

Great Economy.

Who by the plough would thrive,
Whosoever shall first the shingles drive.

From the Cornwallis Telegraph.
WAKE SHINGLES DURABLE.
FRASER:—In a late number of your paper I notice a plan to make shingles durable, which may be very valuable, but is not so easily understood...

Twenty years after that time I happened to get to the old homestead, where everything had undergone a change. The straw shed, upon which the shingles above alluded to, were put in roof, was torn down, and the roof and timbers to be used for another purpose.

It is this now, and you think it worth a place, it is at your service.
Yours respectfully, S. M.
Calmdale, Feb. 8, 1858.

BAKING BEETS.
A correspondent, who has traveled in Italy, says that one of the interesting novelties in that country was "Baked Beets," carried hot from the ovens and sold in the streets at almost all hours of the day.

IMPORTANT TO RAILROAD COMPANIES.
A very important principle to railroad companies, as well as to the whole traveling public, was ruled by Judge Woodward, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in the long contested suit of O'Brien vs. the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company.

Hover's Liquid Hair Dye.
THE testimony of Prof. Booth and Dr. Brinkley has been published, and the following is now added: From Prof. McCloskey, formerly Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine in the Female Medical College of Pennsylvania, and late Professor of Surgery in the American College of Medicine, &c. Baltimore, Md., Nov. 27th, 1856. Mr. J. H. Haver.—A trial of your Liquid Hair Dye will convince the most skeptical, that it is a safe, elegant, and efficacious preparation. Unlike many others, it has in several instances proved serviceable in the cure of some eruptions on the head, and has no objection in recommending it to those requiring such an application. Very respectfully, J. F. X. McCloskey, M. D., 475 Race St., above 13th.

Fall & Winter Goods.
J. L. SCHICK would avail himself of this medium of announcing to the community that he has just received from the city a large and most complete stock of DRY GOODS, that he has ever before his pleasure to examine in this place, all of which has been selected with the utmost care, and with particular reference to the tastes and wants of the people of this locality, and which he offers at the lowest possible prices, and challenges competition. In the LADIES' DEPARTMENT, he has all styles, qualities, shades, and colors of Goods, suitable for the season. He invites the Ladies to call and take a look through his selections at their leisure, and has a choice lot of GENTS' MERCS, Vestings, &c., all good and cheap. Don't pass by Schick's but will always be found ready to show Goods and sell cheap among the very cheapest. Gettysburg, Oct. 19, '57.

Important Discovery.
CONSUMPTION and all Diseases of the Lungs and Throat are positively Cured by Inhalation, which conveys the remedies to the seat of the disease through the passages, and coming in direct contact with the disease, neutralizes the tubercular matter, allays the cough, causes a free and easy expectoration, heals the lungs, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving tone and energy so indispensable to the cure of this disease. It is able to state confidently that Consumption is curable by inhalation, is to me a source of unalloyed pleasure. It is as much under the control of medical treatment as any other formidable disease; ninety out of every hundred cases can be cured in the first stages, and fifty per cent in the second, but in the third stage it is impossible to save more than five per cent, for the Lungs are so cut up by the disease as to bid defiance to medical skill.—Even, however, in the last stages, Inhalation affords extraordinary relief to the suffering, attending this fearful scourge, which annually carries off more than 100,000 persons in the United States alone; and a correct calculation shows that of the present population of the earth, eight millions are destined to fill the Consumptive's grave. Truly the quiver of death has no arrow so fatal as Consumption. In all ages it has been the scourge of the human race, and neither age nor sex, but sweeps off alike the brave, the beautiful, the graceful and the gifted. By the help of that Supreme Being from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, I am enabled to offer to the afflicted a permanent and speedy cure in Consumption, the various causes, tubercles, and purulent blood, and the immediate effect produced by their deposition in the lungs is to prevent the free admission of air into the air cells, which causes a weakened vitality through the entire system. Then every tubercle rational to expect great good results from the use of the inhalation of the lungs than from those of the chest, and which for the most part, the patient finds relief through the stomach; the patient always finds the lungs free and the breathing easy, after Inhalation remedies. Thus, Inhalation is a local remedy, nevertheless it acts constitutionally; and with more power and certainty than remedies administered to the stomach. To prove the powerful and direct influence of this mode of administration, chloroform inhaled will entirely destroy sensibility in a few minutes, paralyzing the entire nervous system, so that a limb may be amputated without the slightest pain; inhaling the ordinary burning gas will destroy life in a few hours. The inhalation of ammonia will rouse the system when fainting or apparently dead. The odor of many of the medicines is perceptible in the skin a few minutes after being inhaled, and may be detected in the perspiration of the blood. A convincing proof of the constitutional effect of inhalation, is the fact that sickness is always produced by breathing foul air—is not this positive evidence that proper remedies, carefully prepared and judiciously administered through the lungs should produce the happiest results? Having practiced this mode of practice, many thousands suffering from diseases of the lungs and throat, have been under my care, and I have effected many remarkable cures, even after the sufferers had been pronounced in the last stages, which fully satisfies me that consumption is no longer a fatal disease. My treatment of consumption is original, and founded on long experience and a thorough investigation. My perfect acquaintance with the nature of tubercles, &c., enables me to distinguish readily, the various causes of consumption, and to apply the proper remedies, the result being mistaken even in a single case. This familiarity, in connection with certain pathological and microscopic discoveries, enables me to relieve the lungs from the effects of contracted chests, to enlarge the chest, partly the blood, to increase the force of the circulation, and to restore the entire system. Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the United States and Canada by patients communicating their symptoms by letter. But the care would be more certain if the patient should pay me a visit, which would give me an opportunity to examine the lungs and enable me to prescribe with much greater certainty, and then the cure could be effected without my seeing the patient again. G. M. GRUBB, M. D., July 20, 1857. 157.
