All the information relative to the State Fair to be held at Harrisburg in September next, is given in the June number of the Pennsylvania Farm Journal, a monthly publication every farmer should subscribe for. The Journal and the "Pope-riden P. O. Department."

Since Gabe, Jr., has had control of the columns of the Journal, the citizens of the county who are aware of the littleness of his soul, have expected, as regularly as that sheet has been issued, an assassin-like attack upon somebody. He has no respect for age, the position of men in society, or the religion of those he would stab in the dark. He is, in truth, 'one of the Devil's own'; with a sanctimonious face to deceive those who know him not.

In the last Journal a charge is made that that paper is intentionally detained by Post Masters in this county--and names Cassville and Paradise Furnace, at which offices the Journal subscribers say the Globes are received regularly and the Journals are not. The insinuation that we are guilty of "willful rascality," because the subscribers to the Journal say they do not get their papers regularly, is in character with many other insinuations we might point out in the columns of that paper--but we shall merely say now, that as P. M. at Huntingdon, we have endeavored to discharge our duties faithfully, and we will be doing nothing more than an act of justice by saying the same of every other P. M. in the county. That the Journals have failed sometimes to reach their proper office we have no doubt, and we are only surprised that they have not failed oftener, for papers have never been mailed in any office as carelessly 'packed' as the Huntingdon Journal.

We ask Gabe, and the people, to read the following letter from Mr. HENDERSON, P. M. at Cassville:--

CASSVILLE, June 8, 1855. W. Lewis, Esq.: Sir--I received yours of the 6th inst., in regard to your inquiry relative to the failure of the Journals to arrive at this office. Only in two instances lately have they failed; once they, I suppose were left at Paradise Furnace, as they were sent up a day or two afterwards; the other, the Journals being put up in two packages, one that should have been directed to this place was directed to Three Springs, and did not get here until the next week. They come quite as regularly as the Globe--I have not discovered any difference. Sometimes the wrappers are not in a very good condition.

Respectfully Yours, JAMES HENDERSON.

The Lancaster Savings Institution, located in Lancaster, Pa., has closed. The funds of the institution to the extent of some 280,000 have been embezzled in some way, and the treasurer, Mr. C. Boughter, has been imprisoned on the charge of having made away with the same. The depositors are principally of the laboring classes.

Somebody and the Globe comes in for a good share of abuse in the last Journal, because somebody has insinuated to somebody that Gabe has been 'eavesdropping.' Gabe is always in trouble, and unless he is taken care of he will be a bad case of hydrophobia before the 'dog days' commence. We call the attention of our high constable to his case.

"We don't like to say the bantam of the Globe lies, when he insinuates we voted 'wrong' last fall, but he walks round the truth considerably."--Gabe, Jr., editor of the Journal.

We never insinuated that you voted 'wrong.' We have said that you did not vote the regularly nominated Whig ticket--the ticket you have insinuated you did vote.--You voted the ticket nominated by your party (the Know Nothing, or American party, one and the same.) and done all you could to defeat those of the Whig nominees who were not of your secret political party. Do you deny these facts? We have the documents.

Over $100,000 changed hands in Washington City, after the result of the Virginia election became known. "Sam" had bad luck.

The Prohibitory Law in Illinois. The whole vote of the State show a majority of about 5,000 against a Prohibitory Law.

"OUT OF THE PAN INTO THE FIRE."--It appears from Gabe's own showing this week that he will not be 21 years of age until the 19th inst. Gabe has said that he voted for Whigs at the last General Election. Gabe, you are a bad egg, we pity your weakness.

"Sam" C. ving In.

The Judicial election in Buffalo, New York, on the 5th inst., resulted in the election of the Democratic nominee by near two thousand majority, over his Know Nothing opponent.

The New York Tribune remarks that "the Judicial Election at Buffalo on the 5th was an event of importance at which all good citizens have reason to rejoice. It is the first time in this State that on any occasion of much moment, the mass of independent men from all the old parties have united to defeat and put down the Know Nothings. That secret party undertook to raise to the bench of the Superior Court one of their own number; and though their candidate had previously filled the office of Recorder, so far as we are aware creditably and acceptably, the fact of his nomination by the Order, and of his affiliation with its midnight lodges, was sufficient to rally against him a majority of above a thousand electors. We hail this result with satisfaction far exceeding that of any ordinary political triumph. It would indeed have been a public misfortune if the mechanism of signs, grips, passwords and mysterious cabals had sufficed to establish a Know Nothing, as such, upon the bench of justice.

It is bad enough that the devices of secret societies should be employed in the ordinary conflicts of politics; but when such societies go further, and attempt to decide judicial elections and to raise their neophytes to the responsible station of a judge, it is time that all good citizens should abandon their previous political differences and prejudices to join in preventing the attempted wrong and protecting the purity and respectability of the ermine. This has been done at Buffalo with signal success, and we congratulate the people of that city and of the State accordingly.

This election also has a significant political bearing. It shows that the Hindoos can be beaten throughout the State and in every part of it whenever there is sufficient reason for members of the former Whig and Democratic parties to combine against them."

At the city election in Norwich, Connecticut, on the 4th inst., Wm. L. Brewer, democrat, on the largest vote ever given in that city, was elected Mayor by over two hundred majority, and every candidate on the democratic ticket for Alderman, Common Council, Clerk, Sheriff, &c., was elected by about the same majority. There were great rejoicings in the streets. The Know Nothing majority in the town last April was over three hundred.

The Know Nothing National Convention.

After several days of bickering about their organization, the Know Nothing National Convention at Philadelphia have got ready for the transaction of regular business.--Each State, it appears, is allowed a representation of seven members. The members for this State, according to one correspondent, are Ex-Gov. Wm. F. Johnston, Pittsburgh; J. Bowman Bell, Reading; C. D. Freeman, McKean co.; Richard Coulter, Greensburgh; D. E. Small, Philadelphia; R. A. Lambertson, Harrisburg; F. A. Van Cleave.

Some few tilts have been had on the Slavery question, while discussing preliminaries, but the big row on that point is yet to come. In all probability, the convention will explode after a few days vain effort to patch up some sort of a platform designed to harmonize the rabid abolitionists of New England with the extreme men of the South.

VIRGINIA ELECTION.--The Richmond Enquirer of Friday last sums up the returns of 143 counties of the State, giving Wise a majority of 10,174. It remarks--

Wyoming county remains to be heard from. Its vote between Gen. Pierce and Gen. Scott was as follows: Pierce 29, Scott 42. The official returns may slightly vary some of the above majorities but any change will not lessen the aggregate Democratic majority. Mr. Wise's official majority we believe, will be about the round number of 10,000. There was a Democratic majority in the last legislature, viz: 14 in the Senate, and 22 in the House. The Democratic majority in the next legislature will be 14 in the Senate, and 37 in the House--Total 50.

Tansy and Peaches.

A writer in the New York Times recommends the sowing of tansy about the roots of peach trees, as a means of preserving them. He says that he once knew a large peach tree, which was more than forty years old, while several generations of similar trees in the same soil, had passed away. This led to an examination, and a bed of tansy was discovered about the trunk. It was naturally inferred that the preservation of this tree to such a green old age, was attributable to this plant. It was decided to try the experiment on others, and accordingly, a few of the roots were placed about each of the other trees on the premises, some of which gave signs of decay. Not only has it preserved for several years, but renovated those that were unsound. The odor of this plant, he says, doubtless keeps off the insect enemies of this kind of tree, and it would have the same effect on others, as the plum, apple and pear, as well as the elm, sycamore and other ornamental trees.

A KNOW NOTHING'S OPINION OF JEFFERSON.--The Louisville Courier (Know Nothing organ) has an article professing no disappointment in the result of the election in Virginia, and stating that 'Jefferson too thoroughly indoctrinated her with his radically heretical doctrines of government.'

From the Washington Union. Our Municipal Election.

In briefly alluding to the manner in which the election held in this city on Monday last was conducted, our purpose is to show what the country at large may expect if know-nothingism should obtain the same unbridled license elsewhere as it has already obtained in Washington.

In every State in the Union it has been customary, at all general and local elections, to make ample provisions for the protection of the rights of the minority at the ballot-box. To this end, one at least of the inspectors of every voting precinct has been cheerfully conceded to the party in opposition by the party in power. In this city there are seven election precincts, each entitled to three inspectors or judges. Prior to the election these judges were appointed by the know-nothing city councils, and in the blindness of their folly they selected nineteen of their own most active followers to fill these important offices. The remaining two judges were given to political opponents; and to render this trifling concession perfectly ridiculous and nugatory, the concessions were made in wards where their services could be of no practical benefit.

The trickery, fraud, and reckless violation of solemnly-guaranteed constitutional rights which marked the whole of last Monday's farce should excite no surprise. They were in perfect keeping with the scant principles and wanton excesses of know-nothingism.--When the vote was counted off, the know-nothings claimed an average majority of four hundred for their candidates--a trifle less than their majority of last year. How that majority was obtained is a matter of infamous notoriety.

Upwards of three hundred and fifty naturalized citizens, whom the courts had solemnly declared were justly entitled to all the rights and privileges of American citizenship, were not allowed by their know-nothing judges and masters to vote on Monday last. They produced their certificates.--Many of them proved that their votes were received at the last municipal election. Sam was inexorable. What cared he for the constitution, the laws, or the courts? They were of foreign birth, and that was sufficient. Vote they should not, and vote they could not.

It was stated in the report which appeared in our local columns yesterday that, by the preconcerted, systematic annoyances and delays on the part of those holding the election, hundreds of citizens were deprived from depositing their ballots, although they were in attendance at the poll for hours before the windows closed. This statement is fully corroborated by the testimony of witnesses of the highest respectability. If we add the naturalized vote that was thrown out to the vote that was lost through fraudulent impediments, it will be seen that the anti-know-nothings have a clear majority in the city of Washington of at least five hundred.

More Renunciations.

Thirteen well known citizens of Richhill township, Greene co., have come out in a card in the Waynesburg Messenger renouncing the Know Nothing order, and stating the reasons that induced them to become connected with it. They say:

We were led to believe that the organization was to place some limitation upon the influence of our foreign population, as well as the Roman Catholics. We confess that in taking this view of the case we overlooked the gross wrong sought to be inflicted upon a large portion of our people, but we may claim that we were at least honest in our views. A more familiar acquaintance with the leaders, objects and designs of political Know Nothingism has satisfied us that we have been grossly deceived, and that the only aim of the leaders of this midnight organization, against which we have been warned by the immortal Washington himself, is to place themselves in power. To attain such purposes, a popular prejudice is seized upon, and thus thousands of unsuspecting men, like ourselves, are deluded, into their foul machinations. Many of us were induced to enter the order on the representation that its objects were political, not intended to operate against the true principal of the Democratic party. We were surprised to hear, almost as soon as we entered, a project discussed, the side object and aim of which was to disorganize and break down the Democratic party. We therefore felt that a fraud had been practised upon us, that relieved us from any supposed obligations we had taken. We were also assured, that if upon trial, we did not like the order, we could withdraw without any difficulty or embarrassment; but we have found that in this as in any other representation no faith can be placed in their promises, and that an attempt to withdraw subjects us to abuse and misrepresentation. Notwithstanding this, we feel that our duty is a plain one--to renounce that which our conscience tells us is wrong.

In short, we have been grossly deceived as to the object of the party, and we renounce it as most unworthy and corrupting--really intended to break down the Democratic party, and whose only effect will be to sow broadcast, the seeds of political corruption, and private immorality and falsehood. In conclusion, we would earnestly appeal to others who like ourselves, have been thus deceived, to throw aside the delirious which prevents them from leaving this foul order. The oath which they and we took have no force either in law or good morals--indeed an illegal obligation, and one at war with the Constitution and laws of the country, should at once be repudiated as unworthy of freeman and good citizens.

Public Avowal of Principles.

The Know Nothing meeting at Stuyvesant Institute, N. Y., on Saturday evening last, was telegraphed as the first great public declaration of principles on the part of the order. The principal speaker on the occasion professed that he did not belong to the tribe, but accorded with their views. He declared he would prefer Fred. Douglass if sound on the American question to any white man who wasn't. The sentiment was vehemently cheered.

Andrew Johnston, (not our Andy,) Governor of Tennessee, says some hard, but true things about the Know Nothings. In a speech the other day he said: The Devil, his satanic majesty, the prince of darkness, who presides over the secret conclave held in Pandemonium, makes war upon all branches of Christ's church. The know-nothings advocate and defend none, but make war upon one of the churches, and thus far become the allies of the prince of darkness.

SAD RESULT OF JESTING.--On the 2d instant, at Memphis, Tennessee, a young man in a spirit of levity, said to Mrs. Green Warrley, a respectable lady in delicate health, that her husband had been seriously injured by a dray running over him. The announcement gave her such a shock that she immediately fainted, and in a short time was a corpse.
