The Messages.

We give this week, in addition to four regular issue, the Presidents Message in an extra. We expected to be able to give the message of Gov. Pollock in the same Extra, but we were disappointed. Gov. The Legislature.

The utmost harmony prevails among the Democratic members,-both branches were fully organized on the first day of the session, and everything indicates that after the U.S. Senator question is settled, we shall have a business session. Monday the 14th inst., has been fixed upon by a joint resolution of both branches and approved by the Governor, as the time for electing a Senator. Who the successful gentleman will be it is not now possible for any man to say with any certainty. All agree that he will be a Democrat, in the world months before, they know nothproud of.

The Broad Top Region.

The sale of Saxton town lots which was advertised to take place on the 25th of last month, was adjourned, on account of the weather, until the 22d of the present month. Twelve or fifteen lots however, were disposed of on said day, at good prices, to persons Democrat in Huntingdon county take the who intend to put up dwellings and buildings for business early in the spring. Saxton will be a business town, and those who wish to labor a little to increase our subscription list, transporters, and made an arrangement with locate a home should attend the next sale.

Drs. Miller & Frazer.

These gentlemen, the public will learn by reference to their card in to-day's Globe, are now partners in a profession of which they have been pronounced by the most competent judges, to be perfect masters. We have frequently examined specimens of their workmanship, and we would recommend to all who may need the services of a Dentist, to call on Drs. MILLER & FRAZIER. If they cannot give perfect satisfaction, no others at FASHIONAALE. FOLKS .-- An upper crust wedding took place last week in New York, a full description of which would occupy about two columns of our paper. There were fifteen hundred invited guests, and upper tendom, male and female, put on their best clothes. The handkerchief carried by the bride cost $250 and her entire dress $5000. How many of the poor of New York might have been relieved with half of that sum?-And it may be probable that the 'happy coupie' may want what they have extravagantly thrown away.

Congress.-Nothing doing. No Speaker yet. The Know Nothing and Abolition parties are showing the people how to squander their money. They are the reform parties the people have heard so much talk about. The next Presidential election will bury them

A Word to our Friends.

There are at least sixteen hundred Democratic voters left in Huntingdon county-sixteen hundred men as true as steel, but not four, should be receiving the Huntingdon tic paper published in the county—the only organ the party has, and every Democrat who is not a subscriber should send us his name of the party, to stand by it through evil as well as through good report, and to defend its standard bearers from every attack of the opif our paper does not circulate all over the county. Office Pennsylvania Railroad Co. Philadelphia, Dec. 31st, 1855.

To the Editor of the North American: An article in your paper of Saturday, refering to the subjects that will attract the atalways found at their proper places when the tention of the Legislature at its approaching hour of trial comes, and it is our opinion, let session, among other matters, alludes to the others think as they may, that twelve hun- effect of certain acts said to be those of this dred of them, to say nothing about the other Company, in a manner which seems to require some notice. It is therein stated "that owing to the withdrawal of the transporta-Globe every week! It is the only Democration Companies from the Main Line, its earnings this year will be 96,000 short of the aggregate of last year," and that "the policy of the State will undoubtedly be to punish any improper interference with the business of at once. We are expected to fight the battles | the public works." If the acts of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company referred to, have improperly interfered with the revenues of the State, its Board of Directors will not object to the infliction of due punishment for position, and we cannot do it so successfully their proceedings. To enable the Public to form a correct judgment in relation to this subject, however, I will submit a few facts bearing upon it, and leave them to draw derfully, and makes his pen run glibly, when their own conclusions. These are substan-

The purchase of the cars of the was not made until after long and repeated able him to meet his "paper man" without importunities from them, with the positive fear and trimbling! We trust our friends assurance that they would withdraw their stock from the Main Line, unless a reduction of tolls was conceeded to them, that it was notice, and send us "material aid" in the not the interest of the State to adopt. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company until after several consultations between the parties interested, and members of the Board of Canal Commissioners, who individually expressed themselves favorably as to its effects upon the revenues of the State.

Secondly. The decrease in the receipts of the Main Line, alluded to in-your article, inis absolutely necessary that he should have stead of following, preceded the withdrawal of the transporters from it.

Thirdly. The revenues of the State from the transportation of produce, &c, between and false teachers. Every man is able to Philadelphia and Pittsburg, since the withtake a county paper if he would only think drawel of the transporters from the Main line, have greatly exceeded those for a corresponding period of last year.

Fourthly The transporters had determined to withdraw their stock from the Canal, previous to the sale of their cars to the Company, for the reason that the business was not, and could not be made proffitable, unless the Canal Commissioners would reduce their and one the party will have reason to be ing about what is going on in their own tolls greatly below the amount the State recounty-in their own neighborhood. They ceived from the same tonnage, passing over the Columbia and Pennsylvania Railroads.

Fifthly. For the purpose of continning their connection with the State works, transporters submitted to the Canal Commissioners a reduced schedule of tolls, which the Board declined to adopt. This determined them to withdraw. Sixthly. To prevent the business which had heretofore passed over the State works, from seeking other channels between the East and the West, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company purchased the cars of the and, by so doing, cheer and encourage us and a portion of them, by which that object was

> The Pittston Coal Company purchased the most of their boats, and transferred them to the Susquehanna division of the Pennsylvania Canal, where they have increased and will continue to increase the business of that portion of the public works, and consequently the revenues of the State.

Seventhly. The withdrawal of the through business from the Main Line, west of Columbia, had the effect to greatly reduce the working expenses of the Portage Railroad, thus reducing also the drafts upon the public treasury. The arrangement with the transporters has in fact, benefitted the State, directly and indirectly, to a greater extent than the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Eightly. The reasons that induced the transporters to withdraw from the contest with the railroads between the East West, for transportation of freights, will be place to Martinsburg, and Woodbery, in the rich appreciated by the public when they reflect agricultural valley of Morrison's Cove; and on between the Reading Railroad and the Schuyl- | Junction House in said town. And arrangekill Navigation—if there existed upon the latter improvement, a transhipment to railroad cars at Reading, with railroad transportation thence, say to Pottstown, then by boats to the Falls of Schuylkill, and a retranshipment to cars to reach the Delaware.

The rates of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company must be arranged to meet the competition of other routes north and south, without reference to those of the main line, for the purpose of retaining the trade within our own State.

A careful consideration of the above facts will enable the public to judge whether the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has improperly interfered with the revenues of the State, or whether the main line-no matter how al tered—can be relied upon by Pennsylvania to compete for the trade of the West with the The Funded Debt of the State is put down active rivals and superior improvements on $39,907,799 97 the north and on the south of her.

It is quite time that the State authorities should look at this question in a practical light. If the offer of this company, under date of April 3d, 1852, had been accepted by the State, she would by this time have saved fully two and a half millions of dollars, exsable as rapidly as the means of the Treasury | pended in the construction of the new road and in working the old one across the Allegheny mountains. The State has since adopted and now use about eight miles of the Pennsylvania Road as a part of her main line, and could in the same manner have used their whole road over the mountain.

There has been no wish nor intention upon the part of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to depreciate the value of the Main Line, in any communication of the Board of the Stockholders in relation to it, or otherwise. Facts and arguments drawn from public documents, equally accessible to all, have drawn. The sale of the Main Line to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company having been objec-Board of Directors of the Company have no desire to encumber themselves with the management of any portion of it west of Columing the same period, $201,508 00, and for the bia. But as about one half of the stock of the company is held by Allegheny county and Philadelphia, it would be difficult to find a purchaser that could give the same guarantees that the work would be managed with a view to promote the public welfare, the object for which the Commonwealth originally constructed the work.
