Letter From California.

NEVADA Co., CALIFORNIA, Aug. 24, 1855. Mr Lewis :- Feeling like having a talk with somebody about affairs in "old Huntingdon," and not knowing of any person in these "diggings" with whom I can converse on this subject, I have concluded to take my pen and note down some of my thoughts, Yesterday I was sitting musing on the quiet customs, regular habits, and respect for am wont to call my home-old Huntingdon streams having' been already worked. A county. While thus engaged the "express- company has been formed, with a capital of man" came by, and handed me a package of a million and a half dollars, for the purpose letters and papers. Among others, 1 found of constructing a canal from the head of the two numbers of a paper, styled the "Hun-tingdon American." I had never before so Grass Valley, and other mining districts in quite a number of new ideas about the affairs will be a permament business along its

Catholic church and join the Protestants, tion. without being murdered before he went to sleep, which fact has been revealed "once upon a time" to these watchful editors. Truly this is an eventful period ! Permit me to say Mr. Editora word about this great "hue and cry" which has been a time when the mandates of this those of the sovereigns of the nations. King | rumbling thunder does the coming storm. John of England, did once prostrate himself and permit the Pope to put his foot upon his neck, in token of subjection. But since then as they were checked in the start, their there have been many causes at work, to un- | schemes did not amount to much. dermine and render effete, this usurped authority. Since Henry the VIII divorced Catharine in opposition to his commands, Church," and through his new made bishops, proceeded to excommunicate, and anathematise the Pope, there has steadily been a de-Church of Rome. About the same time the its influence-to dispel the darkness and suand ceremonies had for centures passed for true religion. One after another the princes of Europe have denied the supremacy of the Pope, and refused to acknowledge him as affairs. And since the first Napoleon showed the morning. that he might be kicked about as well as any other man, there has scarcely been a sover-owing to so many of the Whigs giving way eign in Europe that would show him the to despair, and others refusing to join in fuleast respect, but have alternately been ta- sion with the Democratic party. Our Demoking a "spat" at him as though he were a cratic friends did their duty, nobly and faithninepin set up for sport. Even Italy itself fully, and although, a few, who once were turned against him and he was forced to flee known by the name of Democrats, have joinfrom Rome like a hunted animal : nor would he now be there, had not Napoleon III restor-ed him to a kind of deputied power, to suit he old line Whigs had faithfully performed the old line Whigs had faithfully performed his own political purposes. And this is the their part, Know Nothingism would have repotentate of which the Order of Native ceived its death blow in Morris. No more at present, are quaking in their shoes for fear of the but when another year rolls around, I trust are quaking in their shoes for fear of the Pope, have got their impression of his imperial greatness, from that verse in the song of "Jeannette and Jeannotte," where he is thus mentioned : "Were 1 the king of France-Or greater yet, the Pope of Rome. I'd have no fighting men abroad, Or weeping maids at home." Another item in this newspaper which takes my attention is the "plank" of the platform which recommends the "formation of societies, for the amplest protection of American interests." Surely this is a laudable enterprise ! The character and propensities which are peculiar to a people as individuals, will also be characteristic of them as a nation, or as a body politic. And who will affirm that we calculating, money-making Américans, are too much given to philanthropy, and are too negligent or regardless of our own interests? Here in California where almost every nation of the earth is represented, and where the field of enterprise is alike open to all, I notice that the Yankees are fully able to take care of themselves, and would'nt give two cents, (if we had any such John Bull, the Pope's Bulls, "foreign influenalarmed the wigwams of the "Know Nothings." But a truce to discussing the writings and doctrines of these new editors; both of Dated at Huntingdon the 22d of Aug., in the whom are strangers to me, unless this Mr. Barr, is our old friend the teacher. Of late years the editors of the Huntingdon papers, (excepting the "Globe,") have—like other important "institutions"—been continually changing. One mounts the tripod and for a short time shines forth as a beacon of lightbrighter than Vesuvius-more eloquent than "Angel Gabriel," then sinking again into obscurity. And if I remember rightly, one did worse than sink into oblivion, for I recollect seeing a notice, written by one of your editors, some time last fall, purporting to be a "farewell address," to a brother editor, whom the writer had transmogrified into a "beast of the field," (showing his picture) and had sent out to grass like Nebuchudnezzar of old. Now should s'any sinner thus dispose of these editors of whom I have been speaking,
