Few Individuals Honored.

France delights in naming its streets after some particular building, or some happening, or a great victory, and this is also true to a certain extent in Canada, where there is only one capital city which commemorates an individual. This is Charlottetown, the capital of Prince Edward Island. The Charlotte so remembered was the daughter and only child of George IV, who died only a year after her marriage in 1817.—Philadelphia North American.

Little Things.

Life is made up of little things. It is but once in an age that occasion is offered for doing a great deed. True greatness consists in being great in little things.

More Recruits.

"My stomach's come back on me. I can't go to bladders any more." "Cheer up, old chap. You're only sixty-five. You can still have a lot of fun dancing."

Money Assumption.

"What will you take for it at any price?" "I'll take any such thing. Even if you're willing to bargain on that point, sooner or later you'd get into a bargain at the price."

Fortunate is Our Country.

It is stated that the United States has 5 per cent of the world's population and 23 per cent of its wealth. In other words, one-twentieth of the people and one-third of the money of the whole world.

Permanent Embassies.

It was not until the close of the fifteenth century that the permanent embassy became at all common, and not until the end of the sixteenth that it became a generally recognized institution. In 1487 Dr. Roderigo Gonzales de Puebla was appointed permanent Spanish ambassador to England, and, as he was still in London in 1500, the Spanish embassy in the British capital must be regarded as the oldest among the permanent embassies of the world.

Not Always Happy.

It is customary but I think it is a mistake, to speak of "happy" childhood. Children are often overanxious and acutely sensitive. Man ought to be man and master of his fate; but children are at the mercy of those around them. Mr. Rarey, the great horse-tamer, has told us that he has known an angry word to raise the pulse of a horse ten beats in a minute. Think then how it must affect a child! —Lord Avebury.

Free Board.

A restaurant in Yuma, Ariz., displays a sign that reads: "Free board every day the sun doesn't shine." At first sight the offer of free board every day the sun doesn't shine might seem a reckless one, but, as a matter of fact, a day without sunshine in that desert country is far rarer than blackberries in May. If it rains at all, it is only for a very short time, leaving most of the day for sunshine, so that the sign would only catch a tender-foot.
