The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer has the following demonstration of the imassessed to the public, their experiences for the portance of obeying this old election

It is the cry at every political election, and has been so since we were "boys together," but we always took it to be one of the "tricks of the trade," to secure the votes of those who were inuble to resist the machinations of their political opponents, or to stand against' influences. But we are now able to see another and stronger reason for obeying the injunction. It is that the voter may be better able to see not only how, and every day until further notice, will be but what he votes. This will sometimes save a score of troubles, as the following case, which came out at the close of a late Petersburg election, abundant- priced qualities, Gentlemen's Furnishing ly testifies. A voter ran up as the polls were near closing and in his hurry numbered and dropped his ticket, which defined his political proclivities as those congenial to a "third party" only-a regular outsider. Here it is:

Truly the quiver of death has no arrow so fatal as Consumption. In all ages it has been the great enemy of life, for neither age nor sex, but sweeps of alike the brave, the beautiful, the graceful and the gitted. By the help of that Supreme Being from whom cometh every good and perfect permanent and speedy cure in Consumption. The first cause of tubercles is from impure blood, and the immediate effect produced by their deposition in the lungs is to prevent the free admission of air into the air cells, which at the Flour, Provision and Grocery Store of plush.
