of the Saskatchewan offers no difficul-ty. With that one exception, a vessel of of considerable size can be taken up to the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and at this point there is a gap, in the mountains which in erposes no great obstacle to the junction of the Columbia and Saskatchewan, whose sources are but a short distance apart. Thus direct communication would be established a with the Pacific.

Relief of Neuralgia.

As this disease is becoming more provalent than formerly, and as the doctors have not discovered any method or medicine that will permanently cure it, we simply state that for some time a member of our family has suffered most intensely from it, and could find no sure relief from any remedy applied, until we saw an article which we republish, recommending the application of bruised horse radish to the wrist for toothache... As neuralgia and the charachar the remedy for the one would be likely to give relief to the other, so we made the application of horse radish, bridsed and applied to the wrist on the side of the body where the disease was sected, and it gave almost instant relief to a remedy is simple, cheap and may be within the reach of every one.—Lau-

As a man was walking in his garden, he discovered two clothes horses. He took them into his stable where he soon broke them. He then put the yolk of an egg upon their necks, attached them to a cart by the bonds of friendship, and throw a sheet of lightning over them, to protect them from the flies. He then leaped upon the cart, sat upon the seat of government, took the whip of a top in one hand and the roins of several kings in the other, and drove off, passing through the gate of a Buffalo, over the ground coffee for three miles; but in crossing the track of a snail he was run into by a train of. thought and dashed beels over head into a stream of eloquence, where the cart was broken against the rock of a cradle. By industry and frugality he soon guined the shore, where he made a boat of the bark of a prairie wolf, which he fitted, with a mast made of the north pole and two anction sales. He then sailed down the river to its month; and landed on a tongue of land, where he was seized by a serious sensation and conveyed to a cell, where he was secured by a chain of lightning fastened by a thunderbolt. The juilor gave him his liberty for a Christmus present, and
