OCEAN CASTS UP OLD SHIP

Identity of Ancient Vessel Found on Rockaway Beach Uncertain—May Be Historic Pirate.

Rockaway Beach has another sensation, the Brooklyn Eagle states. Not content with washing up hundreds of thousands of crabs, lobsters and clams, the great tide recently dug an ancient oceanic relic out of the sands and left it to bleach in a winter's sun, like some skeleton of a departed dinosaur. According to Capt. Joseph Meade of the Rockaway coast guard station, it is an old sloop of war.

Nobody knows its history. From all appearances this washed out corpse in an ocean graveyard was once a saucy war vessel, mounting nine guns, including the old time bow chaser that used to bark with ferocity at pursuing vengeance.

The ship is bluff-bowed, her spikes are handwrought, her ribs are of stout oak and her bowsprit, broken short at the cap, is a mighty headstone on a sandy grave.

The old salts who are experts on such matters say the buried hull is an old British sloop. During the war of 1812 privateers manned by adventurous Yankees frequently hung about Jones' inlet, towing in their prizes for anchorage and running to shelter when British men-of-war, out for revenge, bore down upon them.

Another tradition unearthed from the old skippers of clipper ships, now come to anchor on the Rockaway shores, has it that Capt. Jones, for whom Jones' inlet was named, at one time just prior to the Revolutionary war, pursued a profitable trade in contraband in the vicinity, unknown to the British customs. The handwrought spikes and the general shape of the rotting wreck plainly indicate that she was an oldtimer, very likely of Revolutionary times.

Village Within Extinct Volcano.

"Bottom" is the paradoxical name of a little village perched on the peak of mountain which comprises the island of Saba, in the Caribbean sea. No other spot in the world is quite like Saba; of all the islands of the tropical seas, it is the strangest, the most forbidding. Sheer conical, frowning, this island rises from the waves, its topmost pinnacle veiled in drifting clouds 3,000 feet above the sea, its coast rock-bound and precipitous. It is seldom sighted by ships, but those who do pass it would never dream that it was inhabited.

The mountain is an extinct volcano and the town of Bottom rests in its crater. No harbor breaks Saba's coast; there is no safe landing place or anchorage, and if one would visit the town one must step ashore from a small boat and climb a steep stairway of hundreds of stone steps or toll up a narrow, difficult trail. Every article brought to Saba from the outside world must be carried up the heights. The inhabitants are sailors, as they have been since the earliest times, and though they sail the seven seas they always return to their island home.

Thrift in Chile.

The Scots and the French had better look to their laurels as saving peoples. Chile bids fair to rival them. During the last ten years savings institutions have risen considerably in number. In 1910 there existed in the entire country but a dozen independent institutions carrying the accounts of some 200,000 persons; their complete savings amounted to only $4,000,000 in American money. In 1917 deposits rose to 110,000,000 Chilean pesos, which would equal about one-fourth as many American dollars. To this, in the year 1918, were added 50,000,000 more Chilean pesos. The nation has encouraged savings, through stamps and other substantial inducements. Incidentally it is worth while noting that lotteries are not permitted in Chile; down there they believe in getting rich slowly and surely.

Sounded Like a Curse.

A spinster of about forty years or a bit more recently had a house to rent. Now her last tenant had three healthy American sons and they had done a great deal of damage to the house, so she had firmly declared that she would tolerate no children this time. So when a man responded to her advertisement, she asked him whether he had any children. "Seven," he returned and then went on to tell how good they were.

But the spinster informed him that she would not rent her house to a family in which there were so many children. Angriily the man turned away, but returned over his shoulder: "I only hope some day you'll have seven children, lady, and can't find a house, either."—Indianapolis News.

Humor in a Bank.

The first day I worked in the bank in which I am employed I was given a sealed package marked "$10,000 in gold," which was in the form of a brick. I presented it to the downtown bank for payment and was sent from one teller to the other, each one keeping his discovery to himself, until I got sore because of the fact that they had me going around in a circle and discovered I was the goat.

I might add that it was not a gold brick—it was a red one. C. B. P. S.—Don't you think a d—n fool like me earned a dollar?—Exchange.

L'ARRIVO DI 200 SOCIALISTI A GINEVRA PER LA CONFERENZA INTERNAZIONALE

GINEVRA—Sono arrivati qui 200 delegati fra i quali due degli Stati Uniti, ed altri se ne attendono per l'imminente apertura della Conferenza Internazionale socialista che s'inaugurerà qui domani, sotto la Presidenza di Emile Vandervelde, Ministro di Grazia e Giustizia del Belgio.

L'Inghilterra, la Francia e la Germania han mandato numerose delegazioni, ma l'Italia e l'Austria non sono rappresentate ufficialmente.

STATISTICA INTERESSANTE

Il capo della truppa statale, sedente in Harrisburg, ha dato testé alla stampa la statistica delle operazioni compiute dai militi durante lo scorso mese di Giugno. Durante detta mese furono compiuti 692 arresti, furono rintracciati 14 automobili rubati, canotti, biciclette, coperte di lana e argenteria, nonché alcune vacche e tre cavalli. Ma il fatto interessante lo troviamo nell'osservazione fatta dallo statista, che cioè, sui 692 arresti eseguiti, non meno di 487 degli arrestati erano di nazionalità americana. Quando si pensa che la popolazione americana è solo del 30 per cento e che gli immigrati di ogni razza rappresentano il 70 per cento circa, si deve dedurre che in fatto di delinquenza gli americani portano il primato.
