Democratic State Nomination: FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER ARNOLD PLUMER. OF VENANGO CO.

Read New Advertisements. Geo. Gwin is selling off his summer stock of dress goods at reduced prices. . Cr Lost, $159-$10 Reward. IF Taks Notice, by Geo. Couch.

The unexpected crowd of job work in our new office, and the friendly calls of many of our subscribers since the commencement of Court, has prevented us from giving much attention to the editorial department of the Globe this week.

The Democratic County Convention. The Democratic delegates will meet in Convention to-day, and we predict harmonious action and the nomination of a full Democratic Ticket. The right spirit prevails in our ranks, and Know Nothingism and its outside influence is begining to give way under the pressure of popular public opinion which is crushing it to the earth.

Wm. B. Reed's Letter.

In to-day's Globe will be found an able and manly letter by Wm. B. Reed, Esg., to the Chairman of the Whig State Central Committee resigning his post as a member of said Com-State. Will the Journal publish the letter ?--It will is its editors are not wholly under the control of the dark lantern party.

The Louisville Butchery.

On the opposite page the reader will find the dctails in part of the bloody riots in Louisville on the day of election. Two things are made clear from the admission of the Know Nothing organ published in Louisville; first, that the Know Nothings took possession of the polls on Sunday night and remained there; and, secondly, that numbers of the naturalized citizens, and doubtless the anti-Know-Nothings were prevented from voting by armed and turbulent mobs! This is certainly, says the Washington Union, the first instance of the kind that has happen. ed in the United States; but it is a natural and a necessary sequel of the policy of proscription and bigotry upon which the secret party is tounded. When a political organization gathers under its banner such elements, violence and unarchy are certain to follow. When the know nothings took their stand against all citizens abroad, naturalized or not, and when they set up a religious test, it was only a natural transition for them to resort to violence to carry out their objects. It has been so before and it will be so again. We only regret that so many of our citizens should have doubted that such would be the fruits of the new party. And now that all these doubts have been dispelled by the North Corolina Election. The Democrats have carried the State by from eight to ten thousand majority. And have elected six, and the Know Nothings two, members of Congress. A Democratic Alabama Election.

John A. Winston, Democrat, is elected Governer of Alabama by a large majority. The Congressional delegation will stand five Demo. crats and two Know-Nothings.

Boys, take Warning.

Yesterday, Esq. Snare committed two boys to jail for defacing and tearing down bills. Any

THE "BROAD TOP PIC NIC."-Our young folks had quite a happy time of it on Thursday mittee. Mr. R., as is well known, is one of the last, at "Fountain Grove" on the Broad Top ablest and most influential Whig leaders in the Rail Road cight miles above this place. At 10 o'clock on said day, a passenger car filled to ed, they can well keep a full garrison in each overflowing with the life of the "ancient borough," and a double freight car loaded down with the good things provided for the occasion, slid out of town. All returned (the catables and d---- excepted) in good time, delighted Black Sea, and may compel the Allies to send with the excursion.

Facts for the People.

1. When the vital principles of our Government have been attacked, and the country been in danger, what party was it that stood up as a tower of defence? The Democratic party. 2. When the hated Alien and Sedition laws were introduced as the basis of our national policy, and anarchy and disorder were threatening, at every moment, to break out, what stemmed its course and repelled its attacks ?-The Jeffersonian Democracy.

3. In the second war of independence, what party was it that refused supplies and succor to our Government, and burned blue lights whilst the enemies of the country were destroying the capitol, ravaging the country and murdering the inhabitants? It was not the Demoeratic party.

4. What party war it that originated the Hartford Convention, and proclaimed the rankest moral treason. It was not the Democratic party.

5. In the Mexican war, what party welcomed our gallant volunteers with bloody hands and says: "The Know Nothings comprise the best, and purest, and noblest men of the land, look where we may, whether to the east, the west, the north or south. The ablest and patriotic men that were in the ranks of both the old parties advocate the American principles of he new party." Now, we would ask any intelligent man to cast his eyes around, among the "ablest and prtriotic men that were in the ranks of both great men of our nation-the men of pure patriotism and gigantic intellects, who have for years been recognized as statesmen, in the proper acceptation of the term,-not one is to be found in the ranks of Know Nothingism; on the contrary every one, whose voice honor me as an equal. How can they forget has at all been heard upon the subject, has and lay aside these first obligations, to swear condemned "the American principle of the the Asiatic Turks the reinforcement they ask. Russsia is playing the game of war skilfully, and with greater strategy than the Allies, who find each day an additional amount of labor prepared for them to execute before they call themselves masters of the Crimea, or are able to dictate terms to Russia, limiting her naval power in the Black Sea. The destruction of the new French battery before the Malakoff shows that the sortics of the Russians are producing the mischief intended, though Pelissier continues to report that the "enemy was again last night gloriously repulsed in a sortie."-From all evidences presented, we do not see that Sebastopol is any nearer falling than it was seven months ago. ' The approaches are now so near, that the firing tells on both sides with terrible effect, The Unwavering Democracy.

Notwithstanding the desperate and persevering efforts of the secret and allied order of Abolitionism and Bigotry, by misrepresentation and flattery, to draw the Democracy into its spider's web, they (most truly remark a cotemporary,) nave most signally failed. Our ranks were never firmer than, now, and the great principles which are the base of the Democratic policy never presented themselves to the country in a stronger light. From time to time, as occasion has offered, or they were called upon to do so,

A Pointed Appeal.

A correspondent of the Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist, over the signature of "A Mason and Odd Fellow," uses the following pointed and convincing language :

"I am of foreign birth, and of Roman Catholic parentage, yet a Protestant in faith and expect to remain so, unless this know-Nothing inquisition serves to drive me from the church into the wilderness; for I lay it down as a fixed fact that the child who is wanting in regard for his parents while living is worthy of no respect or confidence; and the the old parties," and say who of them is now child who can tolerate abuses of the creed or erile and mean to merit the esteem or confidence of any man or party. For this reason, then, I despise this midnight monster. "Again, I am a mason, likewise an Odd Fellow; and, for very many years, have regarded these men as my covenanted brethren, whose plighted honor bound them to help me in my distresses, defend my fair name, and and enter into a league to degrade me, or any of the hundreds of Masons and Odd Fellows who happen to be of Catholic parentage or foreign birth?

"These are the emotions of mind under which I am passing, trying all the time to bring myself to believe that, in the church, my brethren, who advise and pray for me, have not considered the matter as it affects social relations, and need but to be directed to a proper contemplation of the spirit of suspicion and distrust it must engender to abandon its unhallowed leadings; and that my brother Masons and Odd Fellows will, from these hints thrown out in fraternal kindness, see the inconsistency and unreasonableness of taking a new obligation that, in its effects. tends to annual and destroy the first, the older, the purer, and better covenants of Faith, will participate. This is probably for the pur. Hope, and Charity, and of Friendship, Love,

Our Superintendent and the Dictionary. Without any inclination to convict the Superintendent of a misdemeanor or violation of the School law, we shall proceed to state our objections to Worcester's Dictionary.

After Mr, Webster had completed his great work, "The American Dictionary," the pub. lishers asked for an abridgement of the same. Mr. Worcester was employed to perform the task, and here he made himself familiar with Mr. Webster's plans and various improvements, and gained a little notoriety by being a parasite work in his own name, in which we shall be able to show that he has acted the part of a pla-main state of a pla-main state of the part of a pla-main state of the plane of the -and again catering to British authority-now imitating one author, and now another : in one edition he spells in one manner and in a later edition he spells the same words in another way. His work a standard in neither country embodics the errors of both. Beginning with the let. the other officers of the other Brigades, ter A, we find a dozen words differently spelled members of the committee, failing to attend in different editions; under the letter B, we find twenty ; under C, we find eighteen, and so on through the work.

letter s the sound of z in a large class of words such as disable, dismay, disjoin, &c. What is more disagreeable than to hear the nasel sound of z given to the letter s, and twanged out through an Englishman's crooked nose ?

The Dictionary is also deficient in its definitions. Vague and unsatisfactory, it too often defines words by synonyms, or words meaning the same thing,

Mr. Worcester in an effort to be original, has coincd new words, which are not sanctioned by good usage, and found in no other work. As specimens we give the following:-cookce, a hundred others which may be considered leaders of that once powerful party have merg-ed it into the abolition know nothing proscripmere verbiage of the language. ANOTHER RECRUIT .- Mr. Brown, editor of the Marion, Indiana, Republican, formerly a whig paper, announces that hereafter he will be found battling with the great democratic party of the country. The Rook Island Democrat says-"The editor of the Republican is not the only tive party. the old standard bearers of the Democracy have promptly taken decided grounds against the secret organization and proscriptive doctrines of Know Nothingism; and many even, who, from long and arduous service, were entitled to repose, have been brought to a new energy, by the new dangers that threaten the country, and are now found battling with all their might, against this new and secret foe, all the spirit of intolerance, fanaticism and illiberality it has sought to engender. There has been no compromise, concession, or dalliance, and no quasi toleration of the midnight conspirators because they were Their political heresies have been openly met, openly discussed and openly denounced in the burning language of outraged patriotism.

PRESENCE OF MIND-ESCAPE FROM A MADMAN .- The Chicago Press tells the following story :

"A lady was one evening in her drawing room alone, when the only inmate of the house, a brother, who had been betraying a tendency to unsoundness of mind, entered with a carving knife in his hand, and shutting the door came up to her and said : 'Margaret, an odd idea has occurred to me. I wish to paint the head of John the Baptist, and I think yours might make an excellent study for it. So, if you please, I will cut off your head. The lady looked at her brother's eye, and, seeing no token of jest, concluded that he meant to do as he said. There was an open window and balcony by her side, with a street in front, but a moment satisfied her that safety did not lie in that way. So, putting on a smiling countenance, she said with the greatest apparent cordiality; "That is a strange idea, George; but would it not be a pity to spoil this new lace tippet I have got on ? I will just step to my room and put it off, and be with you again in half a minute." Without waiting to give him time to consider, she stepped lightly across the floor and passed out. In another moment she was safe in her room, whence she easily gave alarm and returned, when the madman was secured.

Heart-rending Calamity.

On Wendesday evening last, a gentleman liv. ing near Communipaw Lane, Hudson county O.-we have not learned his name-met with a sudden and untimely end, under the following circumstances. It appears that he had in his house a three barreled pistol, loaded. He told his wife he believed he would discharge the poematic; sportability, timeous, politicalism, whig editor in the north who has lately had to his wife he believed he would discharge the scribblement, &c. We are able to give about join the democracy, owing to the fact that the loads. She replied that she would like to fire her to be careful to point the pistol upward .-She did so, and two barrels went off; the third, she told him, missed fire. He replied that perhaps it might not be load. ed, and, requested her to hand it to him for examination. But alas ! for all human calcula.

We again assert that the next presidential race will be between the abolitionists, know-noth-ings and disunionists on the one side and the national democracy, aided by all national whigs The married couple were devotedly attached to each other, and we learn that the unfortunate self-made widow, is now frantic with agony, bordering on insanity, in view of this terrible catastrophe.

Is the place where GARRETTSON sleeps.

When he lived he knew but gladness, Every joy was all his own, But the night of grief and sadness, When his spirit hence had flewn, Came upon us-thus we weep Over him that now doth sleep.

Angel wings have born his spirit To a purer land above, Where the blest forever inherit All the Father's holy love, And while love its vigils keep In the grave where GARRETTSON sleeps.

When the night of death came o'er him, And his eyes began to close Happy dreams went on before him Calling him to sweet repose, Any he fell in slumber deep. Leaving us below to weep .----

Then we laid his little fingers Quietly across his breast-Often now his memory lingers As if by divine behest, And though his reward he reaps, We will mourn him while he sleeps.

Then sweet zephyrs whisper lightly, Over that sacred hallowed spot, Where the moon beams sparkle brightly---Ah ! it cannot be forgot, For where yonder ivy creeps Is the place where GARRETTSON sleeps.
