Jacob Harnace will sell at public sale, at his residence in Porter township, his farm stock, farming implements, and household furniture, on Thursday the 20th day of March.

THE COUNCIL ROOM ALMOST DESERTED.—“Attention Americans!” Under this caption, an official call was made last week, requesting “the members of the American party to meet in the Council Room on Friday evening, for the purpose of ratifying the nominations” of the so-called National Convention of the Know-Nothings.

Friday evening came, of course, but it exhibited a magnificent fizzle of the Thugs, according to a well-authenticated account. For be it known, they have not abandoned their secret meetings, their impious oaths, and their proscriptive, unconstitutional doctrines. But their doings “will out!”

We say it was a complete fizzle! For, fifteen minutes’ notice at any hour of any day would collect five times the number present (at the Council Room) to any meeting called for any other purpose.

Not more than a dozen or so of this dodging clan repaired to the Council Room to ratify the nomination of Millard Fillmore and Andrew Jackson douelson for President and Vice President of the United States; and these, principally, were the old wire-workers and dictators of the defunct whig party.—Their countenances looked pale, and their limbs trembled, as they gazed around the almost vacant hall, and thought themselves the “faithful few among the faithless world.” It was agreed that the nominations be ratified, and it was done, without disturbing the peace or repose of the next door neighbors. After which, secret arrangements were made with regard to the approaching Spring election, when they disbanded.

And thus have the Know-Nothing nominations been ratified in old Huntingdon. From all which we report, Know-nothing stock below par, with a downward tendency.

MUSICAL CONCERT AND EXHIBITION.—Miss Brunner will give a musical concert at the Court House on Friday evening next.—The object of this concert is to give an exhibition of the progress of her pupils on the Piano; the relatives and friends of whom, as well as the lovers of music, and citizens generally, should attend. We bespeak for Miss B. a large audience. Admission 12 1/2 cents.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We learn that the old and well established firm of FISHER & McMURTRIE will commence, in a few days, the erection of a large three-story brick Grist Mill at the west end of the borough, on the site of the present old dilapidated stone mill. It will be the largest and best mill in this section of country, and well furnished with the latest improvements in machinery, &c.

The West Huntingdon Improvement Company have contracted with our enterprising neighbor, JAMES SAXTON, Esq., for the erection of two large buildings in West Huntingdon.

We will speak of these and other contemplated improvements, more at length, at some future time.

THE LADIES FAIR.—The Ladies of the Presbyterian congregation of this borough will hold a fair at the Town Hall during the first and probably the second week of the April court. We are assured that every effort is being made to render it highly attractive, amusing, and beneficial. The ladies, who are always foremost in every enterprise of christian charity and benevolence, should, and we doubt not, will be sustained by the presence and the purses of the “sterner sex.” Every conceivable article of ornament and utility will be on hand for sale, “cheap for cash.”

“Oh! there’s a good time a-comin’, boys—Wait a little longer.”

GRAPES.—THEO. H. CREMER, Esq., has our thanks for a quantity of grapes as fresh and sweet as when they were taken from the vine. They are quite a luxury at this season of the year. We do not know how they have been preserved, but any information on the subject can be obtained from Mr. Cremer.

NEW STORES.—We are to have three or four new stores opened out in town in the course of a few days. Notice will be given in the columns of the Globe when they are ready for customers.

A CARD.
Mr. Lewis:—Permit me, through your columns, to correct a misstatement that seems to have gone abroad, and which if not corrected, may have a tendency to retard the progress of the “Huntingdon Commercial School.”

The statement represents me as going away in the present or coming month to teach in another place. This idea, no doubt, has originated from my having received a communication from the Principal of the “Penna. Commercial Institution,” asking me to teach there. Now to set this matter right before the public, I will state that that invitation was declined when received, and this Institution will not therefore be closed as has been anticipated.

My intention has been and is, to build up a permanent Institution, in which a very important, but much neglected, part of the business men’s information may be obtained at much less cost than it can be in large Cities, and thus bring it within the reach of all.

T. H. POLLOCK.
Huntingdon, Pa., March 7, 1856.

OUR NEIGHBORS.
Johnstown.—The Echo says that the damage occasioned by the recent fire at the Cambria Iron Works has been repaired, and three of the blast furnaces are in operation. The greatest energy was manifested by all concerned in these works, to repair the loss in the quickest time.

The Cambria Iron Company is ready to furnish rail road iron of the best quality, and in any quantity that may be desired.

The Echo has hoisted the name of James Buchanan for President—and throws a well-timed hint to several democratic editors who are ‘slightly previous’ in agitating the question, who shall be our next gubernatorial candidate? and says:

“We regard all discussion on this subject, at this time, as premature. Let us first secure Pennsylvania for the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention, and also elect our State ticket and a majority in both branches of the State Legislature. It will then be time enough to decide who the candidate for Governor shall be.”

Bellefonte.—The Democratic Watchman, of Wednesday last, says:

“The branch of one of the Pittsburg banks” located in Bellefonte, is in the hands of known respectable and responsible business men, while the cashier, Mr. Murray, has an unblemished reputation for intelligence and integrity; thus far the “branch” has not only been appreciated, but has proved a benefit to the people.”

Lewistown.—The Democrat gives a case of somnambulism which occurred there on Friday night:

“John A. Cummins, clerk at the new Steam Mill, while asleep, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Thomas M’Kee, got out of his bed, and jumped out of the front window, alighting upon the porch. The shock awakened him, and he soon aroused some one to let him into the house. Except a sprained foot, he received no injury.”

At the Lutheran church in this place, services continue to be held almost every day and evening. Large numbers have flocked around the altar, to send their prayers on High, and seek salvation. We doubt not large accessions to the church membership will be the result.—Ed.

Hollidaysburg.—Some graceless scamp who had access to our news-table, pocketed last week’s Standard, and we learn from the other papers that considerable excitement exists there in consequence of the efforts that are now being made to dispose of the main line of public improvements. A meeting was held, resolutions passed, and speeches made against the sale.—James M. Bell, Esq., it appears, favored the sale; and in consequence, was burnt in effigy! Poor revenge, we would say.—The Register mentions that the protracted meetings at Logan’s Valley and Altoona Lutheran Churches, under charge of the Rev. Mr. Baker, closed a couple of weeks ago. In the former 70 made a profession of religion, 40 of whom connected with the Church; and in the latter 93 made a profession, 78 of whom joined the church.—

The History of the Juniata Valley, now in process of publication, will be issued in a few days. U. J. Jones, Esq., assistant editor of the Standard, a writer of some celebrity, is the author, and we doubt not the work will be replete with interest. It will be illustrated by 12 or probably 14 engravings, from original designs furnished by Dr. Jeremy Wilson. Among the illustrations will be—

Hart’s Log, or Watering Place.
Continental Mill at Barree.
Chimney Rocks, opposite Hollidaysburg.
Pulpit Rocks, Warrior Ridge.
Scene below Patterson.
Scene below McVeytown.
Mill Creek.
The Old Bridge near Petersburg.
Scene below Williamsburg.
The Eastern Reservoir.
Mouth of Cave in Sinking Valley.
Junction of the Big and Little Juniata.

And probably others. The book will contain 34 chapters embracing the early settlement of the Valley—the French and Indian Wars—and the predatory incursions of the savages and their massacres during the Revolution, when the upper end of the Valley was the Pennsylvania frontier.

This History, will, without a doubt, be the most interesting to the residents of the Valley ever published, and if there is a single man who does not secure a copy, it will be because he cares nothing about transmitting to posterity the trials and sufferings of our early pioneers.

Clearfield.—A large meeting of the friends of the Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad was held at Clearfield on the 20th ult. Hon. J. P. Hoyt was chosen President, John Patchin and Jas. B. Graham, Vice Presidents; and D. W. Moore and S. B. Row, Secretaries.—Hon. Jas. T. Hale addressed the meeting, and urged the people along the line to make up the amount yet wanting to secure the charter. Before the meeting closed $8000 were subscribed, which, with that before raised, is sufficient to obtain the charter. The prospects for the making of this road are very fair, and the probability is that it will be put under contract during the coming summer.

—The Republican says:—We read an account a few days ago, of a physician having extracted an incredible number of needles from the foot of a lady, which had been there buried for several years without causing any pain—the lady not even being aware that her foot was a veritable “needle case.”

A somewhat similar circumstance recently occurred with a young lady—daughter of John Owens—within a few miles of this place. For a year past, she had suffered with a pain first in her left breast, then in her side, and last in her left leg, which finally festered, and from which she, a few days ago, extracted a clever sized needle.

“Put None but Americans on Guard to-night.”

We deny that GEORGE WASHINGTON ever issued such an order. As long as the assertion that he did, was confined to the Know Nothing press, we suffered it to pass without comment, trusting to the good sense of the American people to detect and appreciate the falsehood. But when men of character—statesmen of reputation, who are known to the whole country, such as Hon. JOHN J. CRITTENDEN, undertake to endorse the assertion, by repeating it in a public speech, it is time to meet and deny it. At the FILLMORE and DOWNSETT ratification meeting, held in the city of Washington, on the evening of the 29th ultimo, Mr. CRITTENDEN is represented as saying—

“The whole philosophy of our principles lay in one memorable order given by the Father of his Country during the darkness of the revolution—“Place none but Americans on guard to-night.”

Now, we profess to have read the history of the revolutionary war, the life of WASHINGTON, and many historical works embracing, we presume, all the orders issued by General WASHINGTON that were ever published, and we cannot find such an order, as the one we have quoted, on record. We presume, therefore, that no such order was ever issued, and we ask the Hon. J. M. J. CRITTENDEN to refer to his authority for making the assertion. It may, possibly, be found in some of LIPPARD’S writings; in fact, we believe we have seen it there; but no man of sense would pretend to quote from them as historical authority. At all events, we deny that WASHINGTON ever issued such an order, and we call for the proof from those who assert that he did.—Union & Patriot.

STILL THEY COME.—Hon. Isaac E. Hiester, whig member of the last congress from Lancaster county, has formally united with the Democratic party. Knownothingism was too much for him.

Jas. McCahon, Esq., Prosecuting Attorney of Jefferson county, at the late Democratic meeting in Brookville, formally renounced the dark lantern party, and declared his purpose to act with the Democracy hereafter.

HAVEN’T TIME TO READ.—The idea about the want of time is a mere phantom. Franklin found time in the midst of all his labors to dive into the hidden recesses of all his philosophy, and explore the untrodden path of science. The great Frederick, with an empire at his direction, in the midst of war, on the eve of battles which were to decide the fate of his kingdom, found time to revel in the charms of philosophy and intellectual pleasures. Bonaparte, with all Europe at his disposal, with kings in his ante-chamber begging for vacant thrones with thousands of men whose destinies were suspended by the brittle thread of his arbitrary pleasure, had time to converse with books. Caesar, when he had curbed the spirits of the Roman people, and was thronged with visitors from the remotest kingdoms, found time for intellectual conversation. Every man has time; if he is careful to improve it as well as he might, he can reap a threefold reward. Let mechanics make use of the hours at their disposal, if they want to obtain a proper influence in society. They can, if they please, hold in their hands the destinies of our Republic; they are numerous, respectable and powerful; and they have only to be educated half as well as other professions to make laws for the nation.

100 BUSHELS BUCKWHEAT for sale by CUNNINGHAM & DUNN,
Huntingdon, Feb. 27, 1856.

PROSPECTUS of a Monthly Periodical, to be regularly issued from and after April, 1856, entitled,

A COLLECTION OF THIRTY THOUSAND NAMES, &c., &c.

In compliance with the Laws of Pennsylvania; Masters of Ships importing emigrants from the continent of Europe, furnished, on their arrival at the port of Philadelphia, exact Lists of all imported foreigners. The original Lists are still preserved in the State Department, at Harrisburg, and, but for these, comparatively few of living millions would now scarce be able to determine with certainty the time of their ancestors’ arrival. Those who can appreciate motives, and sacrifices made, feel a laudable curiosity to know the names of all, who were “in perils in the sea” with their progenitors.— This curiosity, the Editor has attempted to satisfy, by the plan of arrangement adopted— grouping the names of a band of co-adventurers; thus investing them with additional interest.— He may have done more. This Collection may lead to the recovery of rights to inheritances, that might otherwise go unestablished. It is not, however, presumed that this, in itself, is judicial evidence; but may suggest modes of proof. One of the main objects, among others, of this publication, is to preserve names, which indifference or accidents might forever place beyond reach. And what can be a greater source of satisfaction to the descendants of those whose names are thus preserved, than a collection of this kind, and by this means hand names down to millions of a living progeny? If an old newspaper, with a grand old name, be carefully preserved, as a memento, why not value this proposed collection of thirty thousand names? Why not procure a copy at once, at a price within the reach of thousands? Hereafter, no opportunity may present itself. To afford those, who desire copies, an idea of the plan of arrangement, size of type, page and quality of paper, a specimen has been issued.— The volume will make nearly 500 pages. An Introduction, embracing general remarks, a complete catalogue of all the baptismal names that occur, with their significations, will be prefixed.

As soon as a thousand subscribers have been secured, this periodical will be issued monthly; each number to contain from 48 to 60 pages; otherwise, 24 pages will be issued monthly, till completed. To afford many an opportunity to subscribe, and to supply back numbers, at the least expense, the publishers have determined to pursue this course. Now is the time to subscribe, if you wish a copy. The edition will be limited. Terms.—One dollar per copy in advance of $1.50 on the completion of the volume. Any one who will send us ten subscribers with $10, shall receive one copy gratis.

Persons wishing copies, will please forward their names, address, Post Office, and the cash, to THIO. F. SCHEFFER, Book Publisher, No. 18, Market Street, Harrisburg.

Post Masters, and others, are requested to act as Agents, who will be allowed the usual percentage. Specimens will be sent, if requested. Address, RUPP, WINGERT & CO., Publishers, Harrisburg, Pa.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, Harrisburg, Jan. 31, 1856.

I. D. RUPP—Dear Sir: Having examined the arrangement of The Collection of Thirty Thousand Names, &c., proposed to be published by you, I feel free to recommend the same to the descendants of those ancestors whose names have been carefully copied from the original. It will be a valuable and interesting publication. Yours, very truly, JAMES POLLOCK.
