FORDEARANCE. For The Compiler.

Mr. EDITOR :- The Star of last week copies an article from the Chambersburg Repository, headed "Edward McPherson," which well deserves-at-tention. The Repository, if it knows its own assertions to be just and true, knows more than anybody else about "Edward McPherson." It says "few men have surpassed Edward McPherson in shedding the lustre of quius upon the Politics and Literature of the day." It would be well for the Repository if millions. It would be well for the reputation, if it wishes to maintain its reputation, if Times says that it is perfectly conclusive it has any, for truth and intelligence, to give some proof in support of this Thomson that water has reached the extravagant assertion. Where and when Edward McPherson shed the lustre not loss that water has reached the conducting wire in at least one place, of genius on the Politics and Literature of the day, as well as all the particulars connected therewith, the people of Adams county would like to have Adams county would like to know, and would thank the Repository to inform dreth part of the strength, they should be, it would be deceiving the public to them.
