FRIDAY EVENING SESSION. Subject of Distinct Articulation continued

Mr. Hall said he had visited no schools out of Huntingdon for several years, and had no conception of the state of things described by Mr. Baker. He had listened to his revelations with mingled feelings of mirth and sorrow. Could it be possible that in a country like ours, where eloquence is one of the surest roads to distinction, the cultivation of the voice in reading and speaking should be so extensively rejected? To him this would seem impossible did he not know the integ--rity of the man who stated it, and his opportunities of knowing the truth whereof he speaks. He would not detain the Institute spirit of our local press for the present proswith reflections and arguments, but show how he avoided the evil of indistinct utterance in his school. The organs of speech, he said, are, like the muscles of the arm, improved and strengthened by exercise; and when there is no mal-formation of these organs. the proper exercise of them will secure distinct erticulation in every case. Such was ceeding sound, until it was properly pro- duction, he traced rapidly the rise and pronounced. He did not insist on loudness of gress of the Huntingdon County Teachers' sound but a sudden, full and free enunciation. He never allowed the running of let- present proud position. He said it was no ters and syllables together, but required a complete termination of every division of every word. His classes rose at their seats to a thing of life, firmly planted on the rock of insisted on hearing every sound distinctly; if any portion of these lessons was not heard, it was called a failure and treated as such .----These was the only means he used, and in ordinary cases, nothing more was necessary. If the scholars are timid or bashful, exercise the class, and sometimes the whole school in concert speaking. This will excite and embolden the backward and soon evercome all difficulty. If any have impediments of speech or confirmed bad habits, the yrequire special attention. They should be taught the proper position of the lips, tongue, &c., for the formation of the most difficult sounds ; should be exercised regularly and severely in exploding the elementary sounds; taking the vocals first a single element at a time, dwelling upon it until it is mastered. In correctspeech, great force of utterance is requisite to rapid improvenient. The elements should be exploded very slowly at first, increasing could point to classes composed of children under twelve years of age, that had by such or unskilful hands. training acquired a greater volume of voice and a much clearer enunciation than he had, some of them, too, children that had no intelligible language at the age of three or four years. Mr. Brigham said this subject was more neglected than any other-its importance was not understood in the country. It had been his practice to teach the elements of or- notes or previous preparation, it could not be thography from the black board, requiring procured; and this brief and very imperfect his scholars to commit to memory the different sounds of each letter, and also to pro- but a poor idea of its excellence. nounce them frequently and distinctly. On motion, Messrs. Hall, Sangree, Baker, Brigham and McDivitt were appointed a committee to prepare resolutions.

Resolved, That we are under obligations to Isaac Fisher, Esq., for the eloquent, interesting and instructive remarks with which he favored us on Friday evening.

Resolved, That our thanks are due the County Commissioners for the free use of the Court room, and to Mr. Miller, their gentlemanly clerk, for his attention to the comforts of the Institute during its sitting. We would also express our acknowledgements to G. Miller, Esq., of the Exchange Hotel, for the kind and sumptuous entertainment we received at his excellent house.

Resolved, That the members of this Insti tute and the friends of education generally are much endebted to the enlightened public perous condition of our Association.

The present officers of the Institute were then unanimously continued for another year. The following gentlemen were then proposed and elected honorary members, viz., Messrs. David Dunn, J. S. Morris, Isaac Fisher, Esq., J. S. Stewart, and Dr. Brewster. Mr. McDivitt responded to the call of the first letter or sound he attempted to teach the child, and dwelt upon this, and each suc-ceeding sound until it was proposly and the traced with the point to which we wish to direct public at-tention. His appeal to the "Old Guard," those who stood by the Institute in its darkest hour, was truly felicitous. He hoped we might ever stand firm as the guard of Napoleon. We had a more formidable enemy to confront than the serried ranks and frowning columns, which crushed the mighty Corsica on the plains of Water-We had to contend with Ignorance, a loo. tyrant who holds thousands of our fallen race in a thraldom more vile than Egyptian bondage, more invincible than Europe's veteran legions. He glanced at the importance of our mission, and the dignity of our calling, and

In speaking of the influence for weal or woe, in time and eternity, which the, teaching bad habits and natural impediments of er's character and conduct exerts on his pupils, he made a solemn appeal to parents, pointing out their responsibilities, and warning them to be careful how they entrust the in rapibity as improvement advances. # How the Mighty have Fallen !

Gov. Pollock was elected Governor of his Commonwealth by a fraction over thir ty-seven thousand of a majority. He was pported as the Know-Nothing as well as the Whig candidate, and his election was hailed by members of the secret order elsewhere as a most triumphant victory of "SAM," and his peculiar principles. The old line Whigs who were induced to cast their votes for him. were not, after the election, permitted to take to themselves an vota of the credit of this brilliant achievement. The Know Nothings, impotent by themselves, achieved the victory by fooling the "old liners," and after they had done it, they threw up their caps and exclaimed, "the credit is ours." Mr. DARSIE received some seventy thousand votes in all, and this result was regarded as a test of the strength of the real Whig party. Since then however, we have been told that hundreds and thousands of the old line Whigs and Democrats have joined the organization, and that now the Know-Nothing organization has

We said that Gov. Pollock received a fraction over thirty-seven thousand of a majority. This was effected by the united Whig force in the State, and some twenty-five thousand Democrats, who left our party voting for him. But it is not to be presumed that every man who voted for him belongs to the secret order. This is the mistake ; and we shall refer to a few facts to prove what we say to be correct.

In June last, an election was field in the city of Philadelphia for Mayor. Mr. Con-RAD was elected by over eight thousand maority. He received the entire Know-Nothing vote, and the result was regarded as the real strength of the secret order in that city. At the October election, so great had been the change in public opinion, that Gov. Pol-LOCK was only able to obtain a majority of thurty-eight hundred. Here was a falling off, in the short space of four months, of over four thousand. "Sam" crowed to be sure, but it was one of those "crows" which indicated that he was in rather a sickly condi-

Gov. POLLOCK received in the city of Pittsburg a majority of near fourteen hundred, and in Allegheny city of near twelve hundred. An election was held in both those cities last month for Mayors. Volz, the anti-Know-Nothing candidate in Pittsburg, beat Mon-GAN, the Know-Nothing candidate, over four hundred, while ADAMS, the anti-Know-Nothing candidate in Allegheny, beat his Know-Nothing competitor nearly three hundred.-Here, then, in the short space of three months a change was effected in public sentiment, in ooth those cities, of over three thousand votes. 'Sam'' did not crow on this occasion. He was prostrate, though not blind to the fact that his power was departing from him, even faster than he had acquired it.

Gov. POLLOCK received in the city of Lancaster a majority of nearly eight hundred. This was said to be the real strength of the Know-Nothing organization in that city: An election was had there for Mayor last Tuesday, and Mr. ALBRIGHT, the Know-Nothing candidate was elected by a majority of two hundred and sixty. Here, in the short space of four months, there has been a failing off in the organization of nearly five hundred votes. Some of "Sam's" friends have been trying to crow about this victory, but any man of ordinary shrewdness can see that

Great Snow Storm at the West.

There probably has never been such an enormous quantity of snow in any part of the United States, within a similar period of time, as has fallen in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan within lwo or three weeks. To the great difficulty of obstruction was added the greater one of excessive cold, which froze up the engines and thus compelled the trains to remain stationary, with no power to advance or receile. The passengers, in the mean time, were exposed to an atmosphere raging from ten to thirty degrees below zero; their fuel soon became exhausted, and, worse than all they were in danger of starvation.— A quantity of oysters in cans, destined for the use of the Governor of Illinois, saved the not sold will be rented. Inquire of passengers of one train from starving, and the seats of emigrant cars furnished the fuel which cooked the shell-fish and warmed the unfortunate eaters. Last Saturday aweak a train on the Rock Island Railroad was stuck fast in a snow bank eight miles from Chicago There were five engines, all of which were rozen up, and one hundred and fifty passengers were thus exposed to sufferings as bad as those of shipwreck. By great exertions they were rescued by the Chicago people and taken back to the city in private conveyances. In another part of the state, the famishing and frozen passengers were compelled to eat dogs to satisfy the clavings tion that dogs enough were to be found to furnish even such a repast. Calhoun and Henry Clay, spoke of fheir fame as orators; and affirmed that one half of that fame arose from the fact that they spoke the English language as it was written by the English classics; and from the peculiar power and distinctness of their delivery.

SATURDAY MORNING, 9 O'CLOCK Prayer by Mr. Miller. On motion, the time of discussion was 'limited' to one hour.

The hour was occupied by remarks on the best methods of teaching the Alphabet .---Messrs: Melliny, Hall, Benedict, Baker, Ewthat but one or two letters should be taught at a time, and that letters of similar sound or appearance should not be presented in immediate succession. They also agreed that the secret of success is exciting the child's interest, fixing his attention ; and thus exerci-sing his organs of form and comparison as well as taxing his memory. [Capital letters should not be used, in teaching the Alphabet.] The committee on resolutions, through their chairman, Mr. Hall, presented the following, which after some discussion, were unanimously adopted ::

Resolved, That we will do all in our power to encourage the present landable and measurably successful effort to introduce a nuiformity of good text books into the public schools of the county. Resolved, That our bretheren of Blair and other couties who have come up to the work the head of an organized army at Quebec. and aided us by their counsels, have manifested the proper professional spirit, and set an example worthy the highest commendation.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Inadvance the cause of education, or secure a high standing in the profession, will refuse to connect himself with the County Institute, or deny himself the reading of the " Pennsylvania School Journal."

He said the Democratic party has lost its ascendency in Michigan, and these resolutions are the result of the action of the new party.- I am now instructed to vote to deprive American citizens in the territories of the power to regulate the relations between ing and Pollock participated, all insisting master and servant, and for the repeal of the fugitive slave act, which was passed to give effect to the solemn guarantees of the constitution. I shall neither obey, these instruc-tions nor resign my seat. If a political party whenever, by whatever combinations, it attains power, can compel: its opponents holding legislative trusts to violate their conscience and consistency, or resign their positions, it would radically affect the organization of the Senate, and be incompatible with its office, as the representative branch of the sovereignty of the States.

The Senate would lose every characteristic of permanence, as power was transferred from one party to another. This would operate against the Democratic party, for their opponents do not recognize their right to instruct. The intolerant proscription which is advocated by the new party would exclude from political confidence the first General who fell at and the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence, because he was a Catholic. The adoption of either measure recommended by the Legislature of Michigan, stitute, no teacher that desires to do his duty, would be the sequel for the breaking up of in this country, who die under ten years of this government, and the dissolution of this confederacy. There are many honest men who scout all idea of danger, and are prepared to sacrifice the structure of freedom to one overpowering impulse. is the crow which precedes death.

We say to our readers, these are the only important elections which have been held since "Sam's" brilliant achievements in this State, and they prove most conclusively, that instead of the organization increasing in strength and power, it has become manifestly. weak. Democrats who, previous to the Mayor's election in Philadelphia, had joined the order, and assisted in the election of Mayor CONRAD, saw their error and remedied it at the October election. The consequence was, that the October election in that city proved the relative strength of parties to be the same as it was heretofore. In Pittsburg and Allegheny cities, the same thing occurred. Those who voted for Gov. POLLOCK. did it in good faith. Immediately after the Remarks of Gen. Cass. In the U. S. Senate, on Monday aweek, on remedied it at the Mayor's election. Although Lancaster city is the hot-bed of Know-Nothingism in this State, yet the friends of equal rights have in fact achieved a victory. To reduce the majority of Gov. POLLOCK a political feat, which "Sam" has no doubt by this time learned is not to be 'sneezed at." We ask then, is there no encouragement elections approaches nearly eight thousand votes, and the beauty of it is, the fact has become a part of the recorded political history of the State. It can not be gainsayed. It is, the "hand-writing on the wall," which gives warning that the American people have not, and will not, forget the great principles which gave us a republican existence. Secret-organizations may last for a time, and thus work out the plans and schemes of political demagogues, but the "sober second thought," of the people will remedy the evil, and assert the cause of truth, despite all efforts to the contrary,

If "Sam's" organization has lost in four months succeeding the last October election, eight thousand votes in Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Allegheny and Lancaster cities, what will become of the organization before the year 1855 closes ? This is a plain question, to which there is a plain answer. It will fall as all other isms have fallen, but to be just remembered that such an organization once existed. There are thousands in this State now, who have had their eyes opened to the injurious tendency of secret political associations, and when they shall again exercise the right of suffrage, it will be in favor of those principles which emanate from the constitution of the country. The signs of the times cannot be mistaken.-Harrisburg Union.
