it be provided by the American Red Cross.

Another hundred million is needed to "carry on."

What will America's answer be?

Every cent of every dollar received for the Red Cross War Fund goes for War Relief.

The American Red Cross is the largest and most efficient organization for the relief of suffering that the World has ever seen.

It is made up almost entirely of volunteer workers, the higher executives being without exception men accustomed to large affairs, who are in almost all cases giving their services without pay.

It is supported entirely by its membership fees and by voluntary contributions.

It is today bringing relief to suffering humanity, both military and civil, in every War torn allied country.

It plans tomorrow to help in the work of restoration throughout the world.

It feeds and clothes entire populations in times of great calamity.

It is there to help your soldier boy in his time of need.

With its thousands of workers, its tremendous stores and smooth running transportation facilities, it is serving as America's advance guard—and thus helping to win the war.

Congress authorizes it.

President Wilson heads it.

The War Department audits its accounts.

Your Army, your Navy and your Allies enthusiastically endorse it.

Twenty-two million Americans have joined it.

Why the Weather Bureau?

Why the weather bureau? This question is likely to be asked, in more or less querulous tones, whenever the local weather prediction fails, as it often does, says the Popular Science Monthly. The inquirer overlooks the fact that the weather bureau has much more important things to foretell than ordinary changes of weather. It predicts with certainty great windstorms, destructive floods, severe freezes and other atmospheric visitations that endanger life and property on a large scale and collects climatic statistics for scientific agriculture.

Art of Love Becomes Art of War.

We have heard during this war a great deal of camouflage—the art of making things seem what they are not. But it is nothing new. The fair sex have been practicing the art for many, many centuries, and a little paint, a sprinkling of powder, a tuft of hair and a few ruffles will mislead a male observer just as easily today as when Mother Eve pulled the first leaf off the fig tree.

Left-Handedness.

No attempt should be made to teach naturally left-handed children to use their right hands, according to P. B. Ballard, inspector of schools of London, as it is likely to make them stammerers. Mr. Ballard supplies the following statistics: Out of one group of 545 left-handed children 1 per cent of pure left-handers stammered, against 4.3 per cent of 390 being taught to use the right hand. In another group of 207 the figures was 4.2 per cent and 21.8 per cent, respectively.

An Improvement.

The workman who turns out a poor job is an improvement on the one who does nothing but stand around and make remarks.—Milwaukee Journal.

Daily Thought.

Victories that are easy are cheap. Those only are worth having which come as the result of hard fighting.—Beecher.

Plan Your War Garden Now;
Save Time and Money.

HELP INCREASE OUR EXPORT FOOD STOCKS

NCITY and country more war gardens are needed this year than ever before. Patriotism prompted 2,000,000 Americans to plant gardens last year, according to estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture. Transportation facilities of the nation will be strained this year hauling munitions of war and foods for the Allies. The surplus food created by home gardens will help in the railroad problem. And the nation will eat less of the goods we must export—wheat, meat, fats and sugar. Every boy and girl that helps with the garden is helping win the war. Leaflets of instruction in garden making may be secured from the Department of Agriculture at Washington, upon request, without charge.
