WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?

Thy neighbor? It is him whom thou Hast power to aid and bless, Whose aching heart and burning brow Thy soothing heart may press. Thy neighbor? 'Tis the fainting poor, Whose eye with want is dim, Whom hunger sends from door to door-

Go thou and succor him. Thy neighbor? 'Tis that weary man Whose years are at their brim Bent low with sickness, cares and pain-Go thou and comfort him. Thy neighbor? "Tis the heart bereft

Of every earthly gem; Widow and orphan, helpless left-Go thou and shelter them. Whenever thou meet'st a human form Less tavored than thy own, Remember 'tis thy neighbor worm,

Thy brother or thy son. Oh! pass not, pass not heedless by; Perhaps thou cans't redeem The breaking heart from misery-Go share thy lot with him.

Why Muhammedans Abbor Pork.

In Europe, for many centuries, the only animal food in general use was pork-beef, veal and mutton being comparatively unknown. It was, therefore, with no small astonishment that the day morning, concludes an account of crusaders, on returning from the East, the matter as follows: said they had been among people who, like the Jews, thought pork unclean, Mrs. Austin, yesterday, and also Mr. and refused to eat it. The Erie Obscrver says Gen Shields, formerly of Illinois, but killed in that state for voting for the Nebraska Bill, has come to life again. A few years ago, he left Illinois, with an axe on his shoulder, and an ox goad in his hand, wended his way to Minnesota, where he employed his time in cutting timber, and hauling rails. We predicted that he would turn up, some day or other in the Senate, and now the prophecy is fulfilled. He has just been elected to the U.S. Senate, by the Democrats.

Hard Times for Preachers.-The foiowing is an extract from a letter sent from a minister in Illinois: "Preachers feel these hard times sensibly. A most remarkable case of voluntary starvation is reported by the keeper of the St. Lawrence County Poor House, N. Y., which, if not well attested, we should pronounce incredible. It appears that some time since, an aged man, who had been for some time an inmate of the Poor House, refused to take food, saying he had made a vow to his God never to eat again. From that time, no threats or solicitations could induce him to eat, and be lived in that state sixty-five days and twelve hours before he died. M. Boorman, the keeper, states that during that time he took no food of any kind, and that he seemed to be free from disease. He literally died of starvation, with plenty all around him, being a most remarkable illustration of a strong will.

The Pailure of the Outrage Crop. The editor of the Albany Argus and Atlas is evidently a wag in his way .-In a late number he roasts the Republicane and their allies unmercifully on account of their deplorable condition, arising from the late entire failure of the Kansas outrage crop. From the Philippile Argu We have albuid nigre than once to the cruelty and injustice of the soutence of poor Donnelly, who was recently judicially murdered in the State of New Jersey. We arraigned the Arraigned publican Know Nothings who were accessory to the barbarous outrage, Judge Vredenberg and Governor Noted I, at the bar of an indignant public offinion, from whose decision we desire to make no appeal. The verdict is nearly ananimous against them among all right-minded men. But they stand not alone in their unenviable notoricty. Our readers may remember that a Fortunate in Misfortunes .- The Newark (N. J.) Advertiser says that a man recently took the cars in order to reach a steamer about to start for a distant port. The train met with an accident, by which the man broke his leg, and lost his chance in the steamer. But the steamer went to sea and was lost, with all on board. Moreover, the man sued the company for the broken leg, and recovered ten thousand dollars.

Collision of Tico Horses. - On the 5th there was a race at Snelling's Ranch, in Mercer county, Cal., and about dusk it happened two riders started from op-posite ends of the race course to ride over it at full speed. They came into collision midway, killing both horses and one rider, and injuring the other rider dangerously.
