cording to the ramors which have 3ached this place, in relation to this affair, that Osburn, who was an old man and a tripple, resided as a tenant on Funks' farm, and was in the habit of obtaining the water used in his family from a spring near the residence of the Funks. At this spring there is a Spring House the which several articles, such as are dially found in places of the kind, he been parloined. The Funks blames of them and his sons for committing the thefts and forbid him or them to vist the spring, although allowing his wife and daughters to do so. On Sunday morning, the old man visited the during as usual. The Funks ordered him off; he refused to go until he obtained stater. They then attempted to shoot him, but, the gun would not go off after being snapped at him severat times. The Funks, anticipating Osburn's return to the spring, made preparations for his reception. They drew the load out of the gun and reloaded it afresh with a heavy charge of buck shot. In the evening about 4 o'clock, Osbarn returned to the spring and the Fanks sallied out to attack and the Funks sallied out to attack On the 7th instant, by the Rev. Wm. Me-him.
