Top Dressing Graze Land.

A YANKER IMPLEMENT. In the grazing districts, where butter and choose are the leading products, farmers often find it inconvenient to take up sward land as often as desirable. Lis considered a debatable question whether lands naturally adapted to and resceding. Some very intelligent to make a perfect sad well seeded with the best variety of grasses for the dairy, and that when this sod is once formed it should not be broken up,—Of course they do not discard manuring, but apply it in the shape of top-dressing, as often as the land gives any indication of decreasing yield of hay. They also accompany the dressing with sowing grass seed, where the sward is not sufficiently thick.

In Litchfield County,' Ct , they have a very ingenious and simple contrivance, combining the advantage of roller and happow, to aid in the work of top dressing. It is plaimed that the manure be-nefits the land, just as it is made fine stone boats ordrags. The plank should for a complete implement.

It is not natented, and there is nothing to prevont any cultivator who chooses, from availing himself of its advantages .-American Agriculturist.

A weather prophet, writing to an agricultural paper, says: "When you wish to know what the weather is to be, go out and select the smallest olgud that you see; keep your eye upon it; and if it decreases and disappears, it shows a state of the air which will be sare to be followed by fine weather; but, if it increases in size, take your great coat with you, if you are going from home, for falling weather will not be far off. The reason is this: when the air is becoming charged with electricity, you will see very large clouds attracting lesser ones towards it, until it gathers into a shower; and, on the contrary, when the fluid is passing off that they have entered into a co-partnership or diffusing itself, then a large cloud and intend opening a COAL & LUMBER will be seen breaking to pieces and dissolving.

Brother and Sister .- As fathers love their daughters better than their sons, and mothers love their som better than their daughters, so do sisters feel towards brothers a more constant sentiment of attachment than towards each other. None of the little vanities. heart-burnings, and jealousies, that alas for poor human nature, are but too apt to spring up in female hearts, can(or at #il events should arise between brother and sister: cach is proud of the success of the other, because it cannot interfere with self, nay, on the contrary, is flattering to self. Hence, if there be a bond of family union more free from the selfish blots that interrupt all Others, it is that which exists between an effectionate brother and sister.
